Republican Chairman Says
He Never Saw Any "International Bankers" Money
Used to Defeat Party.

By PAUL Y. ANDERSON,
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—Although the elements that gave color and comedy to the opening of the Senate committee's inquiry into Indiana politics were less evident yesterday, the testimony provided impressive corroboration for crucial portions of the story told Wednesday by Hugh Pat Emmons the former "Exalted Cyclops" of South Bend and St. Joseph County.

Two witnesses, both klansmen, both reluctant, and both obviously hostile to the purposes of the inquiry, furnished this corroboration. Consequently, it was all the more impressive.

The witnesses were Walter Bossert, former Grand Dragon of the Klan in Indiana, and Robert Lyons, an organizer and member of the Imperial Klan at Atlanta, which is the very aristocracy of klandom.

To understand the situation, let the previous charges be recalled. Earle B. Mayfield, Democratic Senator from Texas, had been elected with Klan support, and in 1925 his seat was being contested. Senator Watson was a member of the committee before which the contest was pending. It has been charged that an agreement was made whereby Watson worked for the seating of Mayfield, in return for which the Klan leaders undertook to "deliver" the Indiana membership for Watson in the 1926 primary and election.

Meetings With Watson. Yesterday's testimony showed meetings at Washington between Watson and "Imperial Wizard" Hiram Evans, and between Watson and William Zumburn, the legal adviser and political director of the Klan. It showed that immediately afterward Evans made a trip to Indianapolis, where he met virtually all the prominent Klan leaders, and made a speech impressing them with Watson's friendliness for the Klan.

It is doubtful if any "grand dragon" ever displayed a sorer memory than that which Bossert brought to the witness chair. He simply couldn't remember things. Two hours of a typical Jim Reed grilling were necessary to pin him down to a few positive statements.

But these, corroborating the testimony of Emmons, were important and carried especial weight because of the reluctance with which they were made.

Bossert finally admitted that he was forced out as head of the Klan in Indiana because he would not support Senators Watson and Robinson for renomination and re-election. He admitted that he was replaced with a man who immediately bombarded the membership with vigorous instructions to vote for the two Republican Senators.

He admitted that he introduced Zumburn to Senator Watson at a time when Zumburn was attorney for Senator Mayfield, before the committee of which Watson was a member. It sounded suspiciously like taking a lawyer for one's friend.

He also admitted presenting Zumburn to Senator Weller of Maryland, who likewise is a candidate for re-election this year with the support of the Klan.

In fact, virtually all Bossert said was in the form of admissions. He volunteered nothing and gave up information with the reluctance of a panther surrendering its eye teeth.

Yet he did admit that George Coffin, chairman of the Republican committee in Marion County, and campaign manager for Senator Robinson, had told Bossert that unless he "lined up" for Robinson he would cease to be "grand dragon."

Walsh's Testimony. Virtually the only comedy of the day was unwittingly provided by Clyde A. Walsh, chairman of the Republican State Committee, who stoutly asserted that 800 millionaires had secretly assembled last year in Hotel Biltmore, New York, and made up a fund of $8,000,000 to defeat Senators Robinson and Watson because they had opposed the World Court.

Identified as "Miss X"

MRS. VIRLA KIMBALL, twin sister of Mrs. Loraine Wiseman-Sielaff, identified yesterday in Los Angeles as the woman who signed the "Miss X" affidavit which has been a bone of contention in the McPherson trial.

mailed to Indiana by the League of Nations Nonpartisan Association.

Calling attention to the office address of this society, number 6 East Thirty-ninth street, New York, Walb said eagerly: "That's right down near Wall street, ain't it, Senator?"

Reed replied that he lived in Kansas City and wasn't certain, but he thought it was some distance away. He was correct, it is about four miles away.

Asked from what source he had obtained his knowledge of the meeting, Walb replied that he had been told by a fellow named Marcus Winans of Elwood, Ind. He said he had not the slightest doubt it was true. Walb had been called because of a recent statement that "a conspiracy of international bankers" was flooding Indiana with money to defeat Watson and Robinson. This was his explanation. He admitted he hadn't seen any of the money.

$5000 From James Patten. Walb's testimony disclosed the striking fact that by far the largest contribution received in Indiana by the Republican committee came from James A. Patten, a Chicago broker, and that the second largest came from Charles Piez, also of Chicago, but having business interests in Indiana. Patten gave $5000 and Piez gave $750.

"Why was Patten giving $5000 for a campaign in Indiana?" growled Reed.

"To elect two real Senators," was the loud and confident reply.

Evans and Watson. Lyons, who was even more reluctant than Bossert, admitted under close questioning that he had made various trips between Washington and Indianapolis, and had talked with Watson and officers of the Klan at Washington.

"When" asked Senator Reed. "Did Dr. Evans meet Senator Watson?" "In September, 1925, as I recall, I took him to Senator Watson's office in Washington."

"Did you afterwards see Watson and Evans together?" "Once or twice that year," said Lyons. "I was not in Washington in 1926."

Lyons said he and Grand Dragon Bossert had called at the White House on Everett Sanders, President Coolidge's hoosier secretary. He added that Bossert and Sanders were boyhood schoolmates and close personal friends. It has been rumored in Indiana that Sanders belongs to the Imperial Klan and Senator Reed asked Lyons if that were so.

"He is not a member," said Lyons.

Reed said softly that he did not mean to be offensive, but did not the Klan oath forbid disclosing the identity of another member? "The witness said it did not, and besides he wouldn't let such a circumstance interfere on such a grave occasion as the present."

"Did you mention Senator Watson to Everett Sanders?" asked Reed. "I talked with Mr. Sanders about gossip that Senator Watson had made a deal with the Klan to be re-elected in Indiana in return for seeking to have Mayfield seated."

Sanders said the gossip was ridiculous; that the case was one for the Senate to decide.

Another smile enlivened the proceedings when Robert F. McNay, former "grand titan" of one of the three Indiana provinces of the Klan, appeared and demanded a hearing on the grounds that his good name had been assailed in Emmons' testimony, and he wanted to vindicate his reputation.

"Emmons testified here that I was convicted and fined $500 on a charge of attempted rape," he pointed out.

"Well, were you convicted?" asked Reed. "Yes, I was convicted."

Reed stared in astonishment. "Were you fined $500?" he inquired. "No, I was fined $600, and I borrowed the money and paid it. The witness answered vigorously. Reed knit his brows, looked with lowering eyes at the witness, and

MRS. McPHERSON EXPECTED TO GO ON STAND TODAY

Will Be Called on to Identify Photos of Shack Where She Says She Was Held by Kidnapers.

By the Associated Press.
LOS ANGELES, Oct. 22.—The Mrs. Aimee Temple McPherson defense today will call witnesses to prove that indeed there is a shack in the Mexican desert, below Douglas, Ariz., where the evangelist said she was taken by kidnapers and held for ransom.

The evangelist of Angelus Temple, her mother, Mrs. Minnie Kennedy, and others, are accused of criminal conspiracy, the State contending that instead of being kidnaped she went to the cottage at Carmel-by-the-Sea with Kenneth G. Orniston, former radio operator at her temple, and lived there with him for at least part of the five weeks of her disappearance last May and June.

Mrs. McPherson's attorneys said they would establish the fact that the kidnapers' shack is 21 miles below Douglas. The evangelist herself is one of the witnesses, her part being to identify photographs of the shack.

Seven Witnesses Heard Yesterday. Seven witnesses testified for the defense yesterday.

J. A. Bardin, ex-judge and one of the evangelist's attorneys, identified Mrs. Virla Kimball of Oakland, twin sister of Mrs. Loraine Wiseman-Sielaff, a co-defendant in the conspiracy charges, as the woman who signed the "Miss X" affidavit Aug. 15, to the effect that she, and not Mrs. McPherson, shared the cottage at Carmel with Orniston.

Mrs. Kimball, who preceded Bardin on the stand, denied she had signed the affidavit. She admitted having spent several hours in Salinas on the day in question, but said she purposely stayed away from Bardin's office. Russell Scott, Salinas notary, who acknowledged the affidavit, said he noted the woman who signed it was a brunette. Yesterday he described Mrs. Kimball as a blonde.

Ramon D. Gonzales, a moon-keeper of Agua Prieta, Mexico, his wife, and Francisco Perez, desert cattle runner, testified as to Mrs. McPherson's appearance at Agua Prieta.

Witnesses Talk at Temple. The evangelist last night assembled her followers at the Temple, where Gonzales and others recounted their version of the Arizona episode. The meeting was called after hundreds of the congregation were unable to get into the court room following the evangelist's request that they attend the hearing. Following the appearance of Gonzales and others before the microphone of the Temple radio, Mrs. McPherson announced the night's contributions would be devoted to paying the expenses of the witnesses and their families.

G. H. Deischer Dies at Lebanon. George H. Deischer, 71 years old, of Lebanon, died yesterday of paralysis. His death occurred at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Walter Nichols. He is survived by five children. The funeral will be tomorrow afternoon to the O'Fallon Cemetery.

Says He Never Talked With Walb About Propaganda. ELWOOD, Ind., Oct. 22.—Declaring that he had never talked with Clyde Walb, State Republican chairman, regarding spreading of League of Nations propaganda in Indiana, Marcus Winans of this city said he preferred not to comment on Walb's testimony before the Reed Campaign Fund Committee at Chicago. He asserted, however, that "there was no truth in Mr. Walb's statement that I can tell about $8,000,000 which 800 advocates of the League of Nations were going to expend in propagandizing Indiana."

By the Associated Press.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Oct. 22.—Five hundred million dollars are annually mulcted from the people of America through fake advertisements promising cure for all sorts of disease, "guaranteeing beauty and success," William E. Humphrey, Federal Trade Commissioner, told the American Hardware Manufacturers' Association last night.

He cited fake industrial schools, holding out alluring promises of lucrative employment, fake advertisements of various antifungal remedies, medicines, soaps, belts, patent medicines for incurable disease, and other articles.

"All advertisements using the word 'free' are open to suspicion. It is as much a warning of danger as the death head on a poison bottle," he said.

SIX ROBBERS HOLD UP NIGHT CLUB AND OBTAIN $1500

Forty Guests Lined Up and Robbed, Girl Beaten Unconscious When She Stagers From Line.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—Six robbers early today lined up 40 guests in the Arena, a night club in West Fifty-fourth street, and robbed them of cash and jewelry estimated at $1500.

One of the robbers stood guard at the door with an automatic rifle while his companions collected the valuables. He fired a shot into the ceiling before running to the street with the others to escape in a taxicab.

One of the girl entertainers of the club was knocked unconscious when she became faint and staggered out of the lineup. Robert Culbertson, manager, was struck with a rifle butt and was knocked down as the robbers entered.

The cash register was robbed of $400, the remainder of the loot coming from the guests and attendants.

GANG LEADERS BURY HATCHET Head of One Says Truce Was Signed at Chicago Hotel.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—Al ("Scarface") Capone, reputed ruler of the vice lands of Cicero, rode home "alone" this morning "without fear that any minute I'd get a machine gun in my face," after signing a gang "peace treaty" in a downtown hotel.

"Gangland's killings have come to an end in Chicago," he told a reporter after a two-hour conference with representatives of a powerful North Side band, at which "all shook hands and made up, remembering the old days when we were all in one mob and happy." The gathering was held, Capone said, after preliminary conferences between himself and an intermediary had paved the way. It followed previous pleas for peace from the Cicero leader on the ground that "there is enough business for us all."

'POISON SQUAD' WOMAN IS SUMMONED BY REED

Senator Wants to Ask Gossip
Campaigner About Activities in Missouri.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Oct. 22.—Senator Reed learned today that Mrs. Vivian Tray Wheatcraft had been campaigning in Missouri in behalf of Senator Williams, and he issued a telegraphic subpoena for her to appear before him in Kansas City Monday to explain her activities both in Indiana and in Missouri. She was last reported at Princeton, Mo., Thursday night.

In addition to dispatching subpoenas by wire, Reed instructed the United States Marshal to find her. At the very moment that he was considering whether to question Mrs. Wheatcraft about her activity in the Indiana primary he received word that she was busy in his own State. Reed was obviously incensed.

Mrs. Wheatcraft has not been in Indiana since the publication of the sensational "poison squad" interview in August, in which she told how she had a little black book containing the names of five women in each county in the State, through whom she could conduct a "whispering" campaign that would "butter the State" with a morcel of gossip inside of 12 hours.

Wants to Know Who Sent Her. At that time she was vice chairman of the Republican State Committee, and she is now reported to be in the employ of the Republican National Committee. Whether it sent her into Missouri to organize the women against Harry B. Hawes (Democratic candidate for the Senate), is one of the questions which Reed wants to ask her.

The interview in which Mrs. Wheatcraft described the operations of her "whispering" women was given to representatives of the Baltimore Sun and the Indianapolis Times, and was widely copied. Mrs. Wheatcraft had recently completed her work of organizing the Republican women of Indiana for Senator James Watson in the primary and was then engaged in similar work for Watson and Senator Robinson in the election campaign.

In reporting the interview, the Sun and Times declared that Mrs. Wheatcraft's story, when reduced to its substance, meant that Watson's nomination had been largely accomplished through the skillful employment of female gossips. Told About Her "Poison Squad." "I drilled them all right," Mrs. Wheatcraft told the reporters, describing her work among the women in the Republican primary. "I have a little black book which nobody ever sees except me. In it I have what I call my 'poison squad' consisting of five women in each county. When I want to start something, I simply tip off the word to the 'poison squad' and in 12 hours it is buttered all over the State."

The interviews, as published, did not state what it was that Mrs. Wheatcraft caused to be "battered all over the State," but the inference was plain. It was that through these women that she caused the circulation of stories against candidates which could not be circulated in any other way. She was reminded by the reporters of the "whispering woman of the Plave," who spread defeatist propaganda among the Italian troops in Northern Italy during the war, and were partly responsible for the crushing defeat of Caporetto.

"Yes," she laughed, "victory is by gossip."

Woman Fled Before Storm. Immediately after the publication of this interview, which aroused a storm of protest against Republican tactics in Indiana, Mrs. Wheatcraft departed to work for the success of the Republican ticket in Maine. She did not remain long, going from there to Oklahoma.

But the "poison squad" interview still pursued her, and every time it overtook her local Republican leaders decided that they did not need her assistance. Eventually she was attached to the Republican campaign headquarters.

Reed heard many times of the "poison squad" when he opened the Indiana investigation, and he had about decided not to call Mrs. Wheatcraft when he was informed yesterday that she was in Missouri exercising her talents in behalf of Williams against Hawes.

This settled it. It was imperative that Reed finish up in Indianapolis today, but he was to be free in Kansas City Monday, and, accordingly, he made the summons for Mrs. Wheatcraft returnable there on that day. The two reporters to whom Mrs. Wheatcraft gave the famous interview are here, and will be in Kansas City to testify to its accuracy.

Reed today asked that anyone having knowledge of Mrs. Wheatcraft's present address in Missouri would notify him, since he is particularly concerned that she should be reached and served with the subpoena before Monday.

DURKIN AGAIN CONVICTED

He Is Found Guilty of Transporting Stolen Auto.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—Martin J. Durkin, Chicago gunman, under a 35-year sentence for killing a Federal agent, last night was found guilty of violating the Federal law prohibiting the interstate transportation of a stolen automobile. The jury deliberated more than 24 hours. The conviction provides a sentence of from one to five years. Durkin was accused of having stolen an automobile in California in which he brought Betty Werner, formerly his sweetheart, to Chicago. She was the principal witness against him.

Democrats Plan Mass Meeting in Coliseum to Aid
Dadcy of Hawes.

In an effort to give impetus to the reported speaking to Harry B. Hawes, Democratic State Committee arranged for a monster meeting in the Coliseum Tuesday night.

Senator Reed was the speaker. The Senator will repeat his Ku Klux Klan tirade in Indiana long enough to come to St. Louis for the Democrats.

The Democratic organization expects the $600 available under the Coliseum will be used, that the meeting will be the largest held in St. Louis in years.

John J. Cochran, Democratic nominee for Congress in the 10th (St. Louis) District, will introduce Festus J. Wade, of the Mercantile Trust Co., will preside.

Hawes will deliver a speech, but the principal attraction will be Senator Reed. The seating capacity of the Coliseum, usually 8000, will be cut to curtail the night of Reed meeting because of the removal of the Radio show, which expires until 6 p. m. Tuesday, the Boy Scouts have the building engaged for the following night and will use some of the equipment of the Radio show. This prevents the use of boxes at Reed meeting.

Rendezvous of Gangsters in Shadow of Court Building EARTHQUAKE FELT IN SAN FRANCISCO, NO GREAT DAMAGE
Police and fire stations and newspaper offices were besieged by telephone inquiries from frightened residents who were told to go to parks if the buildings they were in were not substantial.
The earthquakes played some queer pranks in Oakland.
In the Schlesinger department store, a wax model in one of the display windows plunged through a large plate-glass window into the street and was decapitated. The damage to model and window is estimated at $1000.
The master clock in city hall tower, which regulates other clocks in the city, was stopped at 4:37 a. m., when the first shock was felt. The clocks in the Elks' Club building also stopped.
The ball atop the flagpole on city hall fell and could not be found. Water pipes at the Oakland Technical High School were broken. Power wires at the Alameda municipal light works were broken.
The most violent shock felt in San Francisco previously and the most memorable in the city history occurred at 5 o'clock the morning of April 18, 1906, when the city was laid in ruins mostly as a result of fires started by the quake.
In that disaster 452 lives were lost, 1500 persons injured and 267,000 made homeless. The property loss was estimated at $350,000,000. That quake, as today's is presumed to have been, was along the San Andreas geological fault. This fault extends along the coast range mountains, from a point on the Northern California coast about 200 miles north of San Francisco to the Gulf of Lower California. It follows the coast line for a distance of 100 miles south of San Francisco, where it swerves in approximately 20 miles and gradually extends further eastward, traversing Los Angeles, Riverside and San Diego counties.
It was a slipping of the earth strata along this fault that caused the 1906 quake, scientists said.
Severe Disturbance Is Registered at Georgetown U.
By The Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—Heavy earth shocks were registered on Georgetown University seismograph today, the maximum being reached between 7:57 and 8:01 a. m. Eastern time. Director Tondorf said after-shocks were continuing up to 8:30 o'clock, when he made his readings.
Tremors Rouse Stockton Residents and Stop Courthouse Clock.
By The Associated Press.
STOCKTON, Cal., Oct. 22.—Three distinct tremors awakened sleepers in Stockton this morning. The first shock, at 3 a. m., stopped the courthouse clock. The second one, at 4:22 o'clock, caused the chandeliers in the Stockton State Hospital to swing and alarmed many patients. Another one was felt at 5:25. No damage has been reported.

QUEEN MARIE IS GUEST OF BANKERS IN NEW YORK
Short of Sleep but Smiling She Returns to Metropolis for Another Round of Entertainment.
By The Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—Queen Marie of Rumania and her party arrived in New York from Philadelphia this morning and immediately proceeded to Hotel Ambassador for a few hours' rest.
Her sleep had been short. She did not board her special train until 1:30 a. m. at Philadelphia. The Queen was not awakened until the train neared New York. She ate a typical Yankee breakfast, including buckwheat cakes, for which she has developed a taste.
She proved to be a quick dresser, and was ready, swathed in a skin coat and wearing a purple toque, to step from her car into the waiting limousine as the "Royal Rumanian" pulled into the Baltimore & Ohio terminal.
She had an appointment for luncheon at the Bankers' Club at 12:30 p. m. and for a reception by the National Board of the Young Women's Christian Association after the luncheon.
Queen Marie will talk to the American people by radio tonight through a chain of 21 stations east of the Rocky Mountains. From 8:30 to 9 p. m. (7:30 to 8 p. m. St. Louis time). She will be before the microphone of WEA.
She will attend a banquet of the Iron and Steel Board of Trade and afterward go to supper at the Fifth avenue home of Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the United States Steel Corporation.
Trouble Over Benefit Performance.
There have been additional defections from the list of society patrons and patronesses of a benefit performance at the Metropolitan Opera House, which it is reported the queen will attend Sunday night. Mayor Walker said he had not accepted an invitation to attend and did not know whether he would go. Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney and Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt are among others who decline to be associated with the benefit.
Mrs. Clarence Crittenden Calhoun, sponsor of the performance, says that, although the performance is a benefit for the Mothers' Memorial Foundation, the Lolo Fuller ballet will receive 50 per cent of the receipts.
Nine Hours of Ceremony at Philadelphia.
PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 22.—An automobile speeding at 55 miles an hour early today carried the Queen Marie from the Sesqui-centennial Exposition grounds, to her sleeping car in order that she might rest for an active day in New York. After nine hours of unbroken welcome here the Queen expressed a desire to rest. In five minutes her car had covered the four miles from the exposition to the train in defiance of the speed laws.
When she attended the ballet in the exposition auditorium the Queen wore a glittering head dress of brilliant and pearls, a red velvet gown and a coat of gold brocade, sable trimmed.
After the performance the royal party made a quick trip through the illuminated buildings of the exposition.
Indians in war paint and feathers outside the auditorium fired their guns in salute.
The visit to the exposition was preceded by mass at the Greek Orthodox Church, where the Queen was surrounded by hundreds of Rumanians, many in the white smocks, colored sashes and boleros and, gypsy bandanas of their homeland, tiny baby was passed from person to person to reach the Queen's arms and receive her kiss.
As Father Victor Fauer led the ritual and a costumed choir responded, tears filled the Queen's eyes. An aged woman in native dress pressed through the congregation and flung herself at the Queen's feet. The Queen talked to her earnestly, took the bouquet she offered and pressed her hand.
"My dear Rumanian people, I have come here to find you, and be with you," said the Queen in Rumanian, as she rose and faced the densely packed church. "You look

MESSAGE OF RUMANIAN QUEEN TO BE BROADCAST OVER KSD TONIGHT
QUEEN MARIE of Rumania will broadcast a message to American women through 21 radio stations, in which chain KSD of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch will be a unit. This broadcasting will take place between 7:30 and 8 p. m. Central standard time.
Station KFDG of Concordia Seminary has courteously surrendered this period of time in its schedule so that the area served by KSD may hear the message of the Rumanian Queen.
happy, and that makes me happy. I bring you the greetings of the King and will take yours back to him."
"We bless you, your majesty," called out a woman.
The Queen hurried from the church to a reception at the Bellevue Stratford Hotel. The State Fencibles, in red coats and bushy, served as her guard of honor. The Queen stood on a dais while 250 women were presented to her in turn. The uniforms of Red Cross nurses, of ambulance drivers, of the Minute Women of Pennsylvania's Emergency Aid were conspicuous at the reception.
Then the Queen retired to her suite to rest for half an hour before attending the Mayor's dinner in her honor.
Just before the party arrived at the railroad station it was discovered that the Queen had gone to sleep.
"She isn't dressed, and we are arriving in a minute," went the word of consternation from lady in waiting to lady in waiting, the length of the royal train.
Princess Ileana was sent to awaken her mother, and ladies in waiting and maids scurried about to make her toilet.
However, the Queen appeared, just as the train came to a stop. She was wearing a fuchsia velvet gown, with flaming skirt, deeply banded in fur, a wide-brimmed tan felt hat, trimmed with black uncurled ostrich plumes and a burgundy velvet coat, trimmed with fur.
She was smiling, unperturbed by the haste of her dressing. A few minutes later, smiling and bowing to the welcoming crowds, she was entering the city hall on the arm of Edward T. Stotesbury, Philadelphia financier, chairman of the Reception Committee.
It was Princess Ileana who told of the naps of the Queen and the Prince.
"They were both tired and they slept," she said. "As for me, I preferred to take the typewriter which was presented to me today and write to the King. I have had no time to write to him, so busy we have been. All of our time has been occupied, and the train ride afforded a splendid opportunity for me to write."

$3,000,000 GIFT TO SCHOOL
Rockefeller Donation for New Medical Unit at U. of Chicago.
By The Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—A gift of $3,855,000 to the University of Chicago, made by the General Education Board, is announced by President Mason of the university, for the founding of a new medical school. The gift is contingent upon the obtaining by the university of an additional $2,000,000.
The new medical unit, it is expected, will provide hospital and clinics, as well as facilities for study.
Minutiae of bull terriers attracted much attention at the show. Another feature, of the Pomeranian class, was Lord Rothsday's kennel of orange hued dogs, which won first prize in the color breeding class. The dogs were a brilliant yellow, free from shading and without any dullness of tone.

LONDON, Oct. 22.—The Dachs-hund, made popular in England by the late Queen Victoria, but which came into disrepute during the war because of its German origin, appeared at this fall's dog show for the first time since 1913. The dogs were benched beside rows of French poodles.

MAN STRUCK BY TRUCK ON OCT. 13 DIES OF INJURIES
John Houllahan, 74, Hit in Front of Amity Hall, a Welfare Organization for Unemployed.
John Houllahan, 74 years old, of 221 South Broadway, died early today at City Hospital of injuries suffered Oct. 13 when he was hit by a truck in front of Amity Hall, a welfare organization maintained for unemployed old men, at 310 Market street.
Houllahan was standing at the north curb at 5:45 when an electric light was flashed in the window of the hall indicating that dinner was ready. He ran into the street to take a place in line and was hit by a machine driven west by Edward Hydzyk, 21, of 2211 Howard street, as he neared the curb. A glass blower by trade, Houllahan's only known relative is a sister in Lancaster, N. Y.
Girl, 5, Fatally Hurt When Struck by Auto Truck.
On her way to a grocery store at 5 p. m. yesterday, Maggie Sue Overman, 5-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Overman of 1339 South Vandeventer avenue, was fatally injured when she was hit while crossing in front of 1403 South Vandeventer by a truck driven by Robert R. Combs, 32, of 1419 Carroll street. She died three hours later of internal injuries. Combs was held under bond.

KILLED BY AUTO
AIRPLANE PASSENGERS RESCUED FROM SEA
Machine Carrying 7 Americans Was Forced Down in English Channel.
By The Associated Press.
FOLKESTONE, England, Oct. 22.—Twelve persons, including seven Americans, narrowly escaped drowning yesterday when an Imperial Airways cross-channel plane made a forced landing in the English Channel off Folkestone.
The 10 passengers and the two members of the crew of the plane were rescued by the trawler, Invicta, which rushed to the scene after the plane had sent out an S O S message saying that engine trouble had forced it to make a landing in the sea.
Many other boats, including the steamship Republic, picked up the message and sped to the scene, but the trawler arrived there first.
The Americans aboard the plane were Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Harrison, Cincinnati; Mr. and Mrs. A. J. S. Bonney of Columbus, O., and their daughter Polly; W. S. Hunter of Worcester, Mass., and Peter Kanevoros of Jeffersonville, Ind.
"As soon as the machine touched the water I jumped into the sea," Kanevoros told a correspondent for the Associated Press. "I swam around, but was wearing a big overcoat, which soon began to pull me down. After that I clung to the side of the half-submerged machine with the other passengers until we were picked up. We were huddling together on the tail of the machine, which was the only part above water except a small portion of the front."
Miss Bonney, who also was drenched, described the rescue as a miracle. "It began to look as though we must go down with the machine," she said. "The trawler arrived only in the nick of time, for as soon as we were taken off the machine sank."
R. J. Angel, a British passenger, paid warm tribute to the calm displayed by all on the plane after it had descended.
"There was no suggestion of panic either among the men or women. I don't think, however, that they realized how near death we were," he said.
Skipper Marshall of the trawler spoke of the splendid behavior of the passengers.
"I have never seen a calmer lot of people in my life," he said. "One woman had a cut over her forehead, while a man had an ugly gash on his hand, probably caused by scrambling out of the water-logged cabin through the broken windows."

ILLINOIS MINE OWNERS DEFEND TARIFF ZONES

Three Operators Testify at
I. C. C. Hearing to Support Reduction of Differential on Coal to St. Louis

Elimination by the Interstate Commerce Commission of the inner and outer zone division of Group 2 coal mines, established last February by the Illinois Commerce Commission, would ultimately result in a complete shutdown of 44 mines within a 20-mile radius of East St. Louis.

This was the opinion expressed yesterday by three coal operators owning mines in the inner zone, at the coal freight-rate hearing at Hotel Jefferson before Examiner
Arthur Kettler of the Interstate Commerce Commission in support of their application for continuance of the Group 2 division, and for lower freight rates to St. Louis.

In ordering a reduction ranging from 11 to 21 cents a ton in rates from Illinois mines to East St.
Louis, the Illinois commission divided Group 2 mines into an inner and outer group, the inner group embracing all mines within a 20-mile radius of East St. Louis and the other group taking in all mines in the remainder of the territory, which extends outward more than 100 miles from East St. Louis.

Out in Differential Sought.
The $1.16 rate from all mines in the group to St. Louis remained in effect, thereby increasing the old 25-cent bridge differential from East St. Louis to St. Louis to a maximum of 46 cents a ton. In the present hearing coal operators, the City of St. Louis and various civic associations are seeking a reduction in rates to St. Louis to restore the 25-cent differential. The Chamber of Commerce introduced testimony in support of a maximum bridge differential of 15 cents.

The railroads are asking that the old rates to East St. Louis be restored and the division in Group 2 mines be abolished. The hearing started Oct. 12 and is expected to be completed tomorrow, after which Examiner Kettler will report to the Interstate Commerce Commission for action.

The operators testifying yesterday were John Henderson, general manager of the Perry Coal Co., one of the principal complainants in the suit; Webb Miller of the Miller Coal and Coke Co., and H.
Avery of the Avery Coal Co.

Each of them cited the proximity of mines in the inner group, known as Group 2-A, to St. Louis and a favorable transportation conditions from these mines to the local market as reasons for lower rates.

Only 12 Mines Working.
Henderson said that coal from mines in the outer group is of superior quality to that in the inner group, and pointed out that if it is shipped to St. Louis at the same freight rate, although from a greater distance and with less favorable transportation conditions, it crowds the inferior coal from nearby mines off the market.

"Only 12 of the mines in Group 2-A are operating at present, and unless some relief is obtained it is only a matter of time until they cease operation," Henderson stated.
He said the 44 mines could produce 13,000,000 tons of coal annually if operated 230 days during the year. Approximately 7,000,000 tons of coal is consumed annually in St. Louis and East St. Louis.

City Counselor Muench made a brief statement at yesterday's hearing, in which he asserted that he considered the present rates to St.
Louis unreasonable when compared with rates to other cities. He said the city of St. Louis is deeply interested in obtaining lower rates, one reason being the fact it uses 127,950 tons of coal annually. He asserted that it is important to preserve the nearby coal fields.

Expert on Grades Testifies.
The Business Men's Association of South St. Louis appears in the case as an intervenor in support of lower freight rates and yesterday Miss Mary T. Bruns, secretary of the association testified. She subscribed to the testimony of the Chamber of Commerce. A large portion of the coal used by South St. Louis industries is transported across the Mississippi River over the Ivory street ferry operated by the Missouri Pacific Railroad.

mining engineer employed by the

that the grades from most all mines in Group 2-A slope towards East St. Louis, facilitating the movement of the coal from these mines to the local market. Transportation conditions on the Illinois Central are least favorable of any road, he asserted. The carriers introduced testimony about transportation conditions on the Illinois Central from inner-group mines but did not tell of conditions on the other roads.

Men Are Talking About These Values

Clothing Buying Is Changing in St. Louis

THE DAY of careful buying is here—men are comparing values today before they buy—the men who look around are finding that there is a St. Louis store that is actually creating outstanding clothing values—these men are turning to Nugents for their clothing.

The Position of This Store Is Unique in Its Ability to Create Surprising Values—Nugents Buying Power Is Second to None

Just when all men must give thought to Winter days—don't miss this opportunity to save. Stick that extra ten spot in your vest pocket. Our 53 years of storekeeping is behind every transaction.

BECAUSE of these natural advantages Nugents buyers have been able this season to create a combination of handsome styles in fine fabrics that men have never before seen at Nugents popular prices.

Saturday, come into this big third-floor store. Nugents are going to show you clothing that is changing buying in St. Louis.

Here Are St. Louis' Best Clothing Values

COMMITTEE LISTS FOUR REASONS FOR OPPOSING MERGER

County Body Opposed to Annexation Predicts the Defeat of the Proposal Next Tuesday.

St. Louis County's Committee Opposed to Annexation today gave out a statement of reasons for opposing the merger of city and county at next Tuesday's special election, predicted defeat of the plan in the county, and expressed the opinion that "it is very likely to suffer the same fate at the hands of the intelligent voters of the City of St. Louis."

The text of the statement, signed by Benjamin F. Bush, Joseph R. Matthews, G. A. Radford, John L. Boland, F. J. Hollocher, E. G. Curtis, Edward Beecher and A. F. L. Schmidt, follows:

"On the eve of the election to determine whether the people of both the county and City of St. Louis should adopt a certain annexation plan, the Committee Opposed to Annexation believes that in fairness to its cause a statement of facts should be presented to the voters of both county and city.

"For many months many grave charges have been made as to the motives that have influenced both those for and against the project. This has resulted in confusion in many minds and it is to bring about clear thought on the issue that the committee has prepared this statement.

Personnel of Committee.

"The personnel of the Committee Opposed to Annexation is well known. The Executive Committee is composed of eight representative men. One is a railroad executive, another a manufacturer, a bond broker, a farmer, a banker, a lawyer, a merchant and an advertising man. This committee was selected that all interests would have an equal voice in shaping the destiny of county and city.

"The committee is for a greater St. Louis and stands for the welfare and prosperity of the residents of both city and county. It has worked in the past for these things and will continue to do so in the future.

"This committee found that the published statements of experts on municipal government, both before the Board of Freeholders and the public generally, condemned this plan as being unfair to both city and county. One of this committee's experts made a special trip to Buffalo, Boston, New York, Philadelphia and other cities to study annexation plans in those centers. He reported to the committee that of all plans he had studied, the St. Louis plan was not only the poorest, but had been labeled as a monstrosity.

States Its Objections.

"Thus, it was only after careful study that the committee undertook to protect the interests of both city and county from a plan which has the general condemnation of municipal and economic experts.

"The committee offers these points regarding the plan:

1.—It is fundamentally wrong, because it is contrary to the American principle of local government.

2.—It contains fatal defects, because it was carelessly prepared and most of its provisions will at once require change and judicial interpretation.

3.—It will create an experimental municipal government contrary to the experience of every large American city.

Legal authorities believe it will lead to chaos, because it becomes effective at once, contrary to the specific mandate under which the Board of Freeholders acted.

5.—It will assess taxes without adequate or fair representation.

"From the standpoint of sane business, many of the issues injected into the campaign have no bearing and have been evidently broadcast to cause confusion. The Committee opposed to Annexation eliminates as issues the gross misrepresentation that the City of St. Louis will build streets, sewers, give police and fire protection and make other improvements in any way or by any method that cannot be obtained without merger.

"The Committee Opposed to Annexation also discards without retaining malice the misrepresentation that all the above improvements will be given to the county without cost to its residents.

"The committee points out that the City of St. Louis has more than 250 miles of unmade streets, more than 100 miles of unlighted streets, a sewer system which does not adequately serve St. Louis City, and other unfortunate existing conditions. And the committee asks:

"If St. Louis has failed to serve herself, how can she truthfully offer to serve others?"

"The Committee Opposed to Annexation avers that its official statements are true; that it has worked to educate the people that they could judge for themselves that the present plan is not only unsound, but a monstrosity; that the committee further announces that it will continue to remain as an organized unit to serve the people. It is the committee's fair and unbiased belief that this plan will be defeated in St. Louis County on Tuesday, Oct. 26, and that it is very likely that it will suffer the same fate at the hands of the intelligent voters of the City of St. Louis."

HALTED IN RACE TO BEAT TIME OF THE ROBERT E. LEE

Motor Boat Enthusiast on Way From New Orleans to St. Louis Breaks Down at Bayou Sarah.

MAY END TRIAL
FOR THE PRESENT

Wealthy Memphis Doctor
Hopes to Sprint Over
1278-Mile Course in Time
Set by Steamboat.

In an effort to beat the time of the Robert E. Lee—90 hours, 31 minutes, for the 1278-mile trip up the Mississippi from New Orleans to St. Louis, set by the Lee in its famous race with the Natchez in 1870—Dr. Louis Leroy, Memphis sportsman, is piloting a motorboat over the same route. He left New Orleans Wednesday night.

But he met with difficulties early, his motor breaking down at Bayou Sarah, La., approximately 165 miles from New Orleans. It is possible Dr. Leroy will abandon the trip for the present, should the motor difficulty prove too serious to overcome with the facilities at hand.

All kinds of craft have attempted to lower the old steamboat's record during the years, but none has succeeded, according to Dr. Leroy, an authority on river lore.

Dr. Leroy is a well-to-do physician with a flair for motorboat-ing. He has owned some fast boats. He spent his off hours last summer in the backyard of his home building a boat that suited his fancy. A month ago he launched the boat and floated her down to New Orleans to wait for the harvest moon to reach its brightest glow, to light his way to St. Louis.

A motorboat would be expected to outstrip a steamboat, but in an endurance race, a matter of 1278 miles, the outcome is in doubt, says Dr. Leroy. It will be a test not only of the motorboat's endurance, but also of the pilot's.
The pilot will have to catch his sleep when he can.

Sporting blood was stirred by the race in 1870. On the afternoon of June 30 of that year, the Robert E. Lee, first of the name, pulled out of the Canal street wharf at New Orleans, bound for St. Louis. Two minutes later the Natchez, built at a cost of $100,- 000, and a rival of the Lee, left the same wharf. As far north as Vicksburg the Lee was only 25 minutes ahead. At Memphis it was an hour and three minutes ahead. The ratio continued until
was caught in a fog.

On Independence day, four days after the race started, thousands of St. Louisans gathered on the levee to see the Lee steam into port—the victor. The Natchez arrived six hours, 20 minutes later.

RULES PENITENT HUSBAND MAY STOP PAYING ALIMONY

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—Judge Harry A. Lewis, in Superior Court, has upheld a petition for alimony, filed by Ferdinand F. Nellesen, head of an engraving company, and overruled a demurrer to the petition filed by Mrs. Lois H. Nellesen, who for three and a half years has enjoyed a $50-a-week separate maintenance order.

Judge Lewis in effect ruled that if a husband whose wife is awarded separate maintenance files a petition of sorrow, admits he was wrong, promises to treat his wife well and begs her to return, and after all this, the wife refuses to go back, the separate maintenance decree becomes void, the payments cease—and the husband can sue for divorce on grounds of desertion.

The Nellesen petition, Judge
Lewis said, is the first of its kind ever filed in Illinois.

Man Reported Killed Is Safe.
By the Associated Press.
MIAMI, Fla., Oct. 22.—H. C.
Katlou of San Francisco, reported killed by a falling sign in Miami Wednesday night, appeared at newspaper offices yesterday to correct the report. He was unable to explain the origin of the report he had been killed, and said he escaped the high winds unscathed.

COMMENT

from New York Newspapers

"Reproduction was sumptuous and thrilling.
Interest in the music was vividly enhanced by the apparition of the performers on the screen.
Remotest hamlets may be enabled to hear the most famous artists and the world's foremost orchestras, and also to behold them in action."
—New York Evening World.

"Marched triumphantly into the motion-picture industry. So remarkable is this synchroniz-ing machine it seemed incredible the figures on the screen were only shadows. A critical audience was bewildered and impressed."
—New York American.

"Nothing approaching it has been seen and heard before. The synchronization of lip movement and gesture with speech was perfect."
—New York Daily News.

"Marks new era in amusement world. A glorious credit to those who have worked to perfect it."
—New York Daily Mirror.

"Synchronizes sound with pictorial action

EXPERT MARINE MAIL GUARDS HERE TODAY

Officer and 90 Men to Be Stationed in St. Louis Will Protect Four States.

A detachment of 90 United States Marines and an officer are expected to arrive in St. Louis today to take up their task of guarding the mails in accord with a program adopted by the Postoffice Department.

Chief Postoffice Inspector Fred Reuter has been advised by radio that he may have as many additional Marines as considered necessary for this district, which embraces Missouri, Arkansas, Iowa and Nebraska.

A conference will be held by Postmaster Alt. Inspector Reuter and the Marine officer to determine where the Marines shall be placed on duty. Their chief task will be to guard valuable mail on trains and being transported on trucks through city streets. Details of two, three or four men will be stationed at points where payroll shipments and other large sums are transferred from train to train.

The problem of quartering the Marines will be considered at the conference. It is thought that those Marines remaining in St. Louis will be put up at the Armory or at Battery A.

The Marines will "shoot to kill" when necessary to save the mails. Postmaster-General New is of the opinion their proximity to the mails will result in fewer mail holdups or in an increased mortality rate among mail robbers.

POLICEMEN WHO AIDED ROBBERS FACE TRIAL

Two Who Testified for Sam Kotofsky Charged With Neglect of Duty.

Patrolmen Isaac N. Craig and John Lynch, of Deer Street District, will be tried by the Police Board today on charges of unbecoming conduct and neglect of duty, because they appeared as character witnesses at Springfield, Ill., last week, in the trial of Sam Kotofsky, St. Louis tailor, who, with two others, was sentenced to 25 years in prison for complicity in a mail robbery at Springfield, April 1, 1923.

The charges are that their appearance as defense witnesses constituted unbecoming duty, and that they were negligent in "failing to acquaint themselves" with the fact that Kotofsky was under indictment as an accessory in the Mount City Trust Co. robbery here March 8 last.

Sgt. Charles A. Kelly of Carondelet District will be tried on a charge that he lives in St. Louis County, in violation of the police manual. A department store, endeavoring to collect an unpaid bill against Kelly, at 7316 Lansdowne avenue, Shrewsbury Park, appealed to Police Inspector Walton, who sought him at his recorded address, 3215 Park avenue. Walton was told that Kelly did not live there, and later found him at the Shrewsbury Park home. Kelly insisted he had a room at the Park avenue address and maintained his family in the county.

ORDINANCES FOR $1,142,793

IN IMPROVEMENTS APPROVED

The Citizens' Bond Issue Supervisory Committee yesterday approved two proposed ordinances, one appropriating $1,060,000 for the construction of the western Mill Creek sewer and the other, $82,793, for the payment of 35 per cent of the cost of reconstruction of Washington avenue, from Fourth street to Jefferson avenue.

The western Mill Creek sewer, as proposed, will drain the area west of Vandeventer avenue to Taylor avenue and north of Clayton avenue to North Market street. The total cost for improving Washington avenue is estimated at $225,000, the $82,793 to be paid out of bond issue funds. The improvement contemplates removal of wood blocks, repairs for the 12-inch base, where necessary, and resurfacing with smooth granite blocks, joined with asphalt cement.

Wounded Guard Kills Prisoner.

By the Associated Press.

WOODSVILLE, N. H., Oct. 22.—

Lewis Davis, a Negro prisoner, was killed and Frederick Foster, a turnkey, dangerously wounded in a fight in the Grafton County jail during an attempt by Davis to escape. Davis had asked Foster for permission to telephone to his wife, the authorities said, but while being conducted to a telephone, knocked the turnkey down, took his revolver and shot him. Although wounded, Foster obtained a riot gun and killed Davis. The Negro was lodged in the jail last Saturday pending court hearing on the charge of attacking his 7-year-old stepdaughter.

Mix Concrete at Central Plant.
By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—The American plan of standardization is spreading through the cement industry, so that 22 cities over the country now have in successful operation central mixing plants where ready mixed, unhardened concrete is prepared for instant delivery to any part of town. The uniformity of the product makes an especial appeal to contractors, and as these plants mix it, hauls of eight to 10 miles may be made without impairing the quality of the product. In order to haul the wet concrete it must be of stiff consistency, and as the less water used, the stronger will be the finished concrete.

MEMORIAL FOR MOODY CHURCH FOR MASSES

Imposing $1,000,000 Structure Has Not a Single Wealthy Patron.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—Erected by a congregation whose scroll counts not a single wealthy person, a $1,000,000 Romano-Byzantine edifice stands near downtown Chicago as one of America's truly distinctive pieces of church architecture. It is a memorial to the internationally known evangelist, D. L. Moody, which will celebrate its first anniversary on Nov. 8. Colossal yet unpretentious it represents the desire of its congregation and pastor, the Rev. P. W. Philpott, to embody in a building the strong and kindly personality of Moody, the simplicity of his life, the economy of his organization and a friendly and wholesome atmosphere in which would live the motto of his church, "Ever Welcome to This House of God Are Strangers and the Poor." Six stories high and with exterior and interior of red brick and terra cotta, the Moody Church is semicircular with a huge half dome covering the church proper. To the right is a two-story office and Sunday-school annex. Arches in brick relief arranged above and below large windows of the same style are the only exterior ornamentation, and on the semicircular side 10 arched doorways lead from a concrete plaza to a curved foyer which surrounds the auditorium. To the rear, the church drops away to two-story height with a row of arched doorways extending the width of the church, above which are a row of arched windows which light a long foyer. Above the curved main-floor foyer is a second foyer surrounding the balcony, and on both foyers arched doorways lead to a fan of aisles which concentrate upon the pastor's platform and choir. The choir is banded in a high arch which is flanked by the pipes of the organ. Great lunettes, each containing an arched window, pierce the side walls of the massive dome to flood the church with daylight, while at night seven main fixtures each seven feet in diameter and 16 feet high are used. There are seats for 4000 in the auditorium. Below is an assembly room which seats 1500 and high to the rear of the auditorium is the pastor's study.

Green Urges Compensation Law.
By the Associated Press.
KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 22.—William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, spoke three times here yesterday in support of proposition No. 1 to enact a workmen's compensation law and which will be submitted to a referendum of Missouri voters at the November election. "Compensation laws for workmen have been enacted in 42 states and two territories," Green said. "It is singular that Missouri should be the only remaining industrial state that has not as yet enacted such legislation."

We Have Been Doubling Dollars for 39 Years

There is no magic in our system of doubling dollars—6% compounded semi-annually, March and September, is the secret. Money earning 6% automatically doubles itself each 12 years. You don't have to do anything except re-invest your 6% dividends in Economy Shares. Many thousands of St. Louisans, in all walks of life, have built up substantial competence for themselves during the past 39 years, solely through the medium of Economy Shares. Economy Shares are cashable at par plus all dividends declared, and dividends are exempt from Federal Income Tax—the most secure, convenient and profitable investment you can make.

MIRIAM NOEL WRIGHT
WON'T ALLOW DIVORCEReady to Help Prosecute Her Husband and Mlle. Milanoff
Now Under Arrest.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Oct. 22.—Miriam Noel Wright said today she would never divorce Frank Lloyd Wright so long as she lived, but most certainly would press charges against the architect if her attorneys desire.

Mrs. Wright's declaration was made in Chicago while Wright and Mlle. Olga Milanoff were held here on Federal warrants charging conspiracy to violate the Mann act. Both pleaded not guilty and their hearing was set for Oct. 30.

The charges were made yesterday following the arrest of the pair at a cottage at Lake Minnetonka, near here.

With tears trickling down her face, Mlle. Milanoff declared that despite all their troubles, she "would love Wright always. He is the greatest man in the world, and sometime, somehow, we shall be happy yet—my man and I."

Although reputed to be wealthy, Wright was unable to furnish bond. Wright and Mlle. Milanoff were arraigned separately, and did not meet.

Refuses to Give Up Child.

As she prepared to leave the Commissioner's office, an attorney for Valmar Hinzberg of Chicago, divorced husband of Mlle. Milanoff, demanded that she give him immediate custody of Svetlana, 8-year-old daughter of the Hinzbergs. Mlle. Milanoff's attorney refused and she was taken back to jail to Svetlana and an 8-month-old daughter that Wright says is his.

Meanwhile Mrs. Wright, who has been sued and who has brought counter-suits for divorce from the architect, says:

"Wright is hiding behind a dozen excuses, such as his love for his illegitimate child. Why didn't he think of his love for his six children by his first wife?"

The Dancer's Story.

Mlle. Milanoff said she was teaching dancing in Chicago, to support herself and Svetlana when she met Wright.

"We were deeply in love," she said. "Frank showed me a letter from Miriam. Frank expected to have his divorce soon. She found out about me, though, and then she kept writing to Frank and threatening us."

"Then my baby was coming. I wasn't sorry. I was happy. I wanted the baby. But Miriam kept on making trouble. Never mind. I used to say, 'When she knows that I am a mother she will be merciful. She is a mother, too. She will understand.'"

"But she came to Chicago just a week before my baby was born and created a scandal. Then she found us in the hospital and three days after my baby was born I had to leave the hospital and go away. And ever since my baby came, I have been hounded from place to place like animals."

CLEAR DRY AGENTS OF KILLING Justifiable Homicide Verdict in Shooting of Ohioan During Raid.
By the Associated Press.
ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 22.—A Coroner's verdict of justifiable homicide was returned at an inquest here in the death of Lawrence Bolton, 25 years old, shot yesterday by county prohibition officers.

Testimony was that when a raid was being conducted at a farm house Bolton drove up in his car. When ordered to stop, dry agents testified, a fusillade of shots from the car was directed upon them. A revolver found in Bolton's pocket had not been discharged. Police are searching for a companion who is believed to have left the car when it crashed into a ditch, following the shooting.

Russian Town Named Zangwill.
NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—In tribute to the memory of Israel Zangwill, a new settlement of Jewish agricultural colonists in Russia is to bear the name of the late writer and international protagonist of Jewish causes. The project of the

WOMAN SENTENCED

TO THE GUILLOTINE

Killed Husband by Putting Poison in Coffee—French President Expected to Show Clemency.

By the Associated Press.

DOUAI, France, Oct. 22.—Mme. Melanie Duverte has been sentenced to die on the guillotine for having poisoned her husband.

The jury departed from the usual leniency shown to women, owing to the nature of the crime.

Mme. Duverte slowly killed her husband by daily putting poison in his coffee. She desired to marry a Portuguese soldier who fought in the Morocco campaign. The soldier was sentenced to five years' imprisonment as an accomplice of the woman.

It is considered improbable that Mme. Duverte will go to the knife, as President Doumergue invariably commutes death sentences passed upon women.

FORMER OFFICER OF DEFUNCT BANK AGAIN ACQUITTED

Robert Cowan Was Tried in U. S. Court in Connection With Fulton (Mo.) Robbery.

By the Associated Press.
JEFFERSON CITY, Oct. 22.—Robert Cowan, former assistant cashier of the defunct First National Bank of Fulton, Mo., now of Key Largo, Fla., was acquitted in United States District Court here late yesterday of a charge of abstraction in connection with the $12,650 robbery of the bank, Jan. 31, 1925. The jury was out one hour and 20 minutes.

The trial was Cowan's second. He was acquitted in the first also. In the first trial the charge was embezzlement. Cowan was indicted by a Federal grand jury here last spring.

Several days after the robbery of the bank, $12,150 of the missing money was found concealed in a storeroom in the bank. Cowan testified that he was knocked unconscious by a stranger Jan. 31, 1925, shortly after he had opened the bank, and when he was removing the money from the vault. The Government alleged the robbery was an "inside job" and that Cowan engineered it.

WASHINGTON AVENUE AT EIGHTH STREET

WIDOW SUES TO OUST BROTHER AS TRUSTEE

Mrs. Elizabeth W. Brinkman
Objects to E. W. Greve Handling Mother's Estate.

Charging that her brother, Edwin J. Greve, an officer of the Wabash Commission Co., does not speak to her and that he has forbidden her to enter his home at Webster Groves, Mrs. Elizabeth W. Brinkman, yesterday filed suit in Circuit Court asking that he be removed as trustee of her interest in the estate of their mother, Mrs. Josephine Wahl Greve.

The interest is valued at $40,000, from which Mrs. Brinkman has been receiving $100 a month since the death of her mother seven years ago, but she avers that because of her brother's hostile feelings she has been unable to obtain any written statement showing how the trust fund is invested.

Her father, the Wahl Commission Co., was a co-trustee with Edwin J. Greve until his death last August. Hence the suit names his estate as co-defendant, it being alleged that some of the trust fund may have become mingled with his property.

In addition to asking for removal of Edwin Greve and a new trustee named, Mrs. Brinkman asks for an accounting of any past income which may still be due her. She says in her petition that because of the lack of any definite statement she is not in a position to know whether the trust fund is so invested as to earn a larger sum than has been returned.

Mrs. Brinkman says she was informed by her father that he thought she was capable of managing her own property and he wanted to terminate the trust but Edwin Greve refused, pointing out that the trustees would be among the beneficiaries of a division of the fund in event she died without heirs. She says she has at various times demanded an accounting but none was rendered, and that her mother for a long time has evinced contempt for her.

Henry Greve, who lived at Hotel Chase, where he was found dead in bed, named Edwin and Robert F. Greve, another son, as executors of his estate, the value of which has been estimated at $100,000. Like his wife he left Mrs. Brinkman's share in trust, naming the executors as trustees. He provided that she was to receive an income of $300 a month from the principal.

MINISTER KILLED IN HIS GARAGE BY AUTO FUMES

Body of Former Chicago Pastor Found by Father-in-Law After He Had Been Dead a Week.

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—Dead for more than a week, the body of the Rev. James A. Lewis, son of the late Bishop S. Lewis of the Methodist Episcopal Church, was found in his garage at Mamaroneck, N. Y., yesterday by his father-in-law, W. E. Watt of Chicago, who went East to learn why Mrs. Lewis had received no word from her husband.

The Rev. Mr. Lewis apparently was asphyxiated by gas fumes from his automobile. Watt said in a telegram received here last night, the body of Mr. Lewis was found sitting at the wheel of his automobile.

The Rev. Mr. Lewis for several years has been executive secretary of the Pekin University, China, a promotional organization, and served in that country as private secretary to the late Bishop James W. Bashford. He completed several chapters of Bishop Bashford's book on China.

A MERCHANDISING MARVEL—a Coat Sale Without Equal!!

THIS SALE IS THE OUTCOME OF THE GREATEST BUYING ACHIEVEMENT IN OUR CAREER!

COATS

To say that this is a "Coat Sale without equal" is a pretty strong statement for Coat Headquarters to make, since Coat events are almost an everyday occurrence at this store. BUT WE HAVE A REASON FOR SAYING IT!

Business has been off—that is, Coat business—because of the warm weather in October. What happened, then? Coat manufacturers could not find a ready market for their merchandise. When the retailer doesn't sell, he CAN'T buy. But WE decided to BEAT bad business.

WE MADE UP OUR MINDS WE COULD SELL COATS, AND PLENTY OF THEM, IF WE MARKED THEM AT SACRIFICIAL PRICES!

We sent our buyers to the markets and the Coat manufacturers let them have goods at PRICES WE NEVER BELIEVED COULD BE SO LOW IN THE MONTH OF OCTOBER.

We bought COATS—2000 of them—and we're in a position to sell them to you at LESS THAN WE OURSELVES COULD HAVE BOUGHT THEM FOR TWO WEEKS EARLIER!

Cold weather is now arriving and ALREADY prices of Coats are SOARING in the markets. We shall NEVER be able to duplicate these Coats at ANYTHING NEAR the prices we paid for these special purchases.

Women in business—women in the home—schoolgirls and college misses—THOUSANDS who live in the city—visitors in St. Louis—women who can arrange to come to St. Louis—THIS SALE IS FOR YOU! We URGE you to MAKE EVERY EFFORT TO ATTEND!

J. G. SHEDD, FINANCIER AND MERCHANT, DIES

Head of Marshall Field & Co.
Succumbs at 76 After Appendicitis Operation.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—John G.
Shedd, financier and merchant, died early today at St. Luke's Hospital, where an emergency operation was performed for appendicitis. He was 76 years old.

Mr. Shedd was chairman of the board of Marshall Field & Co., one of numerous important posts he held after a romance of hard work for a boy who left his farm home near Alstead, N. H., to start his business career as a $1.50 grocery clerk in Vermont. Coming to the Field store in its infancy, he won the friendship of Marshall Field by his industry and succeeded to the pioneer merchant's post at his death.

A large fund for the founding of a municipal aquarium was his recent gift to the city.

At various times Mr. Shedd was on the directorate of the Illinois Central, Baltimore & Ohio and the Rock Island Railroads and of banks and other interests here and in the East. He retired as president of the Marshall Field company in 1923, becoming head of the board.

Surviving are his widow and two daughters, who make their home in Chicago.

Trifle Accident on Farm Started Shedd on Mercantile Career.

At 16 years of age John G.
Shedd left his farm home because of a curious incident.

Walking through the woods one day with his brother, with two buckets of maple sap attached to a yoke over his shoulders, the youth stumbled, fell, and was drenched from head to foot in the gummy mass.

When his brother had regained self-control after his fit of laughter at John's predicament, he asked: "Well, what are you going to do?"

"The answer came" like a flash.
"I am going to find something better than farming," he said.

Within a few weeks he left the farm for a clerkship in a grocery store at Belows Falls, Vt., at $1.50 a week and board.

Soon he returned to his native town for $1.50 a year, out of which he paid $2 a week for room and board to a New England house mistress. The demolition of his employer's establishment by fire sent the young Shedd to a rival concern at $1.75 a year. At 21 years of age, he moved to a Rutland, Vt., dry goods store for $25 a month.

The business acumen of the young man attracted the attention of Benjamin H. Burt, a merchant of Rutland, who offered Shedd a place in his store at double the salary he received in the first connection.

Within a year, however, the am-
cago. He approached Marshall
Field and got a place in the stock

From stock boy to salesman, department head, merchandise manager, vice president, president and, finally, chairman of the board—
these were the steps in the advancement of Shedd.

Shedd was the first Chicago merchant to establish the half holiday on Saturday. His desire that the store workers might "take up golf" is believed by many to have influenced his decision.

Shedd's winter home was "The Palace Cooking Not to His Taste,

Country Vicar's.

By the Associated Press.
COPENHAGEN, Denmark, Oct.
22.—King Christian is very fond of boiled potatoes, but he can't get them at the palace as he likes them because the chef insists upon too many trimmings. But at the dwelling of a country Vicar the King, when his automobile broke down, enjoyed what he termed "the most delicious potatoes I have ever tasted."

Leaving the car near Ribe, the King, with his principal chamberlain, set out on foot to reach the nearest village. Arriving at the local manse the King told the Vicar of his mishap and explained that he was exceedingly hungry. The Vicar and his family were just sitting down to their evening meal

JEWS OPEN CAMPAIGN TO OBTAIN $500,000

Speaker, Just Back From Europe, Tells of Starving People Who Need Help.

A description of the condition of starving Jews in parts of Europe, particularly in Poland and Russia, was given by Miss Irma May, a worker for the Joint Distributing Committee of Jewish Charities, who addressed the Columbian Club last night, when the United Jewish Charities of St. Louis began a campaign to raise $500,000 toward a $25,000,000 relief fund for destitute Jews in Eastern Europe.

Miss May returned two weeks ago from Poland, her native country, where she was engaged in relief work. She discussed conditions in Russia, Rumania, Galicia, Lithuania and Hungary, which she also visited.

"The entire industry of Poland is at a standstill," she declared. "Ninety per cent of the laborers are Jews, and today a great majority are without work. Half-nourished men and women are a common sight, and starving children are everywhere. Records show that 65 or 70 per cent of the Jewish children in Poland are afflicted with tuberculosis."

20 PERSONS HELD AFTER GAMBLER'S MURDER RELEASED

Twenty men and women guests of the St. Clair Hotel, East St. Louis, who were held for 31 hours in the investigation of the murder of George Canepa, gambler, outside the hotel Wednesday morning, were released yesterday after it had been announced that the inquest would be continued.

In the hearing yesterday the witnesses denied any knowledge of the shooting. Mrs. Ray Stevenson, widow of the bootlegger, testified that she and the other guests at her birthday party in the wine room of the hotel Tuesday night had retired to their beds several hours before the shooting of Canepa. Thomas Berry, associated with Mrs. Stevenson in operation of the hotel, declined to testify and was ordered held by Assistant State's Attorney Roberts. Later, however, Berry's attorney obtained his release on a writ of habeas corpus.

"St. Louis Day"

Saturday, October 23d

On Saturday, October 23, which will be St. Louis Day at Famous-Barr Company's Store, you will witness a demonstration of what the right kind of street car service really means to the progress and prosperity of a great and growing city.

You will see the cars of this company delivering great crowds of buyers from all sections of the city and county at the very doors of the largest retail institution in the Southwest, and you will realize to what extent such institutions and street railway corporations must depend upon each other for success and how your best interests are served by both.

You will be convinced that the street car is the main transportation medium between the buying public and the city's stores and shops, and that without such transportation to link one with the other there would be inestimable losses to both.

So, on St. Louis Day, the United Railways Company of St. Louis will make special effort to perfect its service so indispensable to the interests of St. Louis citizens who constitute the buying public and the interests of one of our city's foremost institutions.

THERE WILL BE IN SERVICE ON ST. LOUIS DAY cars sufficient to accommodate all who plan to take advantage of Famous-Barr Co.'s "St. Louis Day" offerings.

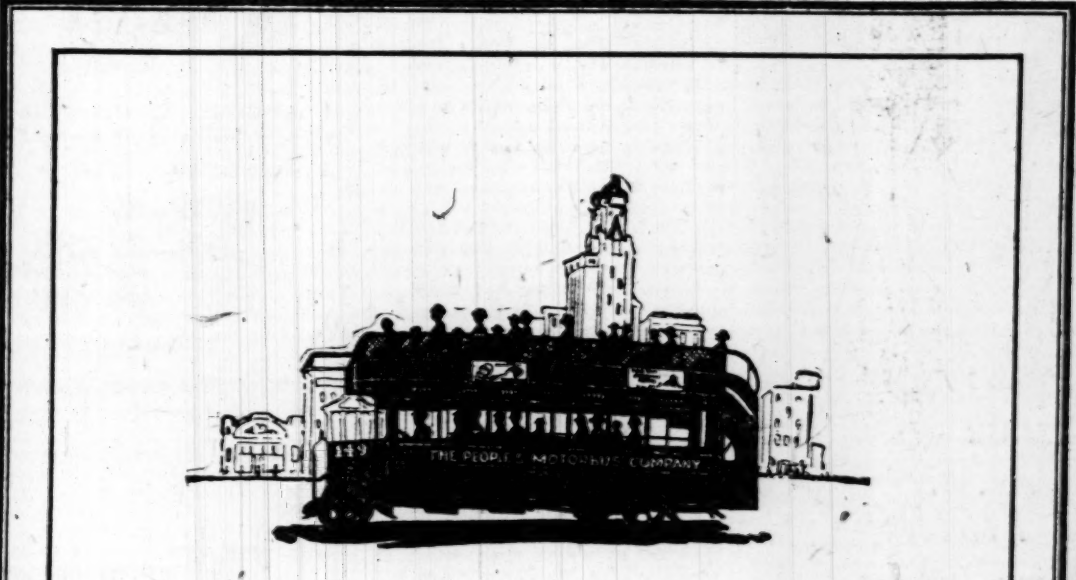

Continuous Service Will Be Furnished

From the time the Famous-Barr Co. Store opens early in the morning until it closes at night. One car will be passing entrances to the store every minute in the day and during morning and afternoon rush hours they will make direct connections with entrances to the store at the rate of two or more cars each minute.

Regular and extra cars on the Delmar, University, Maryland, Cass, Natural Bridge and Hodiament lines pass the door of Famous-Barr Company and connect with free transfers to other lines in the City of St. Louis; and, in addition, make connection with co-ordinated bus service of St. Louis Bus Company. St. Louis Bus Company lines will issue transfers to street cars for this service without additional charge.

Every effort is made by United Railways Co. to select intelligent employees and educate them in the giving of service that is prompt, courteous, kindly, comfortable and safe.

MAKES PLEA G. O. P. VOTERS GERMAN ORIGIN

Former Governor's Address
the Most Significant Incident of Senatorial Campaign in St. Louis.

EFFORT TO HALT DEFLECTION IN PARTY

Speaker Criticizes Hawes' War Record and Explains Reference in an Earlier Address to Trip to Europe

By CURTIS A. BETTS.

The most significant incident of the senatorial campaign in St. Louis was the speech yesterday of former Governor Hyde before the St. Louis Republican Women's Club at the Hotel Commodore, pleading in definite terms for the Republican voters of German origin not to desert Senator Williams.

G. O. P. Deflection Admitted

Within the past week, Republican leaders have admitted there was a deflection in St. Louis, and that it would not be serious, they said.

"Adeline" Admitted

There have been estimates by persons familiar with St. Louis political conditions that Hawes would carry St. Louis, one well-informed person even putting the Hawes St. Louis majority as high as 25,000.

Links

One of the most interesting links between the Hawes and Williams campaigns is the fact that both candidates are of German descent.

G. O. P. Office Holder

One Republican office holder of high rank said yesterday that he was confident Williams would carry St. Louis.

Watch

Highly paid and well-known St. Louis politician is expected to be a factor in the campaign.

MAYOR RECITES BENEFITS TO COUNTY BY MERGER

Normal Growth Will Soon Force It to Increase Water and Sewer Facilities Which City Could Provide Cheaply.

Every governmental activity of St. Louis County could be absorbed by the city without the expenditure of a cent if the city-county merger is approved at the polls next Tuesday, Mayor Miller declared at the tent headquarters of the County Annexation League, at the southwest corner of Forest Park, last night. He made an exception, however, of the extension of police and fire protection over the enlarged city, which naturally would increase the cost of those departments.

His audience comprised more than 125 men and women, most of them residents of the county, who listened to the Mayor and other speakers for two hours, although it was cold enough to make them huddle in overcoats.

Benefits to the County

"So far as the city is concerned," said the Mayor, "annexation of the county means nothing directly in a financial way. Annexation means a benefit in a broad and indirect way. It means a possibility of co-ordinating the agencies of the county, and gives to the citizens of St. Louis an opportunity to extend their activities to bounds that were never reached before. What I am going to talk about are the benefits to the county residents. I believe that most citizens of St. Louis will cast their vote in favor of annexation. I do not know of a campaign, political or otherwise, where there has been more malicious misrepresentation of facts than in this.

"I read the assertion the other day that the city had reached the limit of its bonded indebtedness. In figures, I called upon the Comptroller's office and found the city today has a net bonded indebtedness of approximately $22,000,000. Although the limit of its bonded indebtedness could be $122,000,000. They have argued that with this authorized $87,000,000 bond issue of ours, we are going to be burdened with a bonded indebtedness that will live forever. Even though all of that money is spent after all of these bonds have been issued, the work done, the bonded indebtedness of St. Louis will never exceed $45,000,000, because by the time that $20,000,000 is spent, we will have one-third of these bonds in the interest and sinking fund.

Meeting Objections

"They argue that the government functions of St. Louis County will increase city expenditures. I honestly believe that every single governmental activity, with the possible exception of the police and fire departments, every employee of the St. Louis County government."

He referred to the Busch family as "a family noted for ability and which built up the greatest business of its kind in the world."

However, he continued his criticism of Hawes, asserting that the principal cause of the deflection of Hawes, who had the rank of Major, was before he entered the service, was the bringing of Mrs. Busch home. He also attacked Hawes' record as President of the Board of Police Commissioners, asserting that during that period from 1893 until 1903, elections in St. Louis were corrupt.

Hyde gave evidence in his speech of advance knowledge that Senator Reed would speak in St. Louis, although no public announcement of the Reed meeting at the Coliseum Tuesday night had been made by the Democratic committee. Hyde said he understood Reed was coming to St. Louis to "distort and misinterpret" his Jefferson City speech about Hawes.

Mayor Miller Speaks for Williams and Republican Ticket

Mayor Miller, who opposed the nomination of Senator Williams in the primary in August, made his first speech at a Republican meeting last night in behalf of Williams and the Republican ticket. The Mayor appeared at 5015 Gravois avenue. The Mayor said the election in St. Louis will be a "mere formality," and that the election of all Republican candidates "is a foregone conclusion."

'THE MIKADO' MODERNIZED

Original Pitti-Sing in 1885 Given Ovation in London.

LONDON, Oct. 22.—Jessie Bond, who was the original Pitti-Sing in "The Mikado" when it was produced at the Savoy Theatre in 1885, was given a great ovation at the opening performance of the modernized version of the opera at Prince's Theatre, where the Gilbert and Sullivan season opened with Miss Bond, Premier Lady Baldwin, Dame Madge Kendal, Cyril Maude and many other celebrities.

While the new costumes and scenery provided by Charles Rickards depart materially from the original production, which has been adhered to for 40 years, critics agreed they were an improvement.

A. F. OF L. HEAD URGES PASSAGE OF PROPOSITION 1

William Green, Who Speaks Here Tonight, Says Missouri Should Have Compensation Law.

HE IS SUSPICIOUS OF PROPOSITION 3

Thinks It "Damage Suit Lawyers' Measure"—Will Speak Tonight at Carpenters' Hall.

The success of proposition No. 1, the referendum on the workmen's compensation act passed by the 1925 Legislature, at the polls on Nov. 2, was predicted today by William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, who will speak in support of the measure tonight at Carpenters' Hall.

Green arrived in St. Louis this morning and was greeted by representatives of the State Federation of Labor, under whose auspices he delivered three addresses in support of proposition No. 1 at Kansas City yesterday.

Proposition 1 vs. Proposition 3. "With the general support the proposition is receiving, I see no reason why it will not be adopted," Green said. "It is not a perfect law. Many of its features are not up to American Federation of Labor standards. However, it has the essential features of a good compensation act and undoubtedly will be favored at the polls over Proposition No. 3, which provides higher rates than the 1925 act."

"I see no chance for a favorable vote on Proposition No. 3. The public is not ready to accept such a compensation act, particularly since it is generally believed to have been sponsored by damage suit lawyers for the purpose of defeating Proposition No. 1."

"Missouri must certainly needs a compensation act. It is the only industrial State that has none. The damage suit method of redress does not meet the needs of the workers and the humane methods provided under compensation legislation. Thousands of injured workmen never received anything under the damage suit system and it is up to labor to support the compensation laws to remedy this evil."

Oil on Troubled Waters

Labor leaders expect Green's remarks to influence favorably toward Proposition No. 1, certain labor factions that have opposed the legislation on the ground that it does not provide sufficient compensation for injured workmen. Local efforts have failed to reconcile these factions to the law.

'Five-Day Week Will Come'

Green also discussed the Federation's campaign for the five-day week. "It will come," he said. "The five-day week has been successfully tried out in some crafts and it is the plan of the American Federation of Labor to carry on a progressive campaign toward this end in all crafts where it can be economically applied."

Green said the Federation's plan for a five-day week differs from the Henry Ford plan in that no reduction of weekly earning power is contemplated by the Federation. "It will take careful negotiating and planning to effect the change from the five and a half day week, but I am confident that it will be done in time."

Green spent the day revolving local labor leaders at Hotel McBurnie and will speak from KMOX at 8 p. m. and at Carpenters' Hall at 9 p. m. He will depart for Washington, his headquarters, late tonight.

Mexican Deputies Pass One-Term Bill

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 22.—To the accompaniment of cheers for former President Obregon, the Chamber of Deputies yesterday, with only seven negative votes, approved the proposed constitutional amendment the purpose of which is to make possible his re-election as Chief Executive of the Republic. The amendment would not allow a President to succeed himself, but would permit a former President again to hold office after an intervening term by another man. The Senate also appears overwhelmingly favorable to the amendment. The approval of a majority of the state Legislatures is required to make it part of the organic law.

World Scientists to Be in Tokio

TOKIO, Oct. 22.—Probably the most important meeting of scientists ever held in the Orient will open in Tokio Oct. 30, for a 12-day session. The conference is that of the Third Pan-Pacific Science Congress, and prominent scientists from almost every country in the world are expected to be in attendance.

Scientist and Cathode Ray Tube He Perfected

At the left is Dr. William David Coolidge, assistant director of the research laboratory of the General Electric Co. in Schenectady, N. Y., whose development of a method of projecting high voltage cathode rays outside the generating tube has produced a veritable sensation in the field of applied science. At right is an assistant with the tube, the rays from which turn sugar to acid, kill bacteria, crystallize gases and make granite glow as if afire.

SUITS CITE $5,535,746 FRAUD IN BOSCH SALE

Government Action at Boston Accuses A. Mitchell Palmer and 24 Others.

BOSTON, Oct. 22.—Charges of a conspiracy between United States officials and two internationally known financial organizations to defraud the United States Government of $5,535,746 by representing the assets of the Bosch Magneto Co. of Springfield at less than half their true value are made in a suit against 22 defendants filed here in Federal Court by the Department of Justice.

The defendants include A. Mitchell Palmer of Stroudsburg, Pa., former Allen Property Custodian, and later Attorney-General; Francis P. Garvin of New York, former chief of the Bureau of Investigation of the Custodian; Joseph P. Guffey of Pittsburgh, Pa., who was director of sales for the Custodian; and officers of Hornblower & Weeks of Boston and New York, bankers and brokers, and the Chase Securities Co. of New York.

The scheme, the Government charges, was to have one of the alleged conspirators, John A. MacMartin, given charge of the books of the seized property as assistant secretary. He made a fraudulent report of its assets, it was charged, and at the same time Hornblower & Weeks were informed of the true value and they with Chase Securities Co. financed its sale to Martin & Kern of Allentown, Pa., another of the defendants.

The sale was made for $4,150,000 and the company was reorganized into the present American Bosch Magneto Co. The Government charges that actually the value at the time of sale was $9,685,547.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—The Bosch Magneto suit filed by the Government at Boston was characterized as "an outrageous abuse of power," in a statement by A. Mitchell Palmer, former Allen Property Custodian and later Attorney-General, one of the 22 defendants.

"As Allen Property Custodian during the war," he said, "I sold the disloyal and enemy-owned Bosch Magneto Co. at public sale, after wide advertisement to the highest of several bidders, for $4,150,000."

"Now, after eight years, the Government, claiming the property was worth $9,000,000, brings suit against the purchasers, a number of public officials, who conducted the business under my direction, and myself, to recover the difference. No crime, corruption or wrongdoing is alleged, so far as I know, but we are asked to pay this enormous sum on the theory that the property was worth it."

"Financial experts have differed about the value of the property. I know I only got for the highest price I could at a sale conducted according to law."

INGE REOPENS OLD DISPUTE

Says Many Women Would Make Better Bishops Than Men.

LONDON, Oct. 22.—Dean Inge of St. Paul's told a luncheon meeting of the National Council of Women yesterday that many women were better qualified to become Bishops of the Church of England than some of the men who now are Bishops. The audience was undecided whether this was criticism of men or praise of women, but it served to reawaken a controversy of long standing.

Two newspapers devote long editorials to protest against exclusion of women from offices of the church.

REPORTS OF THREE REVOLTS IN MEXICO

Minister of Education Accuses Catholics of Backing Uprisings—Denial by Bishop.

SPECIAL CABLE TO THE POST-DISPATCH AND NEW YORK WORLD.

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 22.—In refusing permission for the Union of Catholic Schools to display pictures or images of Jesus Christ in their schools, Minister of Education Puig charged in a letter made public today that the Catholics are behind various uprisings against the Calles Government of 1925.

He charged that the clergy are using the symbol of the Saviour for purposes of sedition. Mexico's laws prohibit religious education in the schools.

Puig's charge brought from Bishop Diaz, secretary of the Episcopal Conference, an indignant rejoinder reiterating the clergy's opposition to armed revolt.

Puig did not specify the uprisings. The most formidable according to the Catholics is under way in the State of Oaxaca and is said to be headed by Gen. Fernando Gonzales, who was Governor of the Federal District under President Diaz. Mexican ex-patriates in France are understood to be financing it and arranging for arms shipments from Europe. The slogan of this movement is restoration of the Constitution of 1857.

Another former Federal General, Jesus Galindo, is reported to be the leader of 500 rebels in the State of Durango, co-operating with Knights of Columbus, under Tirzo Goulia, who recently were defeated in a three-day battle.

In the State of Guerrero, the Vidales operating to the cry "Viva Cristo Rey," are reported to have occupied several small towns, enabled to do so by the concentration of Federal troops in Sonora against the Yaquis. The Catholics admit Vidal is heading a Catholic revolt.

Pope Presents Magnificent Pyx to Catholics of Mexico

COPYRIGHT, 1926, BY THE PRESS AND PUBLISHER PUBLISHING CO. (NEW YORK WORLD) AND POST-DISPATCH.

ROME, Oct. 22.—A magnificent pyx (receptacle for the Host) which was given to the Pope on the occasion of the beatification last Sunday of several martyrs of the French revolution has been given by His Holiness to the Catholics of Mexico as inspiration in their struggle against the Government.

"According to Roman Catholic tradition, a reliquary containing relics of martyrs is presented to the Pope during the function of beatification and canonization, but as the blood of the French martyrs was mingled with that of other victims of the guillotine, there are no relics. Therefore, the French gave the Pope a pyx of splendid workmanship and design."

WARNS GERMANY FOREIGN BORROWING MUST CEASE

Dr. Schacht, President of Reichsbank, Says It Will Ruin Ability to Meet Obligations.

BERLIN, Oct. 22.—"Unless Germany ceases borrowing capital in foreign countries, she will run her ability to meet her financial obligations," Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, president of the Reichsbank, said last night, addressing the committee investigating Germany's economic condition.

In the present deb situation the tendency of international policy should be to reduce all "political debts" connected with the war to a level not surpassing the capacity of individual states to pay, he said.

"The banks flood us with money," he continued, "but the foreign Governments through Parker Gilbert (reparation agent) take it again from us. Whether private investors will ever collect their interest is left in the hands of the Almighty."

HOME FOLKS HONOR MEMORY OF DEBS

Body of Socialist Leader Lies in State in Terre Haute's Labor Temple.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Oct. 22.—Citizens of all estates paused today to do simple honor to Eugene V. Debs.

The body of the Socialist leader lay in state in the Labor Temple throughout the day.

Eugene V. Debs, five times presidential candidate of his party and twice convicted because of tenacity to his principles, became just "Gene Debs" when once more he was among the home folk. Terre Haute homage was to the Debs who James Whitcomb Riley, the "Hoosier Poet," knew for years and loved. The modest floral offerings of his friends in the ranks of labor, ranged beside the more pretentious pieces of his admirers in other walks of life, were placed at his bier through their memory of the man of whom Riley said "God was feeling mighty good when he created 'Gene Debs' and he didn't have anything else to do all day."

Funeral services tomorrow will include brief eulogies by Morris M. Hillquit, New York Socialist leader, who will represent the International Socialist movement; Norman Thomas, representing American Socialists; and Seymour Steadman, Debs' legal counsel for years. A special train will bring friends from Chicago and the Northwest.

POPE DIRECTS CATHOLICS TO IGNORE FRENCH PAPER

Action Regarded as Part of Bargain With Briand Over Alsace-Lorraine Schools.

COPYRIGHT, 1926, BY THE PRESS AND PUBLISHER PUBLISHING CO. (NEW YORK WORLD) AND POST-DISPATCH.

ROME, Oct. 22.—For the first time since 1900 the Holy See has expressed a semipublic veto on a foreign newspaper's religious policy. The Pope has instructed French Bishops to warn Catholics to take no notice of the religious policy of the Action Franchisee, edited by Leon Daudet, the Royalist. The paper has been regarded as the warmest supporter of Catholicism against hostile influences in France.

Foreign Minister Briand is credited with having caused this action against the paper. He has been annoyed by its campaign against the Government and its attempts to stir up rebellion in French youth. What arguments Briand used are not disclosed, but diplomatic circles in Rome believe he promised the Pope not to force civil schools on Alsace and Lorraine.

BRITISH LAUNCH PLANES FROM CRUISING DIRIGIBLE

Heavier-Than-Air Machines, Attached by Patent Hooks, Cut Loose on Signal.

COPYRIGHT, 1926, BY THE PRESS AND PUBLISHER PUBLISHING CO. (NEW YORK WORLD) AND POST-DISPATCH.

LONDON, Oct. 22.—Two airplanes were launched yesterday from the British dirigible R-54. The dirigible, commanded by Maj. G. H. Scott, took off with the two planes fastened to her by patent hooks. After cruising a few minutes Flying Officer Mackenzie Richards descended through a trap door in the fuselage of the R-54 into one of the planes. Scott signalled that all was ready aboard the dirigible and Richards cut loose. His plane fell less than 100 feet before he had control and began to climb rapidly.

Flying Officer R. I. Ragg's plane developed some engine trouble before he was ready to cut loose, but finally his ship also was launched and landed safely.

WORK OF Y. M. C. A. IN RUSSIA STOPPED BY SOVIET RULERS

Cablegram From American Secretary Who Had Charge of Physical Training Tells of Order.

PROPERTY SEIZED BY GOVERNMENT

No Reason Is Given for Order—Y. W. C. A. Secretary to Be Expelled Also, It Is Reported.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—H. D. Anderson, an American Y. M. C. A. secretary, directing physical education in Moscow, has been forced out by the Soviet Government and his property confiscated. It is announced by the national council of the Y. M. C. A., following receipt of private advices from Anderson.

This amounts, it was said, to complete expulsion of the Y. M. C. A. from Russia. Officials of the national council said there had been no political activity on the part of Anderson in Russia. In the cablegram to the New York headquarters, he said, no reason was assigned by the Soviet Government for withdrawal of its co-operation.

National council officials believe the cause of the withdrawal of permission to continue the work lies in what they say the Soviet Government appears to regard as the incompatibility of the programs of the Y. M. C. A. and communism.

No Details Given

Anderson's cablegram did not specify details, it was said, but it is assumed he will have to leave Moscow as well as give up the work. His office furniture has been confiscated. Trouble of some sort was not entirely unexpected, it was said, as Anderson's family had been refused permission to enter Russia.

Miss Edith M. Gates of Scranton, Pa., a Y. W. C. A. secretary, went to Moscow last summer to represent her association in working with Anderson, but not known whether she will remain.

Anderson was born at Grand Falls, N. D., in 1897, and was a student at Leland Stanford University and the University of California. He is a Methodist. He was a Y. M. C. A. physical director in Oakland and other American cities. In 1921 he was in Germany and Poland to work among prisoners and refugees; in 1922 he was physical director of the Y. M. C. A. at Riga, and in 1924 he went to Moscow.

The national council said that two years ago a moderate element within the communists party, residing among university students, entered into co-operative relations with the Y. M. C. A. for the purpose of promoting sport, mass play and physical instruction. The program was being carried forward rapidly.

Work in Universities

"In one university physical education had been made compulsory for the first time in history," the council's statement continues. "Six instructors were employed, assisted by a volunteer corps of more than 30 men and women student leaders. Mr. Anderson occupied the chair of physical education and functioned as a member of the faculty."

"The need for physical education was believed to be indicated by a series of medical examinations in one of the universities less than a year ago, which revealed that 22 per cent of the students were tubercular, 30 per cent neurasthenic and 60 per cent anemic."

The work Mr. Anderson has been conducting did not bear the name of the Y. M. C. A. He was known by the title of Specialist in Physical Education, and worked in co-operation with the Soviet Government, it being understood by the government that he was a Y. M. C. A. secretary receiving the support of his association in this country. Up to the close of the relief work which followed the war, the American Y. M. C. A. work in Russia was known as the American section of European student relief.

"It is emphatically denied here that this situation has anything to do with the recent visit of Sherwood Eddy to Russia. Mr. Eddy, who, although a Y. M. C. A. secretary, receives no salary from the association, went to Russia as a private individual to study the situation."

THE POST-DISPATCH PLAT-FORM.

I know that my retirement will make no difference in its cardinal principles, that it will always fight for progress or reform, never tolerate injustice or corruption, always fight demagogues of all parties, never belong to any party, always oppose privileged classes and public plunderers, never lack sympathy with the poor, always remain devoted to the public welfare, never be satisfied with merely printing news, always be drastically independent; never be afraid to attack wrong, whether by predatory plutocracy or predatory poverty.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Vitality of Single Tax Cause.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
MR. LISCHER'S letter of despair and your editorial comment relative thereto are the results of the most superficial view of the situation. It is not, as Mr. Lischer complains, nor as you intimate, "that practical men have not found in Henry George's theories the solution of the tax problem, and the hopes for relief of poverty that single tax enthusiasts saw in them" that can account for the seeming wilderness of popular apathy.

Far from being dead or dying, the movement started by that matchless champion of human rights, Henry George, is the only movement in the world today that has a scintilla of life. For 20 years or more the vote has been falling off until now less than half of the qualified voters vote. The old parties are not dying—they are dead.

For 40 years single taxers have allied themselves with one of these dead parties (Democratic and the formation of the Commonwealth Land Party was the Caesarian operation that saved our movement from certain death).

The numerical strength of a party at any given time is not of so much vital importance as the fact that it is growing. That it is growing and that its growth is a menace to special privilege is attested by your so-called practical men and leading politicians who paid us the highest compliment within their power when they increased the number of petitioners necessary to place candidates' names on ballot, one year after our first campaign in the State. To me this is very encouraging. For the present I am candidate for United States Senate short term and anything but "still" I am asking, the people of the State to write Mr. Charles Lischer's and my name on the ballot.

Now let your practical men increase the percentage of signatures from 2 per cent to 10 per cent. It matters not; we shall have a complete ticket on the ballot in 1928. The bigger the job the harder we will work. We thrive on opposition, a thing that has been lacking in the past. Nothing but the grim reaper can make us "still." CHARLES A. GREEN, Secretary Commonwealth Land Party of Missouri. Hannibal, Mo.

Movie Bandit Catchers.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
IN reference to the many holdups by bandits if our police and detectives can't catch 'em, why not engage a lot of cowboy Western movie stars to get 'em? The other day I saw Ken Maynard bag a dozen with a lasso. And the same day I saw Hoot Gibson. And the same day Tom Mix and lots of other Western movie stars who would be glad to go from city to city and catch all the bandits in the country. It would be fun for them.

Yours truly,
BOBBIE COLLINS.

Postal Sub-Carriers.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
A CARTOON recently appeared in one of the St. Louis newspapers entitled "Pity the Poor Mail Man" and was in connection with the proposed idea of making prohibition spies out of the mail men.

As a substitute mail carrier from the main office, permit me to say that the idea of the cartoon is correct, regardless of prohibition ideas, except the title should read "Pity the Poor Sub-Carrier." The idea in regard to the "subs" here is the survival of the fittest. In other words, those who can live the longest without eating will eventually make the best mail men. There is absolutely no provision made here in regard to caring for the "subs." The "subs" suffer untold hardships and their families often are in dire distress due to this neglect.

In industrial concerns where extra men are required there is a provision made, whereby the "subs" or "subs" are guaranteed a fair living wage.

The autocrat policy here is working an intense hardship on postal sub-carriers and breeds discontent with all its evils. It is a condition which should be remedied, and would be if public opinion was allowed to interfere. A "SUB."

Why Complain, If You Won't Vote?

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
WE hear a great deal regarding the little interest shown by the majority of voters, but if you take a common-sense view of the matter, where is there anything to interest the average working man in voting? If a public service company is not making money enough to satisfy them, all that is necessary is to apply to the Public Commission to be allowed to raise their rate, regardless of the aliphad fashion as incompetency of management, and it is granted, and the poor voter pays the freight. If a working man is not receiving a wage he can live on, that's his hard luck and there is no one to apply to for assistance.

There is but little in either the Democratic or Republican platform to appeal to the interest of the common worker. All that is necessary to call out a record-breaking vote is a party with principles that appeal to the interest of the voter and would soon show that Big Business was not the majority voter, but when there is nothing to vote for, what's the use of voting?

A NONVOTER.

GOVERNMENT AS PROVIDENCE.

Writing in the Atlantic Monthly for October, Prof. William B. Monroe laments with complete self-assurance the political gullibility of the American people, particularly in their attachment to certain traditional and hallowed principles of government. To him they are not principles, but "platitudes," constituting a worse fundamentalism than is to be found in the religious sphere.

For example, the separation of the executive, legislative and judicial powers in different hands, the so-called system of checks and balances, is perfectly absurd. He says:

This would be all right if the chief end of government were to maintain the status quo; but it is not. The chief end of government is to promote progress, and no doctrine of checks and balances will ever conduce effectively toward that end.

It is one of the tragedies of our times that many teachers of political science share Prof. Monroe's views as to the chief end of government and the means of obtaining it. They have simply failed to read history.

If there is one greater political fallacy than another it is that government can promote, or has ever promoted, progress. History is little more than a bloody record of the oppressions practiced by Governments upon their peoples. Governments have not only not promoted, but they have constantly retarded and repressed, progress. They have proscribed learning and persecuted the thinker. For centuries their restrictions upon commerce were so drastic that only by smuggling was it able to survive at all.

Civilization has advanced not because of, but in spite of, governmental interference with private initiative and private co-operation. The true end of government is not to stick its incompetent nose into every man's business, as a supposed promoter of progress, but to preserve for the individual an open field for his energies and faculties, in which he, and not the Government, may reap the rewards of his own efforts.

Prof. Monroe represents a new school of political thought that is all too prevalent in this country, which looks to government as an earthly Providence, when the plainest lessons of history reveal it always on the advance, ever seizing more power, openly or furtively, while the liberty of the individual as constantly dwindles.

Up to very recently we were exhorted to entertain the deepest distrust of governmental power; to bind it down by the chains of the Constitution, if we were to remain a free people. Now we are bidden to have confidence in government, to simplify it, to make it effective. Of course, the simplest and most effective of all governments are despotisms, and thither we seem to be tending at no slow pace.

SAM ARKY.

Who is superior to the law in St. Louis?
Sam Arky.
Who holds some Judges in the hollow of his hand?
Sam Arky.
Who is permitted to sign bonds for criminals without owning a cent's worth of visible property?
Sam Arky.
Who refuses to pay forfeited bonds and gets away with it?
Sam Arky.
Who refuses to pay his Federal income tax and gets away with it?
Sam Arky.
Who refuses to pay local taxes and gets away with it?
Sam Arky.

And who is Sam Arky?
Sam Arky is a professional bondsman, described by Judge Iltner as "my friend and I'm not ashamed of him."

Ashamed of him? The Judge is conservative. Any man that can bamboozle the courts, foil the tax collectors, mock the law and make a fortune in pursuit of these amusements is a genius and should be recognized by his friends as such.

NO KING WANTED.

Our adulation of Queen Marie amuses the British, one of whom scornfully remarks that we would be very happy to have a King of our own.

We would be nothing of the sort. Upon the contrary, we would be the most miserable people on earth. Even a President, who is far removed from the pomp of royalty, pulls upon us in his second term. His last two or three years in office are characterized by the complete collapse of his popularity, and when he finally ends his term his relief is only matched by our own.

Imagine a King over such a people! He would not be able to stand it any longer than we would. It is always a puzzle to the American people how other nations can quietly tolerate a monarch year after year without blowing up. Our own temperament is such that the mere thought of it makes us restless. We want to get rid of whomever is in the White House. All public men who have held office in America know this. If you have been President you recall the humiliation in which you spent the last one or two years. If you have been Governor, your most vivid impression from that experience is that the last year was the longest.

The facetious Briton who thinks we want a King is mistaken. Kings do not sit upon volcanoes.

RENAMING OLIVE STREET.

A number of well-meant suggestions are finding their way into the open forums of the newspapers suggesting that the new Olive street be renamed in honor of our world champions, "Hornsbys Drive" and "Cardinal Drive."

Besides the fact that "Cardinal Drive" would be confused constantly with Cardinal avenue, an already existing street, and the rechristening in the name of Hornsbys would call forth similar partisan demands for "Rickey road," "Bottomley boulevard," "Alexander avenue" and "Thevenow terrace," the idea arises from a form of hysteria akin to that which made us change Berlin to Pershing avenue and Von Versen to Enright and should be forgotten.

Let us wait for a few years until the events of today assume their proper proportions before memorializing the outstanding ones. After all, a world championship in baseball is only an athletic achievement, although we made a civic event of it while it lasted. No one wishes to detract from the brilliant and inspiring work of the Cardinals, but it is more likely that the players would rather be sure of a firm place in the hearts of the fans when the going gets rough than have their names done in blue-and-white enamel.

Anyway, didn't we paint the town red for a couple of weeks in honor of the champions?

THE SYMPHONY.

A mass meeting is being held at the Hotel Statler today to arouse sufficient interest in the Symphony Orchestra so that it will not be compelled to play to empty seats at the Odeon this winter. In Germany and in Italy, even in some American cities, people stand in line for hours to gain admission to a symphony concert. In St. Louis it is necessary to hold mass meetings and put on "drives" to keep the orchestra here.

We do not expect the same response to the symphony in St. Louis that it would get in Milan or in Munich, where a real passion for music exists. But we think that, in a community of a million there should be more than enough persons eager to hear pure music to make the Symphony Orchestra completely successful. St. Louis is not unmusical as American cities go. It has a definite musical tradition. The mere presence of the orchestra is sufficient testimony to that.

One of the troubles with the symphony concert is that the average man thinks it is a "highbrow affair," which has no charm for anyone but professional musicians and others who "understand" music. This notion is, of course, absurd. Music's chief appeal, even to the initiate, is an emotional appeal and one does not have to know anything about harmony or counterpoint to be thrilled by the works of Beethoven and Mozart.

There is much music, music by radio, music by phonograph, music by jazz bands and what not, but none of this is comparable to the beauty of music as played by a symphony orchestra. There it is heard in its full volume and in all its purity, and no theatrical clap-trap is needed to supplement it.

We think those who are interested in the success of the symphony might well present it to the public, not as a recondite amusement for the few, but as one that the musically illiterate can enjoy. To any person who is fond of music, music played by a symphony orchestra must appear infinitely superior and more satisfying than music in any other form.

GENTRY AND THE REFERENDUM.

Attorney-General Gentry, whose mind moves mysteriously its blunders to perform, saw nothing wrong with the legality of the liquor referendum in Missouri when he gave it an official title for the ballot. He discovers that it is illegal only after it is too late to keep it off the ballot, and is deservedly rebuked for his inconsistency in the matter by Mr. Becker, the Secretary of State.

The charge that he is playing cheap politics is not very convincing. Neither the wets nor the dries want the referendum outlawed. They both want to test the temper of the people. Mrs. Burger, State leader of the W. C. T. U., is emphatic in her declaration that the fight must not end in this pitiful way. Dr. Hill, chairman of the committee to oppose the wets, is equally outspoken in favor of taking the vote. So that neither side approves of what Mr. Gentry has done. He probably did it because he could not help it. He has a weakness for making points of law not accepted by any other lawyer in the State. He came to St. Louis as a special prosecutor in the Rutherford case and gave almost a thrilling exhibition of not knowing enough about law to draw an information.

So that nothing worse seems to have happened the liquor referendum than that Mr. Gentry has let fly with one of his legal guesses. The fight is still on, with both sides eagerly awaiting the test at the polls. The dries are so cocksure of victory that they have inspired the wets. Every time one of them says something about the ease with which the effort to repeal the liquor laws of Missouri will be defeated the wets take heart. "If Gov. Baker will make a few more speeches setting forth his unique dictum that it would set Missouri back 50 years to repeal her liquor laws, the wets will win. They like to amuse themselves thinking of Missouri being 50 years ahead of New York, which did repeal her liquor laws."

Anyway, the fall festivities are on. The sodapoppers and the corkpoppers are in their trenches, and Mr. Gentry, who has an eccentric opinion about it at the last moment, has been politely but firmly set aside.

FACTS OR THEORIES.

The Missouri Society, Sons of the American Revolution, has placed itself on record as strongly against what it terms "biographical buzzards." Without questioning the truth or falsity of the facts given, so far as can be discerned from the news stories of the condemnation, the descendants of revolutionary ancestors have been aroused to great indignation over a recently published biography of the Father of Our Country which attempts to reveal him as a human being instead of in the vague role of First Hero and First Patriot, as the school texts depict him.

Does the Missouri Society, Sons of the American Revolution, want to join with the fundamentalists whose theory is that what is distasteful to them is wrong, notwithstanding that it is fact? To challenge any particular assertion would be understandable; to object to publication of a research work of a reputable writer on the subject of a man who died more than a century ago is ridiculous.

He
Now that we've parted, O lass I adore,
Will you remember me all through the years?
Will you recall, dear, the love we once swore?
Will the sad memory bring bitter tears?
As you look back through the years misty haze
Will your remembrance be tinged with regret?
Now that a parting has come to our ways
Will you remember, or will you forget?

She
Now that we're parting, you don't have to sigh,
I won't remember so much as your name;
I'll seek another and you'll do the same.
Cut out this nonsense of "all through the years."
It's only in verse that stuff goes at all;
I'll have more fellows, and you'll have more dears;

Will I remember? You sure got your gall!

She
Will you remember the love that you vowed?
Will you recall me when you are alone?
Down through the long years will your heart be bowed
With thoughts of the girl you wished for your own?
As you look back through the haze of the years
Will you be thankful, my love, that we met?

Will the remembrance bring sweet, soothing tears?
Will you remember or will you forget?

He
Will I remember? I won't, I'm afraid!
You were the first, but I know there'll be more;
Will I remember the vows that I made?
I'll practice so much I fear they may bore!
Don't start to cry, since tears give me a pain;
You'll have more lovers; you're good looking yet;

This is no poem—there's naught to explain—
On meeting the next one, I'll soon forget.

THIS MUST STOP!

Dear Sir:
In your war upon the obvious you surely didn't overlook that triumphant announcement on the Woman's Page of a beloved contemporary that "when the unexpected guest arrives, canned milk may be used for any milk purpose or as coffee cream." Shades of Jersey! Are we so feeble-minded they must tell us even that? But how have the canned milk advertisers missed so vital a selling point? And is it not "coffee cream" a "milk purpose"? But let us be charitable. Possibly all his life our editor has been used to the milk of human kindness, and has just discovered the tin variety.

The MIRROR OF PUBLIC OPINION

This column is designed to reproduce without bias the latest comment by leading publicists, newspapers and periodicals on the questions of the day.

CHINESE IN BRITISH MALAYA.

SIR ARTHUR YAPP in the London Times graph.

DURING 1925 no fewer than 314,692 emigrants arrived in the colony from China. If I am not mistaken, the attitude of the men is that it is not so bad after all to be under British rule—and this in spite of the fact that most of them come from anti-British districts. They think, too, the hard and skillful work pays. Some Chinese who were penniless when they came to Malaya, and who started work as coolies, but did so under just rule and free from the whims of rival military leaders, are now wealthy men. Chinese youth in Malaya believe, also, that knowledge is power. They are keen on education, and the schools are full of eager scholars of the English language. The head of one of the big day-schools told me of the brilliant careers of some of the Straits-born Chinese scholars. Dr. Lin Boon Kuei was a boy in Singapore, is now principal of the great National University at Amsterdam. Dr. Wu Lien, after going to Cambridge distinguished himself in Manchuria, is now in China acting as Medical Adviser to the Government on Sanitary Science. Mr. Song Ong Siang is an old boy of the "Raffles" School, Singapore, who went to Cambridge and London, and is now a leading barrister in Singapore. Association football is the game of the country, the Chinese being particularly skillful players. I also saw good cricket at Ipoh, with British, Chinese, and Indian all playing; and some remarkably good swimming by Chinese in the Y. M. C. A. pool at Singapore.

THE CHANGED LEGION.

From the Philadelphia Public Ledger.
FOR a fact, Gen. Pershing would have been "busted" down to a Corporal, or way, had it been left to a majority vote of the A. E. F. when it started home. "The man's army" would have laughed its head off at the notion that by 1926 its commanders would be considering him as the commander of their organization. Quer was a difference a few years make. This war psychology has some weird quirks and strange turns. For the "Second A. E. F." will mobilize next year and betake itself back to France. The boys are going to be the boulevardiers again. The tattered French phrase-books will be due out of the attic and dusted off. There will be a second battle of Paris, with no hard-boiled "G.I." around to mess things up. The "G.I." has put on some rather notable "frills," but the Grand Wreck in Paris next September will be the Grandest Grand Wreck in its brief history. Also, if Gen. Pershing had not begged off, the American Legion might have found itself sailing for France next fall under its old commander-in-chief. The A. E. F. of 1926 has changed its collective mind about a good many things, including France, the war and John J. Pershing.

SHAW'S CLASSIC IS PLAYED CONVINCINGLY

Argaret Anglin and Ralph Roeder Have Chief Roles in "Candida."

By CARLOS F. HURD.
ARGARET ANGLIN finds in "Candida," the Bernard Shaw classic with which she is closing her week at the Shubert-Rialto theater, a work of more convincing quality than the brilliant fragile "Caroline" of the previous evening.

At the end of the Mattheus play, with all the talk about love and devotion, one was left wondering that the lovers would somehow get married the next day or the next week. But the figure in "Candida" persuaded everyone that she knew her own mind, and the minds of two men, and her decision had the ring of reality. She was the Superman, and in another Shaw play, and there also as wearing a mask.

"Candida," though not a better play than "You Never Can Tell" or a better reading play than "Cesar and Cleopatra," has been discussed more than any other of Shaw's earlier works. Schools of interpretation have been formed. Miss Anglin's playing, with the fine support of Ralph Roeder and J. R. Toser, seems to accord with this interpretation:

Was All Her Doing.

Candida, wife of a person whom men admire, finds that he takes himself too seriously, and takes her for granted to far too great an extent. She exerts her mature womanly influence upon a youth, whom an in-maturity causes to go far beyond what she had intended, and to proclaim himself openly to her husband as a rival. Candida had wanted to let this situation develop gradually, and keeps the two sides in balance long enough to demonstrate the maternal attitude that every good wife holds toward her husband. Then she discovers her young poet with some sinister advice, ending in the disillusioning line, "When you are 45, you will be 45; when you are 60, you will be 75."

The young poet thinks, and the audience is likely to think, that the husband takes undue advantage of the fact that he is the husband and has conventional and practical considerations on his mind. But Candida has, and exercises an even greater advantage because of her husband's calling, and his compulsion to domestic duties. If he were a broker instead of a poet, she might not find his complaint so much of a nuisance—Prosody being the secretary who is obviously in love with her husband's employer.

Though the role by no means demands her capabilities, Miss Anglin finds the opportunity for some effective work in the alternate scenes with poet and parson in the second and third acts, and in the final scene with both. Especially deft is her handling of the dialogue with the poet, in which he threatens to say "something wicked," and she replies that he may say anything he wishes, but that it must represent his true self, and not an attitude—either an attitude of poetry, or of wickedness, or a mixture of the two. This leaves her speechless, and the incident is balanced when she later divests her husband of some of his poses.

Poet's Role Well Played.

Ralph Roeder, as the poet, is a humorless, exasperating and lovable young ass. Or, to use a kinder word, young ass. It would be hard to imagine a role better suited to him, yet I remember having enjoyed him even more as "Blessed St. Anthony" in Macbeth's "Miracle of St. Anthony," played here a number of seasons ago. One of his best delivered lines in "Candida" is that utterance of boundless presumption, "Let's give her up!" In the scene with Prosody, the secretary, he has not her secret soul as effectively as Freud could have taught him to do.

Toser, as the reverend husband, Clifford Walker, as Candida's mother-in-law, and the Rev. Dr. Carl Morgan Block, as the Rev. Dr. Carl Morgan Block, are getting into the act. Here, as elsewhere, it is interesting to recall that "Candida" was written in the late Victorian period of 1898.

Charles E. Stacy, Composer, Dies.
LONG BEACH, Cal., Oct. 22.—After playing the Sweetest Story Every Told, Charles E. Stacy, a prominent soloist and composer, is dead of heart disease here. Stacy had been connected with musical organizations in New York, Chicago and Cincinnati. His wife Wednesday night over the radio heard the notes of her husband's solo. She was the way home Stacy died.

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

INVITATIONS were received this morning by the debutantes and their escorts from Mr. and Mrs. Warren Finley McElroy for a Spanish party at which their daughter, Miss Ruth, is to be introduced to society. The affair, the first costume party of the year, will be given at their home, 23 Portland place.

The cards are printed on brown paper and bear tiny sketches in red, black and white of a senorita serenaded by a cavalier. The invitations, in verse, read as follows:

FIESTA DE SEVILLA.

Caballero and Senora:
Pray come to Sevilla.
The land of guitar, castanet and mantilla,
The land of the tango and fiery fandango,
Where love and romance breathe "Quierida Mia,"
Come to Espana, the land of manana.

In costume and garb that is white castillana,
Let care swiftly vanish in dreams that are Spanish.
And join us in joyous Fiesta Sevillana.

Where dark eyes are glancing, Sevilla you share in our feast and the dancing.
In Plaza Portiando, Casa McElroyo,
The tenth of November, to music entrancing.

An attractive luncheon was given today by Mrs. John O'Fallon Delany, in honor of her cousin, Miss Christiana Wygant, daughter of Col. and Mrs. Henry S. Wygant of Harrisburg, Pa., who is her guest.

The affair was given at the Delany home, 65 Lindell boulevard, and the guests included Miss Martha Love, Miss Gertrude Catlin, Miss Rocena Baldwin, Miss Elsie Marian and Sally Green, Miss Anne Kennard Wallace, Miss Kathleen Ryan, and Mrs. Eugene Potter Curran, sister of the honor guest.

Miss Wygant will remain in St. Louis until December, dividing her time between Mrs. Delaney and Mrs. Curran.

Mrs. Delany will have a table at the dinner dance at the St. Louis Country Club the evening of Oct. 30 in Miss Wygant's honor.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Burkham of 5035 Westminster place have returned from Europe, where they spent the summer. Their daughter, Miss Margaret Burkham, remained abroad to be a member of a group of St. Louis young women chaperoned this winter by Mrs. Atwell T. Lincoln. Their son, Robert Jr., has departed for the East to resume his studies.

A number of prewedding parties have been given for Miss Maud Brooks, daughter of Robert Wray Brooks of 6206 Waterman avenue, whose marriage to Herbert Curlee Phillips will take place tomorrow night at St. John's Methodist Church.

Last Friday Miss Brooks shared honors with Miss Mary Sikes at a tea given by Miss Margaret Moffat, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Moffat of Westmoreland drive; Monday night, Miss Matilda Moulton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Moulton, gave a theater party for the bride-elect. Tuesday was a shower for Mrs. B. Y. Jordon, Wednesday, Miss Willis Dyer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Dyer of the St. Regis apartments gave a luncheon at the St. Louis Woman's Club, and that evening Miss Lucille Brooks and Everett Brooks, sister and brother of the bride-elect, gave a theater party for Miss Brooks and her fiancé. Thursday evening, Le Roy Phillips, who will be his brother's best man, will give a dinner for the men of the bridal party at the University Club and tonight Mr. and Mrs. Holt Tipton will give a buffet dinner, preceding the rehearsal.

The first large debutante party, at which the men have been included in the guest list, will be given at the St. Louis Country Club tonight by Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Edmunds, in honor of Miss Martha Love, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward K. Love of 44 Westmoreland place; Miss Anne Wallace and Miss Martha Love, four of the debutantes, will share honors.

An interesting autumn wedding will be solemnized tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock, when Miss Mary Hamilton Skeen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Claude Skeen of 415 Westgate avenue, becomes the bride of John Lepere Matthews, son of Mrs. Clay Lepere Matthews of New York. The ceremony will take place at the Skeen home in the presence of relatives and a few close friends. The Rev. Dr. Carl Morgan Block of St. Michaels and All Angels Episcopal Church will read the service. The home will be decorated in autumn flowers and the ceremony will be performed in the living room before an improvised altar of pink roses, chrysanthemums and palms. Tall cathedral candles will light the room.

The bride, who will be unattended, will pass through an aisle formed of pink tulle streamers held in place by Miss Hannah Benis, Miss Emma Petring, Miss Mildred Conkling of Indianapolis, Ind., Miss Lucille Brooks, Mrs. Frederick E. Niedringhaus and Mrs. Weston Block. Mr. Matthews will have for his best man, his uncle, Joseph R. Matthews of Kirkwood.

The bride is to be married in her traveling gown, which is a smartly tailored model of navy blue charmeuse. She will wear a dark blue velvet hat with accessories in harmony and her flowers will be a corsage of lilacs of the valley and Fernet roses. The young women taking part in the wedding will wear afternoon gowns of the various autumn shades and shoulder corsages of pink roses. An informal reception will be held following the ceremony.

Miss Skeen is a graduate of Mary Institute and later attended Washington University. She made her debut informally several years ago and served as maid of honor at the wedding of John Garnett Matthews of Kirkwood and is a former St. Louisan. He was educated at the Mackenzie School, New York. After the honeymoon Mr. Matthews will take his bride to Warren, Pa., where they will make their home.

Among the out-of-town guests in St. Louis for the wedding are the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Clay Lepere Matthews of New York, Mr. and Mrs. Shield P. Skeen of Indianapolis, uncle and aunt of the bride, and Miss Mildred Conkling of Indianapolis.

The alumnae of the Sacred Heart, St. Charles, will give a card party at 2 p. m. tomorrow at the St. Charles convent to raise funds to preserve the building erected by Mother Duchesne, more than a century ago. Venerable Mother Rose Phillips, Ruchene, whose name the Historical Society of Missouri has placed upon the roster of pioneer women educators, was, with her companions, the first religious of the Sacred Heart to bring the society to America.

The following are among the patronesses assisting the alumnae: Mrs. R. E. M. Bain, Mrs. John Carleton, Mrs. Seth W. Cobb, Mrs. A. P. Chio, Mrs. John M. Goodwin, Mrs. J. O'F. Delany, Mrs. S. W. Fordyce, Mrs. F. M. Mayfield, Mrs. Amadeo V. Rayburn, Mrs. Howard Benoit, Mrs. J. L. Boland, Mrs. Jas. G. Cahill, Mrs. Jas. H. Maguire, Mrs. A. F. Dames, Mrs. Robert A. B. Walsh, Mrs. C. E. CATHOLIC GUILD FOR NURSES TO HAVE DAY AT CONVENTION

Program Announced for Oct. 27; State Meeting Scheduled for Oct. 25 to 30.

For the first time the Missouri Catholic Guild for Nurses has had assigned to them one of the afternoon programs during the annual meeting of the Missouri State Nurses' Association, Oct. 25 to 30. Inasmuch as all the nurses will be attending the meetings of the association during those days, it is expected that the attendance will be large and interesting at the guild's special afternoon, Oct. 27, at the Hotel Chase.

The general subject for discussion at the meeting of the Catholic Nurses Guild will be, "Some Underrated Requisites of the Nurse at Work." The Personality of the Nurse" will be discussed by Sister M. Giles, superintendent of nurses, St. Joseph's Hospital, Kansas City. "The Health of the Nurse" will be the subject touched upon by Maj. Percy Carroll, M. D., M. C. U. S. Army, professor of military hygiene, St. Louis University School of Medicine. Dr. Henry A. Hassett, surgeon at Mulanphy Hospital, St. Louis, will speak on "The Conservation of Professional Ideals."

MANY CLEWS CHICAGO KILLING OF EX-ST. LOUISAN

ice Say J. L. Williams 25, Was to Have Turned State's Evidence in $23,000 Shortage When Slain ave Bad Checks to Cover Race Bets and Is Said to Have Incurred Enmity of Egan Gangsters.

SUSPECTED ALSO OF LIQUOR-RUNNING

James L. Williams of St. Louis, son of James E. Williams of 6419A Vermont avenue, served in the army during the World War. On being discharged, he moved to Chicago, married and became the father of two children. He was clerk of a brokerage house, and "seemingly had a bright future. He was 25 years old.

His body, with a bullet through the head, was found in an alley in Chicago's West Side district early yesterday. He had been killed in "gangster fashion"—"taken for a ride," shot and thrown from an automobile.

Letters from his father and his grandmother, Mrs. L. Wallace, were found in his clothes and helped to establish his identity. Mrs. Wallace formerly lived at the Washington Hotel here, but is now a resident of Lake Wales, Fla.

Grounds for Many Theories. Chicago police at first thought the killing marked renewal of gang warfare which has cost 50 lives so far this year, and was reported ended by a treaty last Wednesday.

After theories developed, however, when police were informed that Williams had been charged with embezzlements totaling $23,000, had been accused of forgery, had intended to turn State's evidence against a fellow clerk jointly charged with forgery, had been involved with women, had deserted his wife and two children, had offended Egan gangsters of St. Louis, and killed a bookmaker, and recently had remarked to his attorney that he would "do anything to get some money."

Federal agents joined police in investigating a report that Williams was involved in liquor running.

Fired After Checks Disappear. Until three months ago Williams was a trusted clerk of the brokerage house of Farrell Brothers. It was discovered that numerous checks mailed to the firm by customers had disappeared. Williams and Thomas Kenny, 42, another clerk, were discharged. They were to have appeared in court yesterday to answer charges of forgery, conspiracy to defraud and confidence game.

Arrested last night, Kenny said he had not seen Williams since last Friday.

Williams had been wagering heavily on race horses, it was learned. He gave worthless checks to cover some of his losses, one bookmaker complained.

Chicago police received a report that Egan gangsters, with whom Williams is supposed to have had trouble, went to Chicago after him. St. Louis police have no information on this. Williams was not known to police, as a gangster or otherwise, while living here.

Widow Supporting Herself. Mrs. Florence Williams, widow of the slain man, is working as a bookkeeper in a Chicago bank to support herself and their two children. She said Williams had been drinking heavily and was attentive to other women. He had been estranged from his wife and children since last May.

Williams' father attributed the charges against the young man to "bad company."

ESSEN'S TRIAL IN LIQUOR CASE POSTPONED INDEFINITELY

Previously Set for Nov. 8, at Indianapolis; No Judge Assigned to Preside.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Oct. 22.—The trial of Fred Essen, St. Louis County political boss, on an indictment charging complicity in the Jack Daniel whisky conspiracy yesterday was indefinitely postponed.

It previously had been set for Nov. 8.

United States District Judge Baltzell, who had disqualified himself for the trial, announced yesterday that the Circuit Court of Appeals had not appointed another Judge to sit in the case.

Essen is scheduled for trial with several defendants who got reversals on their appeal from the judgment in the first hearing.

SENTENCES IN TWO TRAFFIC CASES DISMISSED ON APPEAL

Ralph L. Moss and James Lovely Freed of Charges of Driving When Intoxicated.

Ralph L. Moss of 1517A Park avenue was discharged by Judge Gayer yesterday, in Court of Criminal Correction, where he appealed a $100 fine and a 30-day sentence to the workhouse, assessed against him by Police Judge Rosecan Oct. 4 for driving when intoxicated.

Evidence produced by the city to show that Moss had driven his machine when intoxicated on Washington boulevard, near Compton avenue, Oct. 2, was deemed insufficient by Judge Gayer. Moss was arrested after accidents with two other automobiles.

James Lovely of 2118 1/2 Chouteau avenue, who had been sentenced by Judge Rosecan to six months in the workhouse and fined $250 for driving when intoxicated, June 7, 1925, had his case dismissed when witnesses failed to testify against him. Lovely was arrested at Twelfth street and Chouteau avenue after his car had crashed into the rear of another machine.

CATTLE MAN FINED $75 FOR HUNTING OUT OF SEASON

Court Dismisses Plea of Attorney for M. Courtney That Sale Was Not Intended.

"It hurts a duck to be shot for social purposes just as much as it does for commercial ends," Federal Judge Faris commented today in fining M. Courtney, a cattle dealer, $75 for shooting ducks out of season.

The occasion for the remark was a plea by James E. Carroll, attorney for Courtney, that 25 ducks found in Courtney's possession near St. Charles last April had not been shot for commercial purposes.

HUNTING FACTS ABOUT TWINS

Chicago U. Men Seek to Test Force of Heredity and Environment.

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—Three University of Chicago professors have undertaken to find all about twins. They are calling on adult twins, especially twins that have been reared apart, to obtain data to determine whether hereditary traits or environment is the most powerful factor in shaping the individual.

There are two kinds of twins, identical and fraternal. Particularly are identical twins, reared apart under differing environments, wanted. Any departures from exact identity of identical twins may be taken as evidence of the disturbing or modifying effects of environment. The investigators are Profs. Newman, F. N. Freeman and K. J. Holsinger.

THREE CONFESS TO ROBBERY

Men Arrested With Auto Load of Loot From Home in Kirkwood.

University City police are holding three young men, who have confessed that they robbed the home of Mrs. Ford Wilson in Kirkwood last night. They were arrested when police saw them sitting in an automobile, filled with household furniture, parked in an alley in the rear of 900 Westgate avenue, University City, about 11:45 o'clock last night.

When taken to the University City police station, they said they were Albert Brinkman, 19 years old of 405 South Geyer road, Kirkwood; George Jenkins, 17, of 114 Madison avenue, Kirkwood and James Shaw, 24, of 323 East Jefferson avenue, Kirkwood.

STUDENTS ON FOOD STRIKE

Follows Man's Suspension for Refusal to Apologize for Diet Criticism.

By the Associated Press.
TIFFIN, O., Oct. 22.—A food strike was started last night at Heidelberg University here following suspension from classes of a student who refused to apologize for an editorial condemning the food served at Heidelberg Commons, 150 men students walked out. They declared the strike will not affect classes, but they will refuse to comply with the rule requiring all nonresident students to dine at the commons.

Suit Over Radio Interference.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—The injunction suit brought by Radio Station WGN, to prevent station WGCR from interfering with WGN programs by using a wave length close to that station, was remanded to a state court yesterday by Federal Judge J. H. Wilkerson. The court held that the matter was purely civil and local. The state court issued an injunction against WGCR, owned by the Coyne Electrical School and Louis J. Guyon. WGN is the Chicago Tribune station.

ADMIRAL KOONTZ TO SPEAK IN ST. LOUIS ON NAVY DAY

Will Address Military Order of World War at Meeting in Hotel Statler.

Rear Admiral Coontz, U. S. N., will take part in the celebration of Navy day here, Oct. 27. He will speak at Hotel Statler at 7 o'clock that night on "Missouri, the Navy and the Merchant Marine."

Admiral Coontz, who is a native of Missouri, will appear as the guest of the Military Order of the World War.

Navy day is celebrated on Oct. 27 because it is the anniversary of the birth of Theodore Roosevelt, who, as President, took a lively interest in the navy, and also because it was on Oct. 27, 1775, that the Continental Congress founded the navy.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE RESCINDS PARKWAY APPROVAL

The board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce has rescinded its action of Aug. 16, endorsing the proposal of the Board of Public Service for a trolley traffic way in the middle of the widened Olive street.

KU KLUX MADE DEFINITE ISSUE IN SENATE CAMPAIGN

D. M. Proctor Charges Williams Had Active Support of Hooded Order in August Primary.

SURPRISE TO THE G. O. P. ORGANIZATION
Senator Denies Having Sought or Accepted Support of Dr. Wm. Campbell, State 'Grand Dragon'

The Ku Klux Klan, which has been an issue in the background of the Missouri senatorial campaign, became definitely a public issue yesterday when David M. Proctor, a candidate in the primary for the Republican senatorial nomination, in an open statement charged that the Klan supported Senator Williams in the primary and was the most important single factor in Williams' nomination.

The Senator in St. Joseph last night, reply to the Proctor statement, said that he "had neither sought nor accepted the support" of Dr. William M. Campbell of St. Joseph, "grand dragon" of the Klan. He said he had written the anti-Klan plank in the Republican platform in 1924, adding: "That is sufficient to show where I stand."

As the issue stands, there has been no denial from either Senator Williams or "Grand Dragon" Campbell that the Klan support went to the Senator in the primary, and is going to him in the general election, as has been reported from various places in the State where Campbell has addressed Klan meetings in the "clavans."

Proctor Statement Surprised.
The Proctor statement came as a complete surprise to the Republican organization. Although neither Proctor nor those closely associated with him in his campaign had shown interest in the Williams campaign, they had remained comparatively quiet and the Republican organization had not anticipated open opposition.

Proctor seemingly waited a definite situation new to the present campaign to bring his Klan charge against Senator Williams, taking speeches of the "grand dragon" since the primary as the basis, and making the charge apparently incidental to a demand for the prosecution of the "grand dragon" for alleged criminal libel.

Occasion of the Charges.
Proctor, as told yesterday, addressed a letter to J. T. Pinnell, Prosecuting Attorney of McDonald County, asking him to institute criminal proceedings against Campbell Sept. 25, at a public meeting in Anderson, McDonald County, said that Proctor was "a drunkard of the lowest grade," that he "often was in drunken night parties," and that "he is now getting intoxicating liquor at nine different drug stores in Kansas City."

Proctor issued a statement in connection with his demand for Campbell's prosecution, and it is this statement which has caused consternation in the Republican organization.

Though he announced he was supporting Williams, Proctor found occasion to include in his statement this:

"In the recent Republican primary I knew that the 'grand dragon' was against me and for my distinguished opponent, Senator Williams. I was also reliably informed that he, the 'grand dragon,' had, on one occasion, escorted Senator Williams from St. Joseph to St. Louis; that on another occasion he had been the honored guest of Senator Williams in St. Louis; and that still another occasion he had held long and closed conferences with Senator Williams in Washington, and that on divers other occasions he had received telegrams and other communications from Senator Williams soliciting his views concerning pending political appointments and governmental policies.

"I realized then, and do now that the 'Grand Dragon' possessed both the moral and legal right to support my opponent, Senator Williams, and the corresponding right to oppose my nomination. In fact, considering the intimate relationship existing between the 'Grand Dragon' and the Senator, he would have been a base ingrate had he not supported Senator Williams."

Williams, and the corresponding right to oppose my nomination. In fact, considering the intimate relationship existing between the 'Grand Dragon' and the Senator, he would have been a base ingrate had he not supported Senator Williams."

The McDonald County Prosecutor today said he would not institute proceedings against the "Grand Dragon." He said that if Campbell had made the statements attributed to him in Proctor's affidavit they would not constitute a felony.

Senator Williams in his St. Joseph statement, after denying that he "had accepted or sought" Klan support, offered an explanation which apparently referred to the Proctor charge that he had "escorted the 'Grand Dragon' from St. Joseph to St. Louis," though he made no reference to Proctor's assertions that he had entertained the "Grand Dragon" and had referred appointments to him. The Senator said:

"I met Dr. John F. Caskey, St. Joseph Methodist minister, about two months ago on a train and when we went into the smoking car to indulge in the weed I was introduced to Dr. Campbell. I was under the impression until now that he, too, was a Methodist divine."

"Grand Dragon" Campbell in St. Joseph issued the following:

"I said all summer that a 'wet' was running on a 'dry' platform. I repeated it at a Klan meeting in Anderson Sept. 25. I did not think I mentioned Proctor by name, but it makes no difference, for I admit I considered and now consider Proctor a 'wet.' If that is criminal libel, I'm no judge of law."

"But on the eve of the Williams-Hawes election coming this way, it looks to me just as a political gesture in behalf of Harry Hawes, a sort of retaliation against the man who defeated him in the primary. I am not concerned about it."

Hydro-Airplane Base Projected.
By the Associated Press.
LISBON, Oct. 22.—Dispatches from Porto Praya, Cape Verde Islands, say the Latecoere Airplane Co. of France intends building a hydro-airplane base somewhere in the archipelago to serve as an intermediate station between Dakar and Fernando Noronha, for a proposed Paris-South American air line.

$300,000,000 FOR ADVERTISING
By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—More than $300,000,000 was expended in advertising in the last year, through advertising agencies, publishers of the nation were told by James O'Shaughnessy, executive secretary of the American Association of Advertising Agencies. The association was a luncheon host to delegates to the national gathering of the Audit Bureau of Circulations here.

The co-operation of more than 1500 newspapers, magazines and other publications in the certification of their circulation figures was called by O. C. Harn, president of the bureau, an outstanding proof that American business can regulate itself if it desires to do so.

KU KLUX MADE DEFINITE ISSUE IN SENATE CAMPAIGN

D. M. Proctor Charges Williams Had Active Support of Hooded Order in August Primary.

Senator Denies Having Sought or Accepted Support of Dr. Wm. Campbell, State 'Grand Dragon'

The Ku Klux Klan, which has been an issue in the background of the Missouri senatorial campaign, became definitely a public issue yesterday when David M. Proctor, a candidate in the primary for the Republican senatorial nomination, in an open statement charged that the Klan supported Senator Williams in the primary and was the most important single factor in Williams' nomination.

The Senator in St. Joseph last night, reply to the Proctor statement, said that he "had neither sought nor accepted the support" of Dr. William M. Campbell of St. Joseph, "grand dragon" of the Klan. He said he had written the anti-Klan plank in the Republican platform in 1924, adding: "That is sufficient to show where I stand."

As the issue stands, there has been no denial from either Senator Williams or "Grand Dragon" Campbell that the Klan support went to the Senator in the primary, and is going to him in the general election, as has been reported from various places in the State where Campbell has addressed Klan meetings in the "clavans."

Proctor Statement Surprised.
The Proctor statement came as a complete surprise to the Republican organization. Although neither Proctor nor those closely associated with him in his campaign had shown interest in the Williams campaign, they had remained comparatively quiet and the Republican organization had not anticipated open opposition.

Proctor seemingly waited a definite situation new to the present campaign to bring his Klan charge against Senator Williams, taking speeches of the "grand dragon" since the primary as the basis, and making the charge apparently incidental to a demand for the prosecution of the "grand dragon" for alleged criminal libel.

Occasion of the Charges.
Proctor, as told yesterday, addressed a letter to J. T. Pinnell, Prosecuting Attorney of McDonald County, asking him to institute criminal proceedings against Campbell Sept. 25, at a public meeting in Anderson, McDonald County, said that Proctor was "a drunkard of the lowest grade," that he "often was in drunken night parties," and that "he is now getting intoxicating liquor at nine different drug stores in Kansas City."

Proctor issued a statement in connection with his demand for Campbell's prosecution, and it is this statement which has caused consternation in the Republican organization.

Though he announced he was supporting Williams, Proctor found occasion to include in his statement this:

"In the recent Republican primary I knew that the 'grand dragon' was against me and for my distinguished opponent, Senator Williams. I was also reliably informed that he, the 'grand dragon,' had, on one occasion, escorted Senator Williams from St. Joseph to St. Louis; that on another occasion he had been the honored guest of Senator Williams in St. Louis; and that still another occasion he had held long and closed conferences with Senator Williams in Washington, and that on divers other occasions he had received telegrams and other communications from Senator Williams soliciting his views concerning pending political appointments and governmental policies.

"I realized then, and do now that the 'Grand Dragon' possessed both the moral and legal right to support my opponent, Senator Williams, and the corresponding right to oppose my nomination. In fact, considering the intimate relationship existing between the 'Grand Dragon' and the Senator, he would have been a base ingrate had he not supported Senator Williams."

SKIN NOW SOFT AND SMOOTH AS A BABY'S

After three years' suffering from eczema

Los Angeles, California, April 14: "For over three years my little daughter suffered with eczema on her arms, face, neck and hands. It seemed to me that I tried everything, but the trouble grew worse all the time. The itching was intense and made sleep almost impossible. One day a friend advised me to use Resinol so I bought a jar of ointment and a cake of soap, but I didn't believe it would do any good. You can imagine my surprise and joy when the itching stopped and healing began immediately. Now, after using two jars of ointment and a cake of soap my little girl's skin is as white and smooth as the day she was born." (Signed) J. H. Norris, 1579 Rockwood St.

$497,513 RELEASED ON STATE APPROPRIATIONS

Governor Orders Sum Applied to Items Held Up Earlier in Administration.

By the Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Oct. 22.—Gov. Baker today released $497,513 in appropriations to about 30 State Departments and institutions, representing portions of their appropriations that were held up by the Governor at the beginning of the 1925-26 biennial period, because money was not then available.

The released appropriations include building, salary and deficiency items of the State educational institutions and salary and maintenance items of a number of the departments. The releases were made by the Governor on figures from the State Auditor and Treasurer's departments that money would be available to pay them.

State officials declared that heavy increases this year in the State income and inheritance tax collections virtually had averted the $2,500,000 deficit that was estimated in November, 1925, by State Treasurer Stephens for the end of this year, the close of the first biennial period of the Baker administration.

Behind by $1,500,000. However, while the State will be able to meet virtually all of its current bills by the end of this year, the Treasurer's books show that the State at the close of the biennial period will be about $1,500,000 behind its financial condition at the beginning of the period.

At the Treasurer's office it was estimated that with the balance now in the general revenue fund, plus collections for the remainder of the year, approximately $2,000,000 would be available to meet 1926 obligations. The monthly bill average about $60,000 and must be paid for October, November and December, virtually wiping out the $2,000,000. In addition, there will be about $600,000 or more in deficiencies, in instances where appropriations already are exhausted.

A part of the money to be used for payment of the obligations will be derived from tax collections that should be available for 1927 operations.

Wiping Out Paper Balance. The State not only will not be able to meet all of the deficiencies with 1926 income, but will have lost the paper balance of $1,421,000 that was left in the general revenue fund at the close of the Hyde administration in January, 1925. That balance to a large degree was a paper one, because of unpaid obligations left by the Hyde administration. Balances in the general revenue fund at the close of biennial periods have decreased steadily and virtually will be wiped out at the end of this year. When Gov. Gardner closed his administration he left an actual net balance of $2,651,311 in the general revenue fund for the Hyde administration. Hyde left a balance of $1,421,000 and the outstanding obligations totaled about $1,250,000.

Among the appropriations released by the Governor today was a $24,461 item for deficiencies in salaries at the State Teachers' College at Springfield in 1923 and 1924, and a similar item of $27,737 in salary deficiencies at the State Teachers' College at Maryville for 1923-24. These items have remained unpaid since the close of the Hyde administration.

$114,086 For Missouri U. For the University of Missouri, Baker released $61,566 for completion of a new building for the law college; $10,000 for scientific laboratories; $40,000 for agricultural extension work and $2500 for soil and crop experiments.

The State teachers' colleges, in addition to the deficiency items, received the following releases: Springfield, $17,000 for salaries and $2000 for fuel and water; Kirksville, $15,000 for salaries, $1786 for library replacement and $1400 for general repairs; Maryville, $15,000 for salaries; Cape Girardeau, $7000 for salaries; Warrensburg, $2500 for supplies.

The Missouri School of Mines was allowed $20,000 for salaries and $10,000 for department maintenance, from appropriations that had been held up.

FOOD Home Economics GROCERIES

Men's Food Taste Differs From That of Women

Experienced Housewives Know That Dishes Which Catch the Fancy of Women Seldom Appeal to Men.

NOT that the former lords of creation (for one hesitates to call them so now) should have special meals prepared for them to eat all by themselves. It is well, however, when you are giving a dinner for men guests to keep masculine tastes well in mind. That men's tastes are different from those of women, any experienced housekeeper will testify.

Suppose your husband then wants to give a rather informal but very nice dinner for a few of the men from the office. You will naturally wish to do your very best and as you are probably like most other housekeepers, limited as to service, all the planning that you do before the occasion will be just so much gained.

The courses in a man's dinner such as this, where the occasion is distinctly festive, will sometimes be larger in number than on ordinary occasions. For example, your home dinner may be extended to include an appetizer, a clear soup with an accompaniment, an entree, roast with vegetables, salad, dessert and coffee. For autumn and winter the appetizers may be canapés of smoked fish or of caviar or oyster cocktail or cantaloupe. The soup should be clear such as consommé and the accompaniments may be olives, salted nuts and celery.

If you are living very simply, the entree may be omitted. If you decide to have it, broiled shad roe with cucumbers or lobster Newburgh are good illustrations of the type of dish to serve.

For the roast, filet mignon with mushrooms is always popular, or you may serve beef with Yorkshire pudding or duck with currant jelly. The salad for a man's dinner should not be the elaborate affair of a woman's luncheon. Crisp hearts of lettuce with French dressing is an ideal salad and is better than one more elaborate with a heavy dressing.

Coming to the dessert, many men have a boyish fondness for ice cream. It is probable, however, that a little study of their taste for dinner dessert will result in one word, namely, pie. Hot mince pie or huckleberry or the always favorite apple will be sure of a welcome.

The coffee should be clear and black and most housewives prefer to serve it in the living room. Here is a thought for the housewife with a limited quantity of china. A young housekeeper of small income and large love for entertaining was bewailing the fact that she could not purchase both tea and coffee services simultaneously. "Don't worry," counseled an older friend, one who had been married for some years. "Get your tea things first. Men adore having even after-dinner coffee in what they call 'man-sized cups.'"

Men as a rule do not care for fancy bonbons, but they will appreciate having after-dinner plates of good, old-fashioned fudge disposed in convenient places about the living room. With the coffee and sugar things of the past, many a masculine hand will be glad to find its way to these fudge plates, as the evening advances.

HINTS FOR USING BACON
This Popular Meat Fills Many Demands.
Bacon may be used by itself as the meat course; in combination with eggs in any form; as a flavor extender with meats; as a garnish for almost any vegetable or sandwich.

To Fry Bacon.
Place the slices in a cool frying pan; cook slowly. Turn often. When the slices have reached just the degree of crispness you like best, remove and serve at once.

To Broil Bacon.
Lay the slices on wire rack over a pan, under the flame. Cook slowly till bacon is delicately browned and lightly crisped, turning the slices often to insure even cooking.

POPULAR PORK DISHES

Pork Is a Favorite in This Market.
Of all the savory meats, pork probably holds first place in the affections of the St. Louis buying public. Roast, broiled or fried, pork is delicious. Then the lesser pork cuts are equally as popular as the above mentioned. Pork tenderloins and pork spareribs are simply delicious when properly cooked. These recipes for cooking the latter cuts are recommended highly by all those cooks who have tried the recipes.

Pork Tenderloin Stuffed.
Wipe meat with damp cloth, and trim off ragged edges. Rub all over with salt and pepper.
Make a regulation poultry dressing, then season it with chopped apple, chopped onion, and sage.

Spread this on half the piece of tenderloin, turn the other half over it, and tie or sew the edges together. Place in greased baking pan, roast in hot oven forty-five minutes. Add little water and bacon fat, basting at intervals with it.
Spareribs With Stuffing.
Have the butcher crack the spareribs twice crosswise, and buy five pounds for family of five. Use an apple stuffing, and fold the ends of the spareribs over the dressing and skewer them into place. Place the meat in roasting pan, add one-half cup boiling water, cover, and roast at least 30 minutes to the pound. Season after first hour of cooking.

Savory Spareribs.
Roast spareribs one hour. Season them. Place small potatoes or quarters of turnips and quartered cooking apples on top of the roast, and bake one hour.

water, cover, and roast at least 30 minutes to the pound. Season after first hour of cooking.
Savory Spareribs.

does it pay to polish?

Yes!

One woman writes that she sent her furnished flat for $10 a month more than she expected because she gave the furniture a good rub down with O-Cedar. Another writes that her old furniture looks practically new since she has been using O-Cedar polish. Thousands write of similar experiences. Nothing like O-Cedar because it cleans—then polishes, beautifies, and preserves. 30c to $3.

Vitamins, too, accompany the butter fat. They assist the growth and welfare and promote the health.

Parker House Rolls. One pint milk, scalded and allowed to get lukewarm, then add one quart flour, two tablespoons sugar, one tablespoon lard, one tablespoon butter, one-quarter yeast cake dissolved in little water, pinch salt. Let rise, roll out, using as little flour as possible; cut round, spread with melted butter and fold over. Let rise an hour or an hour and a half in warm place and bake in quick oven.

When preparing toast for a sick child, cut the slices of bread with the animal cookie cutter and toast in the usual way.

Appetizers, as the name indicates, help to start and stimulate the flow of the digestive juices.

GOLDEN PUMPKINS MAKE FINE PIES

Many Delicious Desserts May Be Made of This Humble Vegetable.

If pumpkin is peeled, cut up and stewed rapidly, it makes coarse pies which have very little of the native sweetness of the vegetable. If it is cooked in a very small amount of water, in a thick, porcelain-lined kettle, where it will gradually steam for six or eight hours, it acquires a richness and sweetness that cannot be obtained by any other process of cooking it.

Put it through a colander, adding enough butter to taste well, about an ounce is generally the quantity used, and a teaspoonful of salt to each pint of pumpkin. Then pour in cream or very rich sweet milk until your pumpkin is of the consistency of rich custard; boil in three or even four eggs if you have them, to the pint, and add ground spice, mace, cinnamon, and if you like its flavor, nutmeg, and then sweeten with powdered sugar to the taste. Now your pumpkin is ready for your pastry crust. Every good housekeeper knows how to make pastry, but you must roll your dough thin for your pies, and after it is in the pie pans brush it lightly with white of egg to prevent the pumpkin working through the crust, which to be good should be crisp. After you have filled each pie pan be careful to have your oven hot when you bake them. If you care for pumpkin pies you will eat those made successfully by the above recipe. There are other recipes for pumpkin pie, but I like the above best.

To make pudding of pumpkin, stew a pint of pumpkin, press it through a colander, mix in a pint of rich cream that has been heated, a quarter of a pound of butter and the same quantity of granulated sugar. Break eight eggs into a dish and beat until they are so light they are stiff, then stir into the pumpkin. A spoonful of powdered mace, and cinnamon mixed, a grated nutmeg, a wineglass full of good brandy complete your mixture. Beat it after it is mixed very hard, and then turn into a dish which is well buttered and bake three quarters of an hour. It is eaten cold.

USES FOR COOKED CEREAL

Mush Lends Itself to Combination Dishes.

The children are, let us say, tired of "that horrid old cereal." Very well, give a few moments' thought to the possibilities of these same rolled oats and see what you shall see.

Beginning with breakfast, your mind's eye will "see," by way of variation of the "horrid old cereal," a plate of steaming brown muffins made with the toothsome porridge and disguising it so successfully that the children are apt to love with joy.

At luncheon both the grownups and the youngsters will be glad to welcome a platter of daintily browned and sautéed slices of "fried mush." If the slices are shaped into circular bits and christened

"mock oysters," so much the better. And it is, of course, understood that only older and active children and adults who are equally blessed with good digestions eat the fried food, delicately as it is prepared.

For dessert or for a mid-morning or afternoon "bite," provide a plate of oatmeal macaroons and see if the children's eyes do not sparkle.

Let dinner open with a steaming cup of oatmeal soup and you have tucked into the children's tummies not only the healthful oatmeal, but vitamin-bearing tomatoes as well.

Although not an unrestrained advocate of "hot bread," it does have its place. One place may be at Sunday night supper on a "coolish" summer night, when there will be just a hint of later-in-the-season coziness suggested by the heartier viands. And here again the versatile cereal foods shine. Steaming "Johnny cake," golden "corn pone," delicately white muffins from white cereals, the variety is endless.

Mutton and Onions.

Remove superfluous fat and roll the flank about the tenderloin, fastening with skewers. Place on a broiler greased with mutton fat. Cook in a hot oven about eight minutes, turning frequently during the first part of the time and reducing the heat as soon as the meat is well seared. Serve with onion sauce made as follows: Cook eight large white onions in boiling salted water for 10 minutes. Drain and cook in a covered saucepan with one-fourth cup butter until soft. Then press through and reheat. Sprinkle with a tablespoon flour, stirring and add one teaspoon mace. Bring to boiling point and

GOOD LUCK is Helping American Children to Lead the World in Health

Racing and romping along life's highway, American children lead the youngsters of the world in physical well-being.

Here child health has been raised to its highest level, and Jelke GOOD LUCK Margarine is an acknowledged aid in maintaining this high standard. Mothers everywhere say that "The Finest Spread for Bread" is helpful in keeping their little ones normal in weight and vigor.

To this great service to American children GOOD LUCK now adds another—a crayon book of pretty pictures and jolly jingles that teaches them health habits while they play. As they color it they learn to eat, sleep and exercise in the way that best encourages good health.

Jelke GOOD LUCK plays an important part in keeping children healthy by supplying the fat that dietitians say they must have to enjoy normal weight and energy. Made of pure meat fats and whole country milk, GOOD LUCK is this essential builder of weight and vigor in its most digestible and appetizing form.

You mothers of active, growing children, who expend their energy so freely at school and play—give them the vital nourishment of GOOD LUCK at every meal. Let its pure, wholesome fats build firm flesh and revive flagging energy—let its precious vitamins aid in promoting growth. Best of all, let its delicious flavor add taste enchantment to their bread and make them beg for more. Your grocer can supply you.

FOR MORE THAN A HALF CENTURY

has stood in St. Louis for progress and with rare foresight and vision built up a quality manufacturing plant unequalled in volume of output. August A. Busch, the present head of this colossal institution, is a noteworthy example of loyalty to his resident city, St. Louis, as well as to the nation at large. He has been a benefactor to his thousands of employees and their families. It is not only the food and drink products of the "Eagle and the A" that scores employed, but scattered over many states are immense ice and refrigerating plants that are a Godsend to the various communities wherever located.

is with extreme pleasure that Remley announces a tremendous money-saving sale of the Anheuser-Busch line. This sale will be a gala event to the thrifty housewives and will be worth coming miles to attend. These hi-grade products are backed by August A. Busch with his reputation and guaranteed by Dave Remley. The following are typical rate Remley prices and thousands will take advantage of the amazing offers as they always do when announcements are made of Better Foods and Drinks for Less.

FREE One Bottle of New BUDWEISER

Served in ice cold steins, to every one who eats in our dining room, for one whole week. Don't fail to eat with us Friday and enjoy our wonderful sea food and fish menu.

Where else in the world will you or can you sit down and eat such marvelous quality foodstuffs as you can at this wonderful institution—where you can come and feel at home with your Kiddies or your good old Mother or Father, Uncle or Grandpa? We build this institution for you—the masses of the people—who appreciate well-cooked, cleanly prepared foods, millionaire quality, to fit the purse of the humblest.

OUR HEAD CHEF—Mr. Carl Hagenback of Hamburg, Germany, who put the Belview-Stratford Hotel in Philadelphia on the map, and gave it a world-wide reputation as the best place in that city to eat, is doing the same thing for us—making this place the best place to eat in St. Louis or St. Louis County.

Don't Miss Saturday and Sunday's WURST-MARKT

Genuine old German Style—cooked by a real thoroughbred, high-class German chef.
FREE! Bottle new Budweiser served in a great big ice cold stein. It tastes exactly like old-time Beer—Only it hasn't got quite the kick—$1.00 value.

The above specials are in addition to our regular menu, which is always in force.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN ONCE SAID ON A MEMORABLE OCCASION:

"You can fool some of the people some of the time, you can fool all of the people some of the time, but you can't fool all of the people all of the time." So don't fool yourself.

You know—and I know—and everybody else knows there's no substitute for BUDWEISER. BUDWEISER is the best—the cleanest made and the best manufactured in the whole United States or in fact the world. And absolutely is the most PLEASANT, LIKEABLE and palatable tasting.

RECIPES FOR DISHES IN WEEK'S MENUS

Try Different Ways of Cooking the Plainest Articles of Food.

Make a quick something, allowing one tablespoon of water to each egg. Pepper and salt to taste and add a tablespoon of butter to the whole mixture. Chop new chives and a small sprig of parsley and add to the mixture. Cook as usual in a well-oiled pan.

Roasted Tuna.
Two cups minced, drained juice from one orange. Lemon juice of one-half lemon. One tablespoon flour. One-half cup sugar.

The goodie recipe and cook them with the sugar until tender. Then cool, drain, removing the water and adding the flour, fruit juice and cook again for 15 minutes. Have ready small party paste lined with plain paste. Fill in the center, remove and bake. Cover the top of each tart with meringue. Return the tarts to the oven until the meringue is brown.

Pineapple Jelly.
Allow one quart of fruit juice to each three quarts of sugar and each two cups of crystalline juice. Place in a saucepan and cover with water. Cook slowly for 20 minutes. Drain through double cheesecloth which has been wrung out of hot water. Let the bag hang over a large bowl and drain overnight. This should not be squeezed. Measure the juice, return it to the saucepan, bring to a boil and allow three-quarters of a cup of sugar to each cup of juice.

Stuffed Eggs.
Two teaspoons anchovy paste, one-half cup milk, four eggs, salt and pepper.

Divide the paste in half of the milk. Have ready the well-beaten eggs. Combine with the anchovy the rest of the milk and seasonings. Pour into a buttered shallow dish. Set the dish in a pan of water and cook in a moderate oven for 30 minutes. Serve with cream sauce.

Southwestern.
Two cups flour, three teaspoons baking powder, one-half teaspoon salt, four tablespoons margarine, one and one-half cups milk.

Mix the dry materials together. Rub in the margarine and add milk and make into a soft dough. Place on a well-floured board and roll out until about one-half inch in thickness. Cut in three-cornered shapes and place the triangles on a well-greased baking sheet. Bake in a hot oven for one-quarter of an hour. Spread with butter and serve very hot.

COMPLIMENTS HUSBAND
Hot Bread: Are Seasonable for Cold Weather.

How many cross husbands would feel their hearts lighten, if they just saw a plate of light, fluffy hot biscuits or cornmeal muffins instead of thin slices of that eternal daily bread?

The biscuits are made just like this:
Half a cup of butter (or lard).

SAVE THE BLUE & WHITE LABEL

FAMOUS cooks show a marked preference for Wilson's Milk—because it gives a richer, finer flavor to the foods they prepare. They know that Wilson's is pure, fresh milk—concentrated to double richness by evaporation—sealed and sterilized in cans for your convenience. There's a difference in evaporated milks. Try Wilson's and see.

A FULL QUART OF RICHNESS in Each Large Wilson's Can

Because it is double-rich you may dilute Wilson's Milk with an equal amount of water and you will have a full quart of whole milk that is richer than the legal standard. Diluted in this proportion Wilson's serves every milk need—economically. And for all cream needs you use the double-rich Wilson's Milk just as it comes from the can—and save half the cost of cream.

Try This New Wilson's Recipe CUSTARD PIE

You've Never Eaten Better Pie

1 1/2 cups Wilson's evaporated milk diluted with 1 cup boiling water—1/2 cup sugar—few grating nutmeg—1/2 teaspoon salt—2 eggs.

Beat eggs slightly and add all other ingredients. Pour into an unbaked pastry shell. Place in a 450 degrees F oven for the first ten minutes, then reduce the temperature to 250 degrees F for rest of baking. About fifty minutes are required for baking. Makes one pie.

We are now featuring BATTLE CREEK SANITARIUM FOODS

And as previously announced, we are endeavoring to acquaint our customers and friends with these health-building Foods. Below we describe one of the foremost aids to health produced in the Sanitary Kitchen of the Battle Creek Food Company.

COOKED BRAN

—The First and the Best of Sterilized Brans

SANITARIUM BRAN is very different from the ordinary "fodder bran" in general use. It consists exclusively of large flakes of cellulose which are separated from the finer particles of starch, dust, germs, etc., which constitute nearly three-fourths of the bulk of ordinary bran. The efficiency of Bran depends upon the size of the flakes. The larger the flakes, the more pronounced the laxative effects. Bran stimulates the bowels, not by irritation but by titillation, or tickling.

Besides its value as a laxative, Bran is a highly important food, supplying vitamin B, lime and iron in greater quantity than any other cereal food.

HIGHLAND PURE MAPLE SAP SYRUP

From Vermont—maple center of the world—comes this choice syrup ready for your table. The pink of Vermont maple lots have yielded the sap. The syrup has been made by patient, tested, old-time methods that insure purity and strength. To taste Highland Pure Maple Sap Syrup is to enjoy that haunting, subtle tang—that true Vermont maple flavor—famous for generations.

Only a limited quantity of genuine Maple Syrup can be offered to American homes. But the fact is that St. Louis is supplied with this rare delicacy today—the 100 per cent pure article—maple syrup as whole and rich, as smooth and fragrant as though you yourself took it from some bubbling vat in an upland sugar lot.

LONG SHOTS PREVAIL AS FAIRMOUNT TRACK REMAINS IN BAD SHAPE

FAVORITES ARE DEFEATED BY THE OUTSIDERS

Ah Reckon, at $86 to $2 Latest Upset—Torch Comes Back Today in Feature Sprint Race.

By Dent McSkimming.

A succession of long prices on winners such as have been recorded at Fairmount Park in the last few days may seem to indicate that past performance is no guide at all to what a thoroughbred horse may be expected to do. In a series of upsets yesterday, a climax was reached in the victory of Ah Reckon in the fourth race when a winning ticket paid $86.

The probable reason for this succession of reverses for favorites is the condition of the track. Continuous rains made the running path very muddy, slippery, uneven and insecure. There are some horses that "like" the mud but even the best of the superior mud runners are inconsistent. There has been a lot of stumbling, slipping, bad acting at the post, slow starting and other untoward circumstances which influence the course of the race. Under ideal conditions, a fast track and pleasant weather, the horses are less subject to these racing accidents and the favorites enjoy better luck.

Torch is in again. Today's feature race brings out some of the better sprinters at three-quarters of a mile, including Bookbinder, Ball Geo, Col. Board and Gliding Fox. Torch comes back again but on what he showed a few days ago he is not likely to set any new track records.

Tomorrow, the Velled Prophet Queen, Miss Martha Love, will be accorded the unusual privilege of viewing the Queen's Purse event from the stewards' tower. To the jockey winning the race will go the Queen's bouquet. The event will be the fourth race of the afternoon events.

Miss Love and her retinue will arrive at the Fairmount clubhouse at 1 o'clock. A luncheon will be tendered the party by officials of the jockey club. The party will be chaperoned by Miss Love's parents—Mr. and Mrs. Edward K. Love of 44 Westmoreland place, and Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Semple.

Col. Matt J. Winn, managing director of the Fairmount Club, who arrived during the week from Churchill Downs, also under his direction, has announced that the racing events of the afternoon are being arranged with great care in the selection of the finest thoroughbreds at the track. There are more than 750 horses there now. One of the events of the race program will be called "The Debutante."

The special race in which society girls, members of the Bit and Bride Club, had agreed to ride, has been postponed until next week because of a crowded program and on account of failure to obtain a sufficient number of suitable mounts. C. Bruce Head, general manager of the club, would not permit the use of thoroughbreds owing to the hazard.

Chapin Favored To Win Mexican Tennis Laurels

(Copyright, 1926.)

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 22.—Alfred Chapin of Springfield, Mass., has been picked to win the men's singles for the national championship of Mexico, which will begin next Saturday. William Johnston of California, the present holder of the title, will not be on hand to defend his laurels.

The former Charlotte Hosmer, wife of Chapin, is elected to come through to the top in the tourney for the women's crown.

Mexico, the United States and Cuba will be represented in the net carnival, in which more than 40 entries have been received. Among the American entries are Robert Kinsey and Walter Westbrook of California, Thalhimer and White of Texas; John Deeg, the junior champion from California, and Martha Hayard, holder of the Delaware championship in the United States.

SUMNER HIGH SCHOOL ELEVEN WILL OPPOSE ALUMNI TOMORROW

Under the direction of Coach W. H. J. Beckett, the Sumner High School (Negro) football squad closed three weeks of active work for the opening game tomorrow against the Sumner High Alumni at the Star's park. Game to begin at 2:30 p. m.

Sumner lost three star players by graduating last June, but their places have been taken by players who threaten to star in tomorrow's clash. The Alumni outweighs the locals 25 pounds to the man. Beckett is an instructor in the physical training department at Sumner.

Kemper Beaten, 3 to 0.

CHILLICOTHE, Mo., Oct. 22.—Chillicothe business college defeated the Kemper Military Academy's football team here this afternoon by the margin of a long field goal 3 to 0. Ted Gillespie's toe was responsible for the score. Beautiful broken field running for long gains by Weston, Chillicothe halfback provided the chief feature.

'Stuffy' McInnis Gets 'Free Hand' As Phil's Boss

Signs Two-Year Contract—Coach Benny Meyer Released.

By the Associated Press.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 22.—John P. "Stuffy" McInnis, former member of Connie Mack's $100,000 infield, is to return to this city, next season as manager of the Philadelphia Nationals. He succeeds Arthur Fletcher, who has been released.

In announcing that McInnis had been given a two-year contract as player-manager, President Baker said he would have a free hand in running the club and would be given all possible co-operation in building up a winning team.

"He needs a new third baseman and two good pitchers," said Baker. "With these new men he believes he would have enough to make a good start."

McInnis was signed when a free agent, having been unconditionally released by Pittsburgh shortly before the close of the season. He is 34 years old and has been a major league player since 1909, but has had no managerial experience.

"McInnis is not only willing to play, but he insisted upon it," said Baker. "He is sure he has several good years of baseball left. He is a good hitter, a crackjack fielder and above all a shrewd player. I am confident he will make a good leader."

It was also announced that Benny Meyer, coach, will be released and Stuffy will name his own assistant.

Mr. Baker said the Phillies would train again next spring at Bradenton, Fla.

MY LIFE AND FIGHTING CAREER

—By Gene Tunney, New Heavyweight Champion

Army's Championing of Sports Led to Winning Of A. E. F. Heavy Title

Tunney Says War Aided Instead of Retarded His Advancement —Learned That Avoiding Hard Blows Was a Good Policy in Ring.

By Gene Tunney.
World's Heavyweight Champion.
CHAPTER VI.

THE turbulent times of the Great War interrupted some athletic careers. For instance, a man like Bentley, the baseball pitcher, lost a few of his best years and when he came back to the game and joined the New York Giants, he was rather far along in years. To athletes like myself, however, the war aided instead of retarding advancement. I took full advantage of the boxing routine which was prescribed for all. I was young and growing. I soon began to forge to the front.

In passing, let me say flatly that I never have sanctioned anyone to refer to me as a great fighter in the World War. I did enlist. I did fraternize with the finest body of men the world ever saw gathered together—my buddies in the A. E. F. But although I went overseas with the dream of fighting for my country, I did not have the luck to be called to the firing line where my friends were doing their bit.

I have related how I fought five preliminary bouts before enlisting with the Marines. I learned something vital in each bout. I found that I could take a hard smack. I also learned the value of not taking said smack if it could be avoided. Too many promising boys have been ruined because they forgot to duck. They have gone into the game and permitted themselves to be punched so full of holes that they left it looking like a badly-used player piano roll.

The A. E. F. officers, from General Pershing down, made it possible for able-bodied men to indulge in healthful sports. I did more than my share of boxing. It was not long before such men as the veteran referee and tireless war worker, Billy Roche, saw possibilities in me. Billy was one of the few who predicted I would win a championship. That forecast drew a laugh from many quarters.

Peculiar thing about Roche—he predicted a championship for Jack Dempsey when Jack still was in the raw. And he forecast my own rise to the heavyweight throne. Mind you, I was at that time barely a light heavyweight.

Inspired by William McCabe.

ANOTHER great inspiration to me then—and today, too—was William McCabe. Mac was one of the busiest men of the K. C. group overseas. He was a director of athletics. He gave me advice and encouragement that formed the basis of my career and made him my friend for life. He was near my corner when I won from Dempsey, rooting and pulling for me.

When I left the employ of the Ocean Steamship Co. to enlist, I weighed approximately 165 pounds. I got up to 175 pounds during the war and when the armistice dawned over the shattered fields of France, I was called on to box in earnest.

Al Norton had been going good over in Italy. Here and there, good and indifferent fighters were

OFFERS $30,000 TO LATZO TO DEFEND TITLE IN BOSTON

By the Associated Press.
BOSTON, Oct. 22.—Efforts to match Pete Latzo, welterweight boxing champion, and Jimmy Jones of Youngstown, O., for a championship fight here July 4 next year, were announced today by the Queensboro Athletic Club.
The club wired a $30,000 offer to Paddy Mullins, the champion's manager, and stated it was prepared to post the money with the National Shawmut Bank here as soon as a favorable reply was received. Al Lippe, the challenger's manager, has accepted terms, the club announced.

"Y" Plays Barracks.

Coch Coach of the Y. M. H. A. grid-iron squad has transferred Lazio Sommers, former Washington U. center and guard to the quarter-back position. This change was necessary because of injuries to Sachar causing his withdrawal for the rest of the season. The team will meet the Jefferson Barracks eleven Sunday at the Barracks.

TUNNEY SPIKES REPORT THAT HE STUDIED LAW

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—Gene Tunney got down to the business of socking a rumor yesterday, a rumor that has placed the heavyweight champion in an unpleasant light.
For some time Gene has been referred to as the bright young man who "formerly attended New York University as a law student."
Gene insists that he has never authorized any man to say that he attended law classes at New York University.
The rumor grew to such proportions that Gene actually received an invitation to attend the alumni banquet, last Saturday night. The news of champion's invitation to attend the big varsity feed found space in the University Daily News, last week.

Then a legal offspring of the University wrote a letter to the "Varsity powers and defied them to prove by the records that Gene Tunney, heavyweight champion of the world ever attended the New York University law classes.
The letter writer, as a final swing, told the University to fall back on its football team for real blows-in-the-bottle publicity. To this Gene Tunney subscribes his titled K. O.

Women's Golf Final.

By the Associated Press.
BALTIMORE, Oct. 22.—Mrs. E. Boyd Morrow, three-time Maryland champion, today competed in the final round of the first women's golf tournament staged by the Middie Atlantic Golf Association, after defeating Mrs. Jean Jones, Virginian champion, 4 to 2.

She will face in the finals today Mrs. J. M. Haynes, of Washington, who advanced to that round by virtue of a victory over Mrs. A. Van Steiner, 2 and 1.

Became A. E. F. Champion.

I THEN won ten rounds from K. O. Sullivan and bested Ted Jamieson in a like number of rounds. I was now the Light Heavyweight Champion of the A. E. F. All these bouts were held in Paris. It was here that I really laid a basis for any future ability I might attain. I knew from my past training that only a man who keeps in condition all the time need look for continued athletic honors. With all Paris overjoyed at the termination of the world struggle, and with the boys in uniform being pampered and petted, it took a little will power for anyone not to relax into an easy, in-temperate life. Right then and there I began a more rigid way of living than ever. For by now I saw my goal—the heavyweight crown. I was determined to allow no passing, momentary pleasure, in-temperate eating, drinking or loose living to handicap my chances.

An effort was made to get a match for me with Georges Carpentier, whom I was destined to defeat in New York some years later. But Georges said that he was tired of fighting for nothing. So we were not matched.

Our homecoming to the United States was a joyous event. I didn't do much boxing on the trip across, but I kept taking light calisthenics and long walks on the deck to keep in fair trim. I never am very far out of form. I met Dan O'Dowd in New York in a 10-round, no-decision bout. Frankly, I wasn't very much impressed with myself, but think I more than held my own.

I had started on my home soil the march to the throne.

French Girl Places Three of Her Countrymen at Top of List.

By the Associated Press.
MONTREAL, Oct. 22.—Suzanne Lenglen today joined S. Wallis Myers, noted British critic, and William T. Tilden in setting forth rankings of the 10 leading international tennis players.

Ms. Lenglen, choosing her list of both men and women on past season performances alone, differed from the selection of both Myers and Tilden. The latter declared today he believed he ranked fourth rather than fifth, as the English writer placed him. Ms. Lenglen gave him sixth place.

Her list follows:

- MEN.
1—Rene Lacoste, France.
2—Jean Borotra, France.
3—Henri Cochet, France.
4—Vincent Richards, United States.
5—William M. Johnston, United States.
6—William T. Tilden, United States.
7—Mannuel Alonso, Spain.
8—Howard Kinsey, United States.
9—Paul Peret, France.
10—Takekichi Harada, Japan.

Four Missing From British Plane.
By the Associated Press.
MALTA, Oct. 22.—Three British officers and a naval telegrapher, aboard a gunnery spotter seaplane, are thought to have been drowned when the plane made a forced landing in the Mediterranean. The plane was participating in exercises with the Third Cruiser Squadron, when a message was received from it saying that engine trouble had developed and that a forced landing would be necessary. Assistance was sent to the spot, but nothing was found beyond some fragments of wreckage.

ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH
D. W. HILL URGES DRY LAW REPEAL DEFEAT
Addressing Missouri Baptist Association, He Defends Prohibition Enforcement in State.

Baptist ministers and laymen, in the final day's session of the Missouri Baptist General Association at Third Church today, were addressed by David W. Hill, insurance company official and former Speaker of the Missouri House of Representatives, on the subject of Proposition No. 4, which is for repeal of the State prohibition law, and is to be voted upon Nov. 2.
After an appeal to all voters, on the general grounds of order and law enforcement, Hill discussed the proposal from the standpoint of the believer in prohibition, and upheld national as well as State dry laws. He quoted "a former Assistant District Attorney in St. Louis" as authority for the statement that "a majority of the captured stills on Dago Hill are older than the Volstead law."
"Government control in Canada," he said, "has meant increased consumption of liquor, especially by young people and women, great economic loss, increased vice and crime and an illicit trade as great as that under any prohibition law."
Reviews Liquor Penalties.
"Bootlegging is flourishing in Germany, even though there is no prohibition law. Smugglers are bringing beer and liquor into Berlin in evasion of the heavy state duties. In order to check the smuggling, orders have been issued that only certain routes may be used for the transport of these taxable liquors."
"They say that prohibition does not prohibit. Then what are they howling about? The 135 bootleggers in the Missouri penitentiaries would probably be of the opinion that it does prohibit. The 558 convicted in Missouri in the fiscal year in the United States courts received total penalties of 114 years in time, and fines aggregating $294,279, and in the nation for the same year there were 44,022 convictions, totaling $666 years and fines of $7,356,995. We did not lock them up because we hated them, but we do despise their conduct and they are looked up because we love the social order, and we take that action for the protection of society."
"It is encouraging to note the growth of temperance sentiment in Missouri as indicated by the State-wide voting. In 1910 Missouri gave a wet majority of 225,000. In 1912 Missouri gave a wet majority of 125,000. In 1916 Missouri gave a wet majority of 70,000, and in 1920 (referendum on State dry law) Missouri gave a dry majority of 61,000."
Should Not Be Discouraged.
"There is a rising tide of Christian culture in this State, which manifests itself in better morals—we should not be discouraged by the extreme immorality of the very small minority."
W. C. Goodson of Macon, lawyer and former State Senator, was elected moderator of the association, and David W. Hill of St. Louis, vice moderator, when the association adopted the report of its Nominating Committee today. The Rev. Dr. S. E. Ewing of St. Louis was re-elected recording and statistical secretary.
Ministry Jones of St. Joseph, retiring moderator, was elected to the executive board, as were the Rev. George L. Hale of Trenton, E. E. Amick of Kansas City, Mrs. E. N. Magruder of Odesa, James F. Gore of Savannah, S. L. Stufflebaum of Bolivar, Howard P. Smith of Palmyra, Mrs. C. E. Graham of Charleston, John A. Hope of St. Louis, Dwight H. Brown of Poplar Bluff and the Rev. J. H. Clay of La Grange. Two new members of the Missouri Baptist Sanitarium board were elected, the Rev. Ryland Knight and the Rev. F. A. Lowry, both of St. Louis.

Other features of the final day were reports on religious publications and theological seminaries.
By action taken yesterday, the association will in future name the trustees of Hardin College at Mexico and La Grange College at La Grange. Both are junior colleges. This action was opposed by Dr. W. C. Wayman, head of William Jewell College, a senior institution. He said it would retard development of Baptist colleges in the State, some of which now are not accredited by the North Central Association of Colleges.
Dr. Arthur Barton, general superintendent, replied that the association was "morally responsible" for the colleges, and had the right to control as well as to support

Dr. John W. Crouch of La Grange College; Dr. J. C. Pike of Southwest Baptist College, at Bolivar, and Dr. Wayman of William Jewell made their annual reports.
Adoption of a revised constitution, prepared by a committee of the Executive Board, and embodying a change of name to "Missouri Baptist State Convention," was blocked when the question of no quorum was raised on the floor. A count showed that only 134 of the 251 necessary for a two-thirds majority were present.
The next annual state meeting will be held in Kansas City in October, 1927. The Rev. J. B. Trotter of Hannibal has been designated to preach the opening sermon there.

BEARDSTOWN, ILL., AT WORK CLEANING UP; RIVER FALLING

Place Should Be Clear of Water by Monday With Flood Level Dropping 6 Inches a Day.

CITIZENS DEMAND LEEVE PROTECTION

Impossible to Estimate Amount of Damage—Valley Farmers Hardest Hit by Disaster.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

BEARDSTOWN, Ill., Oct. 22.—With a third of its 200 city blocks still under water, Beardstown was astir today with mops, brooms, buckets and pumps, cleaning up its messy streets, business houses and homes, zealously preparing for a return to normal existence after three weeks of watery isolation.

Preparing to lay aside the hip boots and the row boats, the town hopes to have "business as usual" by Monday morning. With the Illinois River falling at the rate of 6 inches a day from its Oct. 12 record high of 26.36 feet, the city should be clear of water by then.

But not so fortunate are the farmers of the flat valley of the lower Illinois. For 160 miles to its mouth the river is practically 10 miles wide and many acres have been under water since the first heavy rains of early September.

Six Weeks to Clear Valley.

It will be another six weeks, old timers say, before the river will be back in its banks. And with farmhouses and crops washed away it will be spring before many of the impoverished tenant farmers have a chance "to get on their feet."

Beardstown, a prosperous, aggressive city of 7000 persons, takes the disaster philosophically. It chafes at the inconveniences of the worst flood in its history, and it discusses seriously the causes and cures. Built on comparatively high ground, for the Illinois valley, it wonders why each succeeding flood is higher than the last.

Popular opinion blames the drainage districts. The Illinois is lined on both sides with reclaimed marsh lands, dyked off with broad levees, most of which withstood the high water. People here contend that these levees cramped the channel and pushed the water back into the streets of the city.

The only solution lies in a system of levees for Beardstown and the citizenry is asking why something is not done with the $250,000 appropriated for that purpose by the State Legislature after the last flood, in April, 1924, when water lapped on the City Hall steps and submerged the square for the first time in history.

Citizens to Call on Governor.

Tuesday, when the Springfield road was opened, a committee went to wait on Gov. Small with an earnest request for action on the levee project, but discovered he was out of the city. They expect to see him next Tuesday, and in the meantime discuss ways and means of speeding up the work.

The flood did not make Beardstown by surprise. It came slowly, with ample warning, and the town was prepared as well as it could be when the waters swept into the streets Oct. 2. During September 11 inches of rain had fallen, and equally heavy rains were recorded in the upper Illinois and Sangamon Rivers, both of which were swollen and well beyond their banks.

In September the river at Beardstown rose to 22.2 feet, threatening to burst the Coombs levee, which protected the low west end, and even flowing into some of the low streets of the undiked sections. On Oct. 2 the water topped the levee, tearing it away as it poured into the city.

Water Rises for 10 Days.

For 10 days the water rose slowly but steadily. Only 28 of the 2000 buildings in the city remained free of water, and in some low districts families were driven from their homes.

Beardstown grinned and went to work. Storekeepers built sidewalk levees, piling sandbags to a height of four or five feet and installing pumps to carry off the seepage. Customers rowed up, moored their flatboats at the dyke and climbed down to do their shopping. One man dyked off his home and installed two pumps which took 900 gallons of seep water from his basement each day. His living room was a foot below the water level, but remained dry.

Other merchants raised their counters and stock on concrete blocks and scaffolds, and in the newspaper office linotype machines were operated by men in rubber boots, who sat four feet above the floor. Boats were shipped in from Springfield and other cities, and local carpenters built makeshift tubs for $20 each.

For a week Beardstown could be reached only by rail and motorboat. The Burlington Railroad, which has division headquarters here, canceled its freight trains, but succeeded in moving passenger trains

BISHOP SAYS U. S. TEACHES CHILDREN TO HATE ENGLAND

London Churchman Declares American School Practice Is Source of Much Mischief.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—American school children are taught to hate England and this is one of the causes of mischief making between Great Britain and the United States, the Rt. Rev. Arthur Foley Winnington-Ingram, Lord Bishop of London, told the Pilgrims of the United States last night.

"In your schools," he said, "the children are taught to hate England. I wouldn't believe it until I actually saw it myself. You should look once again, and very carefully, into what is being taught in your public schools."

YOUTH CONVICTED OF GIVING GIRL PILLS THAT KILLED HER

Posed as Doctor, He Says, Because He "Wanted Sweetheart to Think He Was Somebody."

By the Associated Press.

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 22.—Ernest ("Frenchy") Balanescu, young drug clerk, was convicted yesterday of administering potions which caused the fatal poisoning of his sweetheart, Dorothy Elizabeth Kirk.

A jury of six men and six women found him guilty after deliberating three hours and a half. He was sentenced to one to 25 years in the reformatory.

Dorothy Kirk died in a hospital Aug. 22. When "Frenchy" met her last spring, she was suffering from a stomach disorder. The State charged that her suitor, posing as a doctor, gave her medicines while her health gradually failed.

After her death, police found in Dorothy's rooms some pills which Balanescu admitted buying at a drug store. An autopsy showed the girl had been taking these pills and that they contained a poison.

The defense of Balanescu was that he never knowingly gave the girl poison and that he lied to her about being a doctor only "because he loved her and wanted her to think he was somebody."

through when water lashed the steps.

The depot was an island, and "taxiboat men" thrived at $1 an hour or 50 cents the trip.

Through it all the residents remained fairly comfortable. Water, gas, light and telephone service reached unimpeded through the diligence and foresight of authorities who sandbagged the public utility plants before the flood reached them.

The telephone company established its operators at a hotel and transported them in boats. When the water level lowered sufficiently, the young women went to and from their work in trousers and knickerbockers and hipboots. Women of all ages in such costumes caused no surprise on the street.

There were numerous accidents when boats were swept against light posts and occasionally someone experienced a ducking, but there was only one death.

A woman died of pneumonia after wading from her home during the early part of the inundation.

The crest of the flood passed, residents have been anxiously waiting for the hour when they could return to work.

Autos Back on Streets.

Two days ago automobiles began to snort and splash through the canal-like thoroughfares and yesterday, with the river at 23.6 feet, it was possible to walk, by a roundabout way, from the depot to the business district without stepping into more than two inches of water.

Everywhere the business of cleaning was in progress. Householders scrubbing their floors and smoothing their lawns, storekeepers washing windows, removing water stains and sweeping their walks to within an inch of the water. While many homes were still under six feet of water, signs announcing "Flood Sales" were rising in the business district.

To estimate the property loss is virtually impossible, there being hardly a building in the town which is not damaged to some extent. Then, too, the business men explain, the business loss is large, trade for six weeks being practically at a standstill except in necessities. Many men have been thrown out of work, many families are now dependent on charity for sustenance, and the prospects for business are not good.

At City Hall the American Red Cross has established flood relief headquarters to aid needy families of Beardstown and the large Illinois River territory which was inundated.

YOUTH, 17, HELD AS SLAYER
Admits Part in Killing of 5 Men
In San Francisco Holdups.

By the Associated Press.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Oct. 22. Mike Papadachis, 17 years old, released from a reform school only a month ago, is under arrest here charged with being the third member of the band of robbers who killed five men during a series of robberies the nights of Oct. 9 and 11.

Detectives said he named Clarence (Buck) Kelly, now recovering from wounds he suffered when he attempted to escape from police, as the man who killed three men, a week ago Monday night. Lawrence Weeks is the other man held.

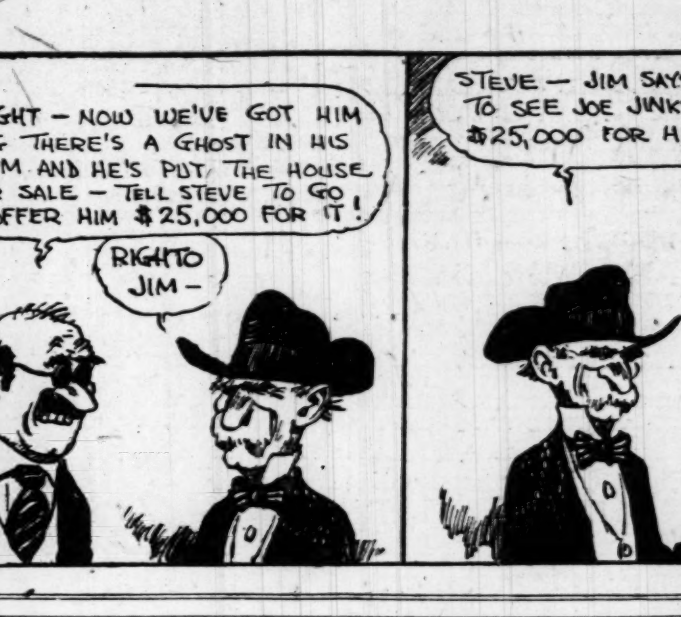

Coolidge Kansas City Visit for Day Only.

By the Associated Press.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 22.—President Coolidge will be in Kansas City one day, Nov. 11. He will arrive early in the forenoon and will depart that night, delivering only one public address—that in dedication of the Liberty Memorial at 3 or 3:30 p. m. This information was given by Everett Sanders, secretary to the President, to John T. Harding, chairman of the Memorial Committee, after a request had been made that the President come here Nov. 10 and stay until the night of Nov. 11. Queen Marie of Rumania is scheduled to arrive here at 8:30 p. m. Nov. 11, and whether she will meet the President depends upon the hour of the latter's departure.

Held for Having Weapon in Auto.

"Monte" Bostelman, ex-convict and confessed fur thief, was arrested last night in his automobile under the rear deck of which detectives found a repeating shotgun and 35 extra shells loaded with buckshot. Bostelman declined to explain why he was carrying the weapon in the car. He was held for investigation.

ANSWERS TO QUERIES

The Post-Dispatch reserves the right to reject any query. Personal and telephone calls or answers by mail, cannot be given attention, except letters on medical questions of undoubted sincerity when accompanied by stamped addressed envelope.

ANDY MELLON.—There is no premium on the 1917 nickel.

READER.—We do not know of a school of the type you desire. Perhaps some vocal instructor might teach you to whistle.

WANT TO KNOW.—The old Century Theater entrance was on Olive street near Ninth street. The theater opened Sept. 28, 1896, and closed its doors April 18, 1912. The space occupied by the theater was taken over by Scruggs Vandervoort and Barney Dry Goods Co.

THANK YOU.—Write to the motion picture magazines about the James Barrie photoplay in which you are interested. Our understanding the plays you mention were financial successes during their New York City runs. Write to the Billboard, Cincinnati, O., for complete information.

BLACK.—The abbreviation you describe may be for cantate, which is the ninety-eighth Psalm that is used as an alternative canticle in the Book of Common Prayer at Evening Prayer. Your concordance may have a list of abbreviations used in the text.

HALLOWEEN.—Glow pictures are made by drawing on white paper so that all lines in the picture are connected and one of the lines must run to the outer edge of the paper. Then, by dipping the writing pen dipped in a solution of four parts of saltpeter, two parts of gum arabic, and four parts of warm water, Mark the edge of the paper where the drawing ends and hold a lighted match to the mark. The drawing will soon become visible as the singeing proceeds. This trick is not dangerous provided you are careful of the burning match.

LEGAL INFORMATION
(By a Member of the St. Louis Bar Association.)

IGNORANT.—The head of a family can claim exemption totaling $400 and only 10 per cent of the wages of the head of the family can be garnished for debts.

RUBBY.—If the facts you state are correct your husband has a right to claim the return of the money he paid the automobile company.

X. Y. Z.—Relatives have no share in property held by husband and wife by a deed made out to the wife. The survivor becomes sole owner of such property.

J. R.—In some divorce cases in the State of Indiana the parties must wait two years before they can remarry. In Illinois remarriage may immediately follow the divorce.

MEDICAL QUESTIONS
Health and sanitation questions of public interest only will be considered. Diagnosis or treatment of individuals cases will not be given.

PAIN.—We agree with your physician that a broken varicose vein caused the discoloration of your ankle. Bruises change color as they fade and become green, yellow, brown and purple. You may not have really bruised your foot but the bursting blood vessel would look and possibly feel like a bruise. Bandaging your ankle might prevent other veins from being broken, but you cannot be certain just when the next one will burst. Desperate doses of beef, iron and wine tonic after each meal might be of benefit to you.

RENDEZVOUS OF STUDENTS
FORMER RETREAT OF THIEVES
Cave Near Rocheport, Mo., Has Tradition of Being Used for Division of Loot.

By the Associated Press.

ROCHEPORT, Mo., Oct. 22.—Rendezvous for student outings, and a subject of study for geological field trips from the University of Missouri, the Rocheport cave, near here, once was the den of river bandits and the haven for escaping horse thieves.

The cavern, a deep recess in the rolling hills of Central Missouri, is not far from the Missouri River, which skirts Rocheport. The entrance, about 50 feet high, and half that wide, is screened by heavy underbrush, that in summer almost completely conceals the opening.

In the crinoline days when Rocheport was one of the most important river points between St. Louis and Kansas City, folk lore records the operations of a band of river pirates who regularly stripped the wharves of barrels of sorghum, boxes of provisions and other commodities. The loot was stored in the cave. A fight between the river robbers and a posse of enraged boatmen at the mouth of the cave is said to have ended the career of that band, and the lives of several of its members.

What to Do With Bits of Pastry

By Hannah Wing

EVEN the best of cooks often finds that she has overestimated the amount of paste needed for the pie she is making. (Certainly if she is a good cook she will only make one pie at a time, and that a sufficiently small one, so that it can be eaten fresh from the oven.)

There may not be enough of the left-over paste to make tarts or even tartlets or shells. But even the bits of paste can be put to good use in several ways.

1. Roll whatever paste is left in two thin sheets, no matter how small. Spread one sheet with a thick marmalade. Cover with the other sheet of pastry. Cut in strips and bake in a hot oven. If there are enough strips to make it worth while, dress them up for tea or for a family dessert, spread them with a thin icing of confectioner's sugar moistened with water. Sprinkle with finely chopped nuts.

2. Roll the paste into a thick sheet. Cut into narrow strips. Brush with egg white and sprinkle with sugar. Chill and bake in a hot oven, letting them brown well. Serve with salad or tea.

3. Roll paste in two thin sheets of any size. Spread one with peanut butter thinned with lemon juice. Cover with the half and cut in strips. Bake quickly in a hot oven. Brush with egg white and water, sprinkle with finely chopped peanuts, return to the oven to brown. Serve with coffee.

4. Cut circles of puff or flaky paste three inches in diameter, having the paste not more than one-eighth of an inch thick. Moisten half the edge of the circle with cold water, and in the center lay a teaspoonful of thick raspberry preserve. Fold one-half of the circle over the other, making edges meet. Press closely and brush with beaten egg, prick and chill before placing in the oven. Dust with granulated sugar before serving. If desired, decorate the top of each with a single preserved berry or a candied cherry. Other fruit may be used in the same way.

Tomato Conserve.

One quart tomatoes, 1 cup seedless raisins, 4 cups sugar, 1 lemon cut in small pieces, 1/2 cup English walnuts. Wash the raisins and steam them for 30 minutes. Add them to the other ingredients and cook the mixture until it is thick and clear. Turn it into clean, hot glasses and cover them with hot paraffin when cold.

season, reheat, add a little gelatin and strain into bouillon cups and let it jell. Serve with a little whipped cream on top for the luncheon. Serve salted crackers with the chicken jelly and tiny hot biscuits with the chicken.

Children's Bedtime Story

By Thornton W. Burgess

Danny Hears of Nanny

'Tis those who never hear from home
Who most successfully can roam.

—Danny Meadow Mouse.

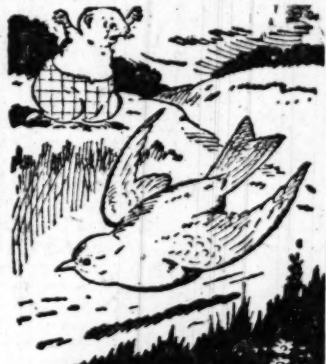

DANNY MEADOW MOUSE had almost forgotten that he wanted to get home to Nanny Meadow Mouse and the Green Meadows. You see, he was very pleasantly situated. He had a most comfortable home, warm and dry and snug. He wasn't in the least lonesome, because Neighbor Chuck was at hand. Neighbor Chuck had been as good as his word and had led Danny over to a garden. It was a big garden, the kind of a garden called a market garden. Danny liked to go over there. He could always find a change of food. So, take it altogether, Danny was becoming very well content. And then one day as Danny was sitting on the roof of his house taking a sun bath, he heard a familiar voice. It was a soft, twittering voice. "Well, well, well, see who's here," said the voice. "Just see who's here! It's Danny Meadow Mouse, as I live!"

Danny looked up quickly. There was Skimmer the swallow, flying only a foot or two above the ground. "Oh, Skimmer!" squealed Danny.

Skimmer turned as only Skimmer can, and wheeled in front of Danny. "Where under the sun have you been, Danny Meadow Mouse?" he cried. "How under the sun did you get way down here?"

"I've been to the seashore," explained Danny. "The great Man Bird carried me there, but when I wanted to go back home the Man Bird wasn't there. Tell me, Skimmer, have you seen Nanny?"

"Certainly, I've seen Nanny?" replied Skimmer. "I saw her the very morning I left home. You know I'm on my way to the Sunny South for the winter. I'm taking

"Oh, Skimmer!" squealed Danny

my time about it, but I'm really on the way."

"How is Nanny?" asked Danny eagerly.

"She was looking mighty fine the last time I saw her," replied Skimmer. "She didn't seem to be worrying about anything."

"I hope she hasn't worried about me," said Danny, which really wasn't what he hoped at all.

"I don't think she has," replied Skimmer. "She seems to have been having a perfectly good time."

"Didn't she look for me at all?" asked Danny.

"I don't know," replied Skimmer. "I never asked her. She seems to have plenty of friends."

At that Danny pricked up his little round ears. "What do you mean by friends?" he demanded.

"Why, friends," replied Skimmer. "A couple of fine looking Meadow Mice have moved over

VIVANT'S Lines-out
A Specific For Facial Lines and Wrinkles At All Good Toilet Counters Benjamin-Leland & Co., St. Louis

there since you left and I think Nanny finds them very good neighbors. Both of them seem to like Nanny. I heard they had had a fight over her; but then you know you hear all sorts of things. Anyway, I've seen them hanging around Nanny's home quite often."

"Does she have anything to do with them?" demanded Danny.

"Why shouldn't she?" inquired Skimmer. "She thinks you're dead. Everybody on the Green Meadows thinks you're dead. That's why I was so surprised when I saw you just now."

"Is—is it very far from here to the Green Meadows?" asked Danny eagerly.

"Quite a distance, Danny; quite a distance for one who can't fly," replied Skimmer. "Well, I must be getting along. I hope I'll find you here next summer on my return."

"You won't," squealed Danny. But Skimmer was already out of hearing.

Tomato Preserves.

Five pounds ripe tomatoes, 4 pounds sugar, 2 lemons, salt.

Scald the tomatoes and slip off the skins. Place the tomatoes in a crock or enamel bowl and add the sugar. Let them stand over night. Drain off the juice and boil it rapidly until it threads. Add the tomatoes and lemons sliced thin, and cook the preserves until they are thick and clear. They should be a rich red color. Seal them in clean, hot jars.

Black in combination with pink or rose is prominent in the new fall displays.

2 minutes for a clear skin! KANTOL The Beautifying Skin Elixir

How Shall I Do It?

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

The shops are so full of a number of things—to tritely paraphrase—that I am sure all women who are decorating this fall should be as happy as kings, or queens. Take for example curtains. If you don't care to or haven't the time to make them yourself there is a most satisfying and novel array to choose from in a wide range of prices.

For the bedroom which strikes an American note or any note of great simplicity there are white frilled curtains of cotton voile that are only $1.50 a pair. A similar curtain is very soft and dainty in an especially nice ecru tone and costs $1.75. If you like color a somewhat more beruffled curtain with a valance can be had in a pale apple green for $2.75 a pair. It is rather noticeable that the valances of this type of curtain are apt to be ruffled rather than fitted and that the ruffles are, in their turn, decorated with smaller ruffles.

An interesting combination in materials is being used in many of these bedroom curtains. The curtain itself is made of cotton marquisette or voile with a deep ruffle of pale colored rayon marquisette and the valance is entirely of the rayon marquisette. One especially lovely pair showed a combination of natural colored cotton voile with ruffles of pale gold rayon. Such a curtain would be like having flounces of sunshine at your window.

Another material which gives an almost romantically delectable effect has a ground of natural-colored lace with a flowery pattern in colored rayon. One set of these curtains with a turquoise blue flower had a deep ruffle of pale turquoise blue and was especially lovely. These curtains were $11.50 each.

The Man on the Sandboxby
L. Davis

AFTER YOU, MR. RILEY.

WHEN the frost is on the Kleagle and the Dragon gets a shock. And the Wizards are a-shakin' and their knees begin to knock. And the candidates for office with the klan are in kahoots. And are scurrying to cover and a-shakin' in their boots. Oh, it's then Jim Reed is busy and a-feeling at his best. As he starts the probe a-workin' with his customary zest, And he probes the bank deposit and he delves into the sock. When the frost is on the Kleagle and the Dragon gets a shock.

TOO TRUE.

The fact that exactly two men have been elected President by the Democratic party in over 60 years speaks volumes for the gameness and fighting spirit of the G. F. P. (Gluttons For Punishment).

Little did Grover Cleveland think that it would remain for a baseball pitcher to perpetuate his name and send it thundering down the corridors of time to take equal rank with such famous big leaguers as Julius Caesar, Julius Fleischman, Napoleon Bonaparte, Hannibal and Alexander the Great.

Speaking of political parties and other vegetation indigenous to our glorious climate, we note that the G. O. P. of Indiana claims that Jim Reed's graft investigating committee has no case. Not even a pillow case.

If the man in New York who ate 15-cent meals for 15 years and dies at the age of 80 had eaten 20-cent meals for 20 years, how long would he have lived?

However, laying aside the question of vital statistics, we venture to say that the gent in question didn't die of the gout.

Looks like Edna Ferber's "Show Boat" is in danger of being sunk by libel suits.

It is rumored that John McGraw is angling for Rogers Horshby. Indicating that John is going into the whaling business.

"Evening Dress Passe." Some of those old vintage suits are, anyway.

The guys who only wear their full dress suits about once every 10 years or so would shed no tears over the passing of the soup and fish.

"Bandit Gets 40 Cents and Wallop On Jaw." Which no doubt made him feel like 30 cents.

See where Queen Marie will not visit California. However, she might compromise by passing through Iowa.

Is there a Santa Claus? Absolutely! We saw six of him in one block last Christmas.

"Eggs Carriers of Germs."

Now, wouldn't that give you the pip?

Is it possible that an epidemic of chickenpox could be traced to bad eggs?

EVER HEAR THIS ONE?

"I am going to speak on liars today. How many of you have read the twenty-fifth chapter of the text?"

Nearly every student raised his hand.

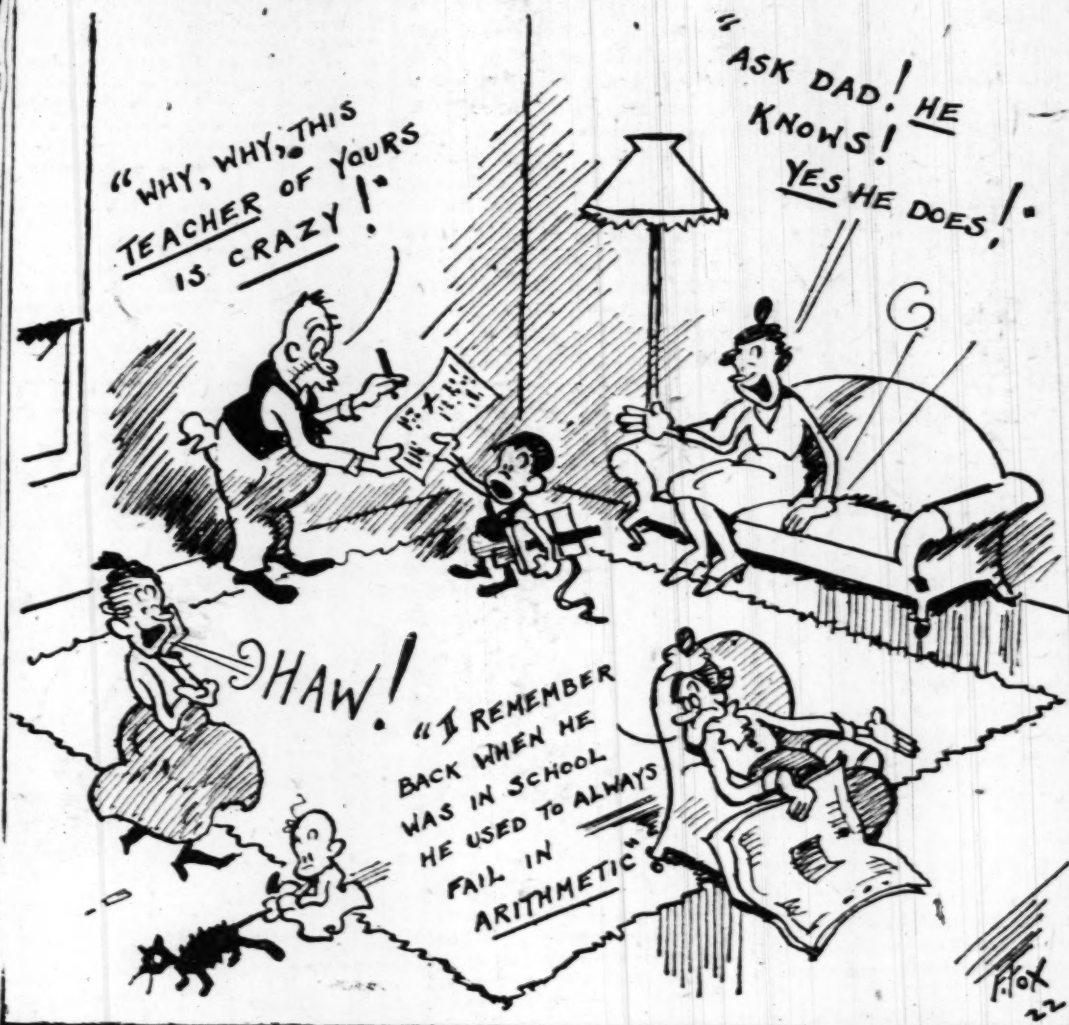

"Good. You are the very group to whom I wish to speak. There is no twenty-fifth chapter."

"British Writer Says U. S. Needs a King."

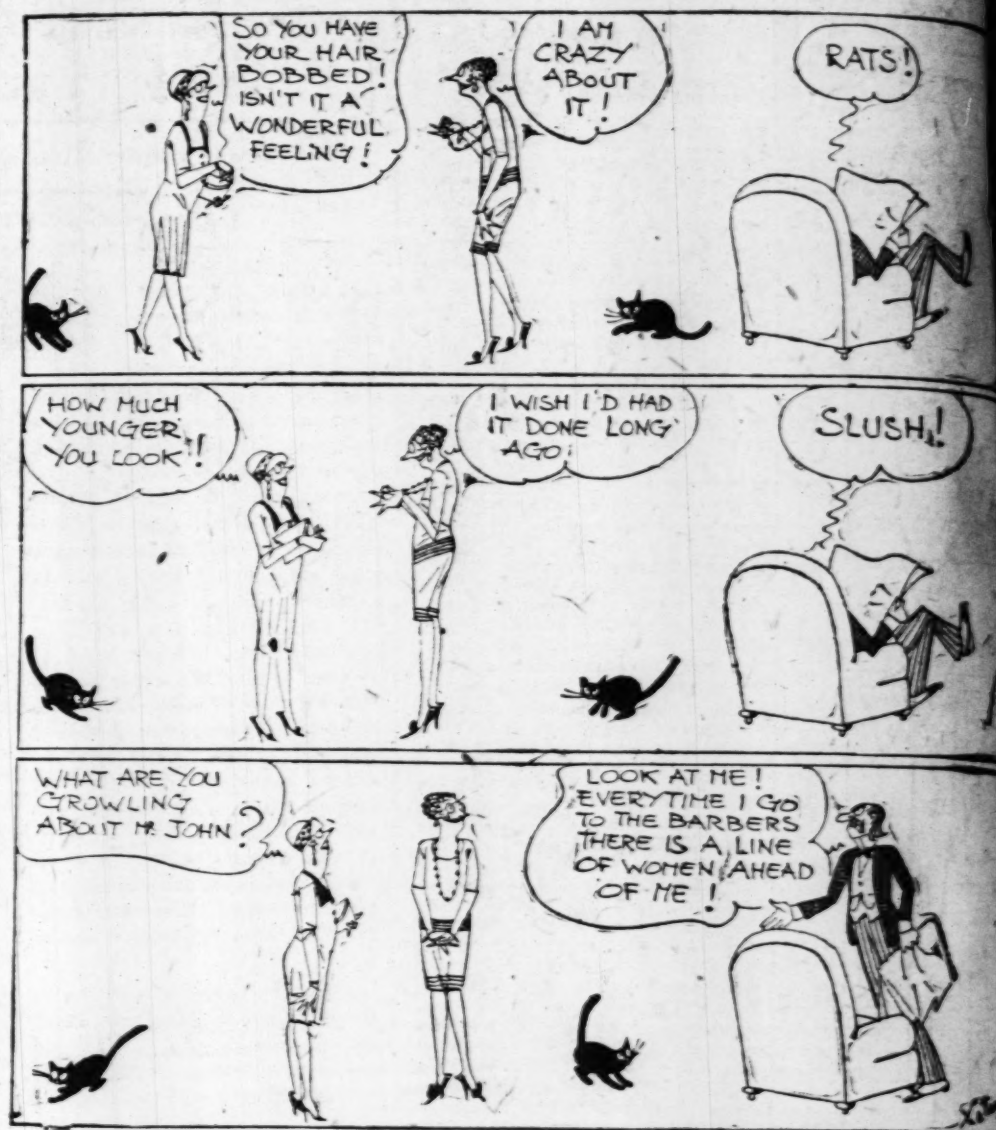

Well, we might like a King for a day but we'd soon get tired of him. The first heavyweight champion that came along we'd leave the King flat on his back and join the procession.

W. W. Morse of Minneapolis Says Barge Line Adds to City's Commercial Greatness.

REPRESENTATIVES OF TEN CITIES IN PARTY

Our Conducted to Obtain Information in Establishing Terminals for Upper River Line in Spring.

What the Government barge means to St. Louis—and may mean to Northern cities—was a burning topic with 10 city and business executives of the North after they looked over the vast stream of world traffic which flows through the St. Louis and East St. Louis river terminals.

"We saw St. Louis products going to the Atlantic and Pacific," said W. W. Morse of Minneapolis, vice president and general manager of the Upper Mississippi Barge Line. "The Federal barge line has enabled St. Louis business to deal with buyers in Tampa or San Francisco as handily as with Denver."

"Last month, we were informed, the barge line handled 2,300,000 pounds of freight from St. Louis alone. One St. Louis firm has insulated savings due to shipping water instead of rail. The saved salary of two additional men."

Means Much to St. Louis.

"You can't estimate all that means to St. Louis. If each of the firms represented in that 2,300,000 pounds of traffic last month hired two salesmen with that they saved by using the river, there would be 900 more men selling St. Louis products, bringing millions of dollars more into St. Louis, and adding tremendously to its commercial greatness."

"The carload freight rate from St. Louis to the Twin Cities has increased in five years from cents a hundred pounds to 63 cents. That has virtually cut us out of business in St. Louis. But from the Upper Mississippi Barge line operation next summer, we hope again to be able to buy in St. Louis and to distribute our products here."

Three upper river towboats, to cost $165,000 each, and 15 barges, cost $21,550 each, are to be ready for operation next April. A $350,000 terminal is under construction at Minneapolis. Construction soon to begin on a $450,000 terminal at St. Paul, and five representatives of Dubuque were in the party, inspecting terminal there for ideas suitable to the terminal there, tentatively estimated as a $250,000 project. "Coolidge Has Shown Interest. That we shall be able to bring the marvelous benefits of a barge line to the Northwest next spring is to the active interest of President Coolidge," Morse remarked. "For it, all the time and effort and money, spent by its admirers for years past would have been for nothing."

The floating equipment planned for what we would consider adequate," he continued. "We believe the line should start with four towboats and 60 barges, and we are going to convince Secretary of War Davis of that need. Probably the point will be made by a few weeks' operation with adequate equipment, but barges takes time. If we wait until then to decide that we more barges we shall have waited another year while they are built. In a huge investment as the barge line we contend is worth while to spend, say, 10 percent to make the investment profitable."

Situation at Dubuque. Dubuque voters Nov. 2 are to decide whether a Dock Commission shall be appointed, as the first step toward improving their facilities realizing on the savings of transportation. All practical will be in the hands of the voters, which will refer its recommendations to the Council.

Dubuque is the principal rail-junction between St. Louis and the Twin Cities," explained City Manager C. E. Douglas. "Location of a terminal there fostered by Upper Mississippi barge line as the logical point of exchange between rail and river for shipping between Chicago and the Upper River."

"The city is going right ahead with the development, and that the voters will back the plan, already submitted, at the cost of a terminal of $250,000. Natural conditions are perfect. The channel of the Dubuque shore. We have a room for a terminal on the next page."

CATHOLICS TO PRODUCE SYMBOLIC PAGEANT
The "Giantkiller" Will Commemorate 100th Anniversary of St. Louis Diocese.

The Rev. Daniel Lord, S. J., of St. Louis University is completing an elaborate pageant to be presented at the Odeon in the week of Nov. 28 under the auspices of the St. Louis chapter of the Catholic Student Mission Crusade. The pageant, entitled "The Giantkiller," was written at the request of Archbishop Glennon to commemorate the hundredth anniversary of missionary activities in the St. Louis diocese.

Selection of the cast, which will include 600 students of the Catholic high schools and colleges in the diocese, will be completed early next week and rehearsals will begin immediately. Two casts will be chosen, to play on alternate nights. The pageant will portray the depredations of the pagan world upon Christianity. The pagans, far outnumbering the Christians, will be seen as giants, the Christians as pygmies, unable to check the ravages of the pagans, who are carrying off the fairest of their maidens and generally making things miserable for them.

Symbolic Interlude.
They are seen in hopeless dejection when Jack the Giantkiller appears on the scene and teaches them how to cope with the giants by imitating the virtues of such early missionaries, as Fathers De Smet, De Andreis and Nerinx. There are cut-backs into the early history of the Middle West showing these men leaving St. Louis for missionary work. Later there is a symbolic interlude portraying the departure of the 60 student Crusaders who have entered missionary work during the past six years.

Before undertaking the writing of the pageant Father Lord for several months made a thorough study of "the Miracle." Max Reinhardt's masterpiece of pageantry, and has developed in his work many of the dramatic innovations introduced in the Miracle.

Aided Movie Director.
Music for the Giantkiller has been adapted from favorite scores of old operas. Noel Poepping, who will conduct an orchestra of 32 symphony players for the production, has been working in collaboration with Father Lord on the music.

Father Lord has recently returned from Catalina Island, California where he worked with Cecil DeMille on the director's latest motion picture, the "King of Kings," which portrays the last year of Christ on earth. DeMille requested the churches of the country to appoint their foremost dramatic authorities to assist him in the production so as to avoid offense to any church. Father Lord was selected by the National Catholic Welfare Council to represent the Catholic Church.

Brent With the Party.
Theodore Brent, traffic manager of the Mississippian-Warrior Service, accompanied the party, which departed Monday night for Cairo. Inspections also are being made of the terminals there and at Helena, Memphis, Baton Rouge and New Orleans.

Other representatives of Dubuque are P. S. Fawkes of the Shippers' Association; W. K. Cullen, city engineer; O. A. Reynolds, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce; and J. A. Kerper of the Chamber of Commerce. With them are J. S. Brodbeck of St. Paul, operating manager of a temporary Government service on the Upper River pending inauguration of the main line; E. R. T. Peterson, assistant city engineer of Minneapolis; F. B. Townsend, head of the Minneapolis Traffic Association; and Arthur P. Kemp of the First National Bank of Minneapolis.

LARGE PIMPLES VERY PAINFUL

Disfigured Face Terribly. Lasted Two Years. Cuticura Healed.

"My trouble began with pimples on my face. They were large and red and sometimes would fester and be very painful. When I got warm they used to itch causing me to scratch. At night I lost much sleep on account of the pain and irritation. They disfigured my face terribly."

"I had the trouble about two years when I read an advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment and sent for a free sample. After using it I purchased more which healed me." (Signed) Miss Evelyn Jones, 212 North St., Audubon, Iowa, Feb. 8, 1926.

Use Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Talcum for daily toilet purposes. See also advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment in this issue.

consin as a new course. The class was organized by Miss Carol Rice, assistant professor of physical education, and a student of Nels Bukh of Copenhagen, Denmark. The course will emphasize co-ordination, strength and flexibility as prerequisites to future work in dancing, sports and physical development generally.

Only 6 States Still Tolerate the Vicious "Damage Suit" System

Vote this "Damage Suit" Blight from Missouri

It is up to you—MEN AND WOMEN VOTERS OF MISSOURI—to wipe out forever the vicious and costly "Damage Suit" system that throttles your state today. It clogs the court dockets of this state with thousands of unnecessary damage suits, simply to fatten the pockets of unscrupulous damage suit lawyers, who foster this evil practice with highly paid runners, evidence getters, solicitors and ambulance chasers. It costs the consumer and taxpayer of Missouri several million dollars each year to maintain this vicious system. It deprives you of the benefits enjoyed by 42 other states where Workman's Compensation Laws are in operation.

The Remedy—Vote "Yes" on Proposition No. 1

Proposition No. 1, The Workman's Compensation Law was passed by your Legislature to require employers to care for employees hurt in industrial accidents. It assures a living income as long as the injured employee is unable to work. It assures free medical, hospital and surgical aid.

The law definitely sets the amount to be paid for each injury. Every employee is protected, without expense to him—without delay—without a damage suit and without expense to the State.

Proposition No. 1 Does Not Cost the Taxpayer a Penny—The cost of administering this law is collected from insurance companies through a 2% charge against employers' liability insurance premiums. The law does not apply to farm labor, domestic servants, casual workers, or public employees.

Proposition No. 1 Will Save the Taxpayers' Money because it will cut out the excessive costs of the "Damage Suit" system paid by this state today. It will free the court dockets of thousands of unnecessary damage suits, leaving the courts free to transact the legal business of the state with less delay, greater economy and more efficiency.

The Damage Suit System Took $500,000 of Your Highway Fund

Because of the "Damage Suit" system in Missouri, liability insurance rates on road construction are from $1 to $1.50 per $100 of payroll higher than in states having Workman's Compensation Laws.

Nearly $500,000 of your money went to pay this excess insurance cost on the road work completed in Missouri up to the first of January of this year. All because of the vicious "Damage Suit" system.

This $500,000 would have been saved taxpayers of Missouri under Proposition No. 1 the Workman's Compensation Law.

Proposition No. 1 Will Make Possible Lower Prices for all products made and used in Missouri, because it will reduce the excessive insurance cost of manufacturer and merchant due to the present vicious "Damage Suit" system.

Proposition No. 1 Will Benefit Missouri because with a Workman's Compensation Law new factories will come to Missouri. This means increased population, bigger payrolls to be spent with local merchants thus creating a wider demand for Missouri farm products.

The taxes paid by new factories will furnish money to the State and local communities, for the maintenance of schools and local institutions.

Proposition No. 1 Will Benefit the Workman and His Family because in case of injury during employment he will receive free insurance benefits on which to maintain himself and family while unable to work.

He will not have to divide with a "damage suit" lawyer, or wait for the courts to pass upon his case.

Proposition No. 1 Vote YES
The Workmen's Compensation Law Scratch NO

The ONLY Missouri Workmen's Compensation Law that has the official endorsement of—

- The Democratic and Republican Parties in their 1926 State Platforms
- The Missouri Bankers' Association
- The Missouri Committee of Women in Industry
- The Association for Economy in Public Expenditures
- The Associated Industries of Missouri
- The Industrial Employees of Missouri
- The Missouri Farm Bureau Federation
- The Missouri League of Women Voters
- The Missouri Retail Merchants' Association

How Doctors Treat Colds and the Flu

To break up a cold overnight or to cut short an attack of influenza, sore throat or tonsillitis, physicians and druggists are now recommending Calomel, the purified and refined calomel compound tablet that gives you the effects of calomel and salts combined without the unpleasant effects of either.

One or two tablets at bedtime with a swallow of water—that's all. No salts, no nausea, nor the slightest interference with your eating, work or pleasure. Next morning your cold has vanished, your system is thoroughly purified and you are feeling fine with a hearty appetite for breakfast. Eat what you please—no danger. Get a family package, containing full directions, only 35 cents. At any drug store.

NEGROES PLAN EXPOSITION TO SHOW ADVANCE OF RACE

Churches, Schools, Fraternal Orders and Business Houses Join In Project Opening Nov. 29. An exposition illustrating the development of St. Louis Negroes will be opened Nov. 29 under the auspices of the Progress Association, a Negro organization. The exposition is to be set up in the People's Finance Building at Jefferson avenue and Market streets, and will run until Dec. 5. Churches, schools, fraternal orders, clubs and business establishments will be represented. There is to be a daily program of entertainment and large numbers of Negro visitors are expected from out of town.

FREE MUSIC LESSON FUNDS ARE NEEDED

Community Foundation Work for Children Unable to Pay Started in February.

The Community Music Schools Foundation, an organization of St. Louisans formed last February to provide musical instruction for children whose parents are unable to pay for their training, has given children at various community centers 770 lessons in violin, piano and voice since the last week in September. The work started last February with instruction being given at the Neighborhood House, 1000 North Nineteenth street, and the Kingdom House, 1033 South Eighth street. This fall the Foundation has also been giving lessons at the Jewish Community Center, 3636 Page boulevard, and the Holy Cross Corporation, 2600 North Twelfth street.

Expansion of the work this fall has depleted the resources of the foundation and it is now seeking contributions to enable it to carry out its program.

In the first months of the work, the period between February and August, 124 music lessons were given. Children taking lessons in violin and piano are encouraged to take two lessons each week, while those being instructed in voice and band work attend only one each week.

Through the efforts of volunteers and judicious grouping into classes for some instruction the cost was kept down to 60 cents a lesson, although only high calibre instructors were employed. The pupils contributed an average of 10 cents for each lesson. A supervisor at the community center determines what each child is able to pay and he is asked to pay that toward the cost of his lesson. In many cases no charge whatever is made, while in others amounts varying from 10 to 25 cents are contributed by the pupils.

The difference between the $166.45 paid by the children during the initial months and the actual cost of the work was made up by voluntary contributions. Nathan Frank, donor of a band stand in Forest Park, and a member of the advisory board of the Foundation, has enabled it to organize two bands. Other contributors have helped maintain an orchestra and two choruses.

BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist.

Suits and Overcoats

At GUARANTEED SAVINGS of $15 and $20 for You!!

NOW you can get Good Clothes without experiencing that flattened pocketbook feeling. You know that "Fifth Avenue Tailored" is to a man's suit, what "Paris" is to a woman's dress—supreme tailoring with the latest style wrinkles as they originate.

Large cash purchases of choice wools, manufacturing in great quantities, selling direct to you through our 25 busy stores, eliminates all in-between and unnecessary profits, making our One Low Price of $22.50—so close to actual bare cost that we can easily guarantee you a saving of from $15 to $20.

$22.50 Gives You Anything in the House!

Every Wanted Model---Every New Color---Every Desirable Pattern

No high-pressure, insistent salesmen to urge high-priced garments on you. Here, all you can pay is $22.50.

Come in—you don't have to buy, but you owe it to yourself to look into our money-saving claims.

Slip into a GoldE Suit or Overcoat, note how the hand-sewed collar hugs your neck, how smooth the coat hangs, due to the fine inner construction; and that general feeling of easy comfort found only in fine tailored clothes.

No matter how hard you are to please—here you're bound to find models, colors and patterns in your size galore, as our one-price plan allows us to concentrate on individual needs.

NEW BODY PROVIDES FOR HOMELESS MEN

Sidney Maestre Head of New Organization That Looks After the Helpless.

A new organization will participate in the Community Fund budget in the fifth annual campaign, Nov. 12 to 22. It is the Bureau for Homeless Men, formerly operated as a department of the Community Council, which has recently been established as a separate organization.

The need for such a bureau was seen 18 months ago when it became apparent that the various social organizations were unable properly to care for homeless men and to keep beggars and peddlers off the city streets. Sidney Maestre has been elected president of the board of directors.

A large part of the work of the bureau will be directed towards reclaiming men sent to the workhouse for begging on the streets. The ordinance against begging has been strictly enforced since a meeting of city judges and police with the bureau last January when it was decided that workhouse sentences would be given on the condition that social service workers would follow up the cases and try to remove the cause. Approximately 35 per cent of those convicted were later paroled on recommendation of the bureau.

Able-bodied men who were willing to work were given employment, the aged were sent to the infirmary, the feeble-minded to the City Hospital, and some were turned over to relatives. Last winter 80 men were disposed of in one of these ways.

The bureau works in close cooperation with the Municipal Lodging House in caring for homeless men, and during the winter months when the lodging-house is open, its offices are in the same building. Whenever possible the bureau will obtain employment for men at the lodging-house before they are driven to the necessity of begging. It will provide clothing, transportation to homes or hospitals and assist the homeless in any way possible.

In the 18 months in which it operated as the Central Bureau for Transient Men it gave service to 532 men. An analysis made by Walter Roy, secretary, showed that less than half, or 42 per cent, of the men were residents of St. Louis. Seven per cent were less than 20 years of age, the youngest being 14. Sixteen per cent were more than 60 years old. Included in their ranks were inveterate idlers, unfortunate doctors, ministers, politicians, lawyers and poets.

JUGOSLAV WOMEN FIGHTING AGAINST BAR ON COSMETICS

Rouge and Powder Forbidden by Government as Part of Economy Program.

By the Associated Press. BELGRADE, Oct. 22.—Artificial ruby lips and creamy complexions are doomed in Yugoslavia. At least, the Government has so ruled, but Serbian women are likely to have something to say about it.

The decree forbidding women to apply rouge or powder to their faces is entitled "Bill to combat corruption and luxury," and is part of a governmental drive for economies. Church and State have united against female luxuries, but the women are presenting a solid front.

The church has forbidden women to appear at religious service except in sober garments and without any artificial beautifiers. The State, in order to enforce its decree, has slapped an almost prohibitive customs tariff against cosmetics, most of which are imported from France.

CRIMINAL AND SOCIETY TO BE TOPIC FOR WELFARE LEAGUE

Discussion Meeting Called for Monday Night; Reception Will Follow Program.

A discussion meeting, called by Arthur E. Bostwick, president of the Missouri Welfare League, will be held next Monday at 8 p. m. in the lecture room of the Second Baptist Church, Kingshighway and McPherson avenue, with criminals and society on the topic. The Rev. Albert Muntz, S. J. professor of sociology at St. Louis University, will preside at the program.

Following an address, "The Accidental Criminal," by Chief of Detectives Kaiser, Dr. Charles W. Thierry of St. Louis University medical faculty will discuss "The Psychiatric Offender, Including the Feeble-minded and Insane." An informal reception will follow the program. The public is invited.

DENTAL CLINIC FOR NUNS ONLY TO BE OPENED BY ST. LOUIS U.

A dental clinic, exclusively for Catholic teaching and nursing sisterhoods of St. Louis, will be opened Nov. 2 at 1215 South Grand boulevard by the Dental College of St. Louis University. The staff will be made up of faculty members and seniors of the Dental school.

Complete laboratory facilities being installed include two operating rooms, an extraction room, and an X-ray room.

St. Apollonia House, as the clinic will be known, was formed to eliminate for the nuns the inconveniences of waiting in dental offices and occasional embarrassments incident to a visit to a practicing dentist. The plan of a special clinic for divinity students at St. Louis University has been in operation for some time and has proved successful.

Bankers' Meeting Oct. 27.

The Missouri Bankers' Association, Group Five, will meet Oct. 27, at the Coronado Hotel. B. T. Hurwitz of Kansas City will be the principal speaker, taking for his subject "The Proposed New State Banking Code." C. E. French, vice president of the Lafayette-South Side Bank, will discuss "The Need for a New Banking Law as Revealed by Experience."

Leave it to Mother what's Best

"WHEN I received a sample bottle of Dr. Cassell's Syrup I gave it to my two-month-old without hesitation, as I had often heard of it as best medicine for children. It stopped crying right away, sleeping good and growing fast. For myself it has best stomach and laxative medicine and I can't praise it enough. (Name and address will be furnished upon request.)"

Children Thrive as They Grow

Mothers never tire telling how children thrive on it; how it puts an end to bilious, sour stomach, stops headache, cleans bowels, no pain, no gripe. Just like a nurse in the family, never any real sickness. Stops Mother's terrible sick headache, ends Dad's bilious attack, makes peaceful the lives of old folks. A real family medicine for the daily ills due to constipation. Get it today and have it handy, always. Sold by all druggists.
